Published with The New York Times and The Washington Post

PARIS, SATURDAY-SUNDAY, APRIL 18-19, 1981

Established 1887

chal Holidays: vel and Reflection

te approach of Easter and Passover set ople in motion to observe the holidays. ars lined up Friday on the autobahn at erleshausen as West Germans waited up to c hours to cross into East Germany to visit latives. Meanwhile, thousands of pilgrims sured into Jerusalem to visit holy places id take part in special services. A Yugoslav in carried a cross on her way to the Church the Holy Sepulcher in a Good Friday obrvance; an Israeli settler from the West ank, armed with a rifle, said prayers at the estern Wall before the start of the Sabbath.

tzer for Falsified Story Puts Focus on Standards

iathan Friendly

RK — The disclosure zer Prize-winning ac-8-year-old heroin adneen fabricated has ntion on the steps a or broadcast station fy a story when a rethe main participants renewed a continuing ng journalists over the an pose to credibility. mous sources and the critics and educators t that the story had ed in The Washington stemationally known vould further intensify * scribed as widespread st of the news media. said it could affect the e press to defend its draent rights. Some bout running signifi-in which enonymity others suggested it

- sional Standards

journalists said some ght occasionally "polotation, or make it up they said professional tarded against totally pointed premier a few months later.

called at least one incident of a fabricated story, in many cases uncaught and uncorrected.

On Wednesday, two days after the announcement that the Pulitzer Prize for feature writing was being awarded to Janet Cooke, a 26-year-old reporter at The Post, the paper said she had acknowledged that the story was a composite of fabricated quotes and events that did not happen. Miss Cooke resigned, the story was withdrawn from the Pulitzer competition and the prize was awarded to Teresa Carpenter of the Village Voice.

When the Post story, under the headline "Jimmy's World," was fabricated stories. But each re- published last September, the mayor and the police chief in Washington strongly questioned whether it was true. But Miss Cooke stood by it, even though she said she could not tell the Post editors who the > Benjamin C. Bradlee, executive editor of The Post, said he did not question her aggressively because of that promise and because she said her life had been threatened by the drug pushers she had described.

promised anonymity to her sourc-

"We were at a dead end," he said. "Either you believed her or you did not."

Nguza Resigns as Premier of Zaire The Associated Press

BRUSSELS - Nguza Kari I Bond has resigned as premier of Zaire, the official news agency Agence Zaire-Presse reported Friday. The reason was not given, but the agency called it an act of "cowardice." Informed sources in Brussels said that Mr. Nguza resigned because he was tired and the job was hard on his health. The agency said that Mr. Ngnza had quit all his political functions. He was a leading member of the country's only legal political party, the Popular Movement of the Revolution.

sources to agree to be In 1977, Mr. Nguza was sentenced to death for treason after being accused of trying to overthrow the government that year during an invasion of Shaba province by Zairean political refugees from Angola. He was foreign minister at the time. President Mobutu Sese Seko commuted the sentence, and Mr. Nguza served only 10 months of a life term.

Mr. Nguza recovered the foreign minister's post in 1979 and was ap-

Other editors agreed in interviews that the relationship between a reporter and an editor was based on trust, but many said they would routinely require a reporter to disclose the source of a sensitive and probably controversial story.

"At least one other person on the paper has to know," said William Woestendiek, executive editor of the Arizona Daily Star, which was awarded a Pulitzer Prize on Monday for its investigation of the University of Arizona's athletic de-

Strong Evidence

Mr. Woestendiek said the Star's investigation had been challenged and ridiculed by the university, alumni, the business community and other news organizations, but that the paper had been able to stand behind it because the editors knew what documents the reporters had reviewed and whom they had interviewed.

"A reporter cannot promise ano-nymity from the editor," said A.M. osenthal, executive editor of The New York Times. "It is important to trust a reporter, but it is not only a question of trust, it is a question of judging the story and knowing how to play it."

Editors, he said, cannot delegate the editing responsibility to the reporter. "In those infrequent cases when the editor feels he must (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Poland Accepts Farmers' Union

Government Signs Accord on Rural Solidarity

By John Vinocur

New York Times Service
WARSAW — The Polish government acceded Friday to the demands of farmers for their own trade union, bringing direct con-trol of almost all areas of production in Poland to independent la-bor organizations outside the Communist Party.

Members of the union, to be known as Rural Solidarity, and government representatives signed an agreement that will permit the organization to be officially registered by May 10. It will have the organizational structure of Solidarity, the union that now represents virtually all the country's industrial and office employees.

The agreement also brings an end to continuing tensions following the government's initial rejec-tion of the farmers' union.

A joint statement, issued Friday at the conclusion of negotiations in the city of Bydgoszcz, asserted that "both sides are deeply convinced that the agreement concluded will assist in social stabilization and national accord, and will greatly help development of agriculture

U.S. Expects

New Contact

With Russia

Haig Sees Opening

For Talks on Arms

By Bernard Gwertzman

. New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. ex-pects the United States to hold preliminary talks with the Soviet Union soon to set the stage for the resumption of negotiations aimed at limiting each side's medium-range nuclear weapons in Europe.

Speaking to reporters Thursday at the White House, Mr. Haig said

there would be an announcement

on this subject "in the not-too-distant future." He was not specific on dates, and his aides later cau-tioned that full-scale Soviet-U.S.

negotiations in Geneva probably om-range nuclear missiles in Europe will require several rounds of preliminary discussions among the allies, a process that "will take time," United Press International reported from Washington.

[The statement, read by spokesman Dean Fischer, indicated it would be months before NATO allies are ready to meet for preliminary discussions with the Russians on the so-called theater nuclear

[Some officials believe the lengthy process of consultations and preliminary discussions means

The issue of negotiations on re-ducing Soviet and American theater nuclear forces in Europe is a major concern to the Europeans, and particularly the West Ger-

European Resistance

ing of the United States and West Germany, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization agreed to de-ploy new U.S.-made nuclear weap-

In December, 1979, at the urg-end of the year, UPI reported.]

talks could not begin until the re still months away.

and food production in the coun- al strike last month. A short na-

The government and Commu nist Party apparently changed their thinking about establishment of the union — which will be open to the country's 3.5 million private farmers — because of the disastrous agricultural situation, which has led to food rationing and deep dissatisfaction among Polish citi-zens. With Solidarity well entrenched after its founding nine months ago, the acceptance of the principle of the farmers' union seemed to represent no additional ideological problems to the party.

In agreeing to the recognition of Rural Solidarity (its official name will be the Independent Self-Ruling Trade Union for Individual Extract Solidarity). Farmers-Solidarity) the government received a pledge that the oc-cupation of two public buildings — in Bydgoszcz and Inowroclaw - by groups of farmers would be

An attack by police on members of both the unrecognized farmers' union and Solidarity in Bydgoszcz was part of the series of events leading up to the threat of a gener-

tional warning strike and a general drop in production were central elements in the seemingly chaotic circumstances that caused fears of Soviet-bloc intervention in Poland

during the first week in April.

In order not to upset Poland's In order not to upset rotation s Warsaw Pact allies any further, the agreement reached Friday stated that Rural Solidarity will be regis-tered on the basis "of the same principles" as the regular Solidar-ty limits a clear reference to Soliity units. a clear reference to Solidarity's stated acceptance of the leading role of the Communist Party in national affairs.

Farmers in Tears

The government said it would not attempt to challenge the legali-ty of the farm union in the courts - the Supreme Court had already once ruled against it - and promised to provide the organiza-tion with office space and equip-

The draft was signed for the government by Stanislaw Ciosek, minister of trade union affairs, and Andrzej Kacala, the deputy minis-ter of agriculture; about 40 members of Solidarity and the Rural Solidarity organizing committee signed for the farmers. The union members, some sobbing and weeping, embraced each other and began singing the national hymn when the agreement was conclud-

Among the effects of recogniz-ing the union is the creation of a direct organizational bond between workers and farmers, whose interests and temperaments have often been different and occasionally played off against each other by the party. It is unclear, moreover, how the union will affect the traditionally close relationship be-tween Polish farmers and the Roman Catholic Church.

The head of the farmers' group is Jan Kulaj, a 28-year-old activist who showed remarkable authority and leadership ability at the union's first congress in Poznan in early March.

News of the agreement was broadcast on radio and television and the complete text was published by the official news agency.

develop the weapon that fast.

U.S. government officials have said that the United States has been developing its own anti-satel-lite system but probably would not be able to test it until 1982.

Mr. Brezhnev's remarks could mean that the Russians are reassessing their chances of retaining their military lead in space in view the shuttle's impressive per-

Brezhnev Implies Willingness To Resume Space Arms Talks

By Anthony Austin New York Times Service

MOSCOW — Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev implied Friday that the Soviet Union was ready to resume negotiations with the United States on banning military activity in outer space.

Though be did not refer to the successful testing of the U.S. space shuttle Columbia, his remarks, made at a Soviet space ceremony, appeared to reflect Moscow's stated concern over the military potential of the shuttle program.

In the minimal coverage given to Columbia's launch and to its re-turn to Earth, Soviet television and Tass portraved the new spaceship as primarily an instrument for testing laser weapons and *killer satellites" in outer space. In advance of the test flight, the Soviet press accused the Pentagon of seeking to turn space into a battle arena.

Mr. Brezhnev, while presenting What Mr. Haig was referring to, awards to two cosmonauts, departofficials said, was the start of a dialogue on the matter with the Sovied abruptly from the standard Union through diplomatic chanwords of the occasion, saying: ") nels, probably in Washington with Ambassador Anatoli F. Dobrynin. should like to stress that the Soviet Union has been and remains a These "preliminary talks" might convinced supporter of the develstart in the next month or so, they opment of businesslike international cooperation in outer space. The State Department said in a May the shoreless cosmic ocean he pure and free of weapons of any kind. We stand for joint efforts to statement Friday that talks with the Soviet Union on limiting medi-

> tion of outer space." Arms Race reach a great and humanitarian aim - to preclude the militariza-

In effect, Mr. Brezhnev appeared to be calling on the United States to consider resuming the 1978-79 talks on preventing an arms race in space.
In the view of U.S. officials in Washington, Moscow entered those talks despite a commanding lead in space weaponry because it wanted to improve chances of concluding a new strategic arms limitation treaty covering strategic missiles and bombers.

The space negotiations were focused on controlling the use of military satellites designed to hunt down and destroy communications and other satellites placed in orbit by the other side.

For two years, starting with those talks, the Soviet Union was reported to have observed a moratorium on its testing of such weap-ons. But after the SALT-2 treaty, signed in June, 1979, ran into seemingly insurmountable difficul-ties in the U.S. Senate, Moscow was reported by Washington officials to have resumed its killer-satellite program.

According to U.S. intelligence agents and military officials, the Soviet Union is well along in its development of satellites designed to destroy other satellites by smashing into them or disabling them with high-powered lasers.

An intelligence report to the Carter administration a year ago estimated that the Soviet Union would be able to place an anti-sat-

British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, in a direct challenge to India's official policies. insisted that Pakistan

needs arms to defend itself

against Soviet troops in Af-

German Attacks

The death of a jailed terrorist who had been on a hunger strike prompted some violence in West Germany, but the immediate reaction was less than authorities had feared. Page 2.

Bonn on 2 Wheels

An organization of Bonn bicycle buffs has had an enormous response after convincing the city to make it better and safer

Second Thoughts

Some of the Pentagon's strongest supporters in Con-gress are bothered by President Reagan's requests for increases in military spending. While they want more spending, they think that some of the requests are excessive, and they are concerned about the long-term effects on Pentagon support. In Monday's Trib.

for cyclists. Page 5W.

MONDAY

ghanistan. Page 2.

While the shuttle program envisages a wide variety of nonmilitary scientific research projects, it ellite laser weapon in orbit by the mid-1980s. Other U.S. experts exalso presumably will give the United States superior ability in the field of lasers and other sophisticated space weaponry.

Hence, in the view of Western INSIDE Tough Message

analysts in Moscow. Mr. Brezhnev's remarks may indicate an interest in engaging the United States in new talks, with the purpose either of preventing an all-out space arms race or of applying a brake on the U.S. development program.

In another comment Friday, the Soviet magazine Za Rubezhom, which provides a weekly selection of press articles abroad, deplored what it called the change that has come over the United States space program since 1975, when Soviet and American spacemen linked up

Differences Cited

Without mentioning the Soviet development of space weapons the magazine said editorially that the change had resulted in these differences between the Soviet and American approaches to space exploration:

"On the one hand, establishment of [Soviet] orbital stations for extensive research in the interests of science and the national economy, work in them by international crews. On the other hand, creation of the Pentagon's space fleet. On the one hand, research into the Earth's natural resources. On the other hand, testing of systems and devices for laser weapons in space.

"It is the duty of the world public, of scientists and political fig-ures, to change this divergence of the goals of space activities and to prevent space from becoming an arena of conflicts and wars," the magazine said. "Let space bring people closer, not divide them.'

nch Labor: Calm Before April 26 Storm on in Europe to counter a new generation of Soviet missiles. This deployment is to begin around 1983. But Union-Management Split Remains Key Election Issue

rathan Kandell tonal Heroid Tribune

K, France — Jeandirector of personage Pengeot plant that the economy in this reem France, was matdescribing the kind of i at his factory that any management exe been no strikes in Il years, he said, and has riser steadily. workers' incomes and its. An effort to decengement and take into merits of individual s, in his opinion, pro-tothly. And with elecpresidency of France I days away, there is militant unrest that factory life during im-tical campaigns in the tost as an afterthought, said: "Unfortenately, I hat our labor relations management Maybe they do not from conservative enterprises

The chasm between manage ment and labor is the key issue perennially underlying French pol-ities, a gap that President Valery Giscard d'Estaing has been unable to bridge despite repeated promis-es of reform during his seven years in office.

Business, Labor Changes

Mr. Giscard d'Estaing is expected to win re-election after the two rounds of voting on April 26 and May 10. But the polls indicate a close race that might bring to pow-er the Socialist Party leader, Francois Mitterrand, many of whose supporters fundamentally question business views on profits, invest-ment, income distribution and, to an important degree, private ownership of big industry.

Some political commentators ting so rapady. In have noted that in recent years the exers deeply distrust French business world has moved become militant union members, structured almost like military orbut they vote for those who most ganizations to modern firms guidtake a long, long time to change intent on improving its relations these stringer." with labor. At the same time, trade unionists — despite their predominantly militant leftist outlook are supposed to have become more receptive to business arguments on the need for productivity increases and a stronger spirit of coopera-tion, particularly during these times of economic crisis.

> But this optimistic assessment is often questioned by business lead-ers themselves who, as elections draw near, tend to look wistfully at management-labor relations in the United States and West Germany, where a basic consensus exists on the private enterprise system.

Short Sights

According to Francois Ceyrne, the president of the CNPF, the National Employers Federation. "the presence of labor unions in a firm is not a sufficient guarantee of the possibility of real dialogue"

François Michelin, president of Michelin Tire Co., put it less diplomatically: "What separates me from labor unions is that they cannot see any further than their Pengeot, which has been making cars for 90 years, is one of those large, traditional family-controlled enterprises that has long been a target of leftist criticism. The Communist Party presidential candidate. Georges Marchais, wants the company to be brought under state ownership. Mr. Mitterrand, the Socialist, who brought his campaign to the Peugeot factory gates n few days ago, called for state participation in the company, a participation that would fall short of its nationalization.

Leftist arguments for a government takeover of Pengeot are now based mainly on the company's poor financial performance. Last year, the firm recorded losses of more than 1 billion francs (about $200 million at current rates), and fell behind Renault, a state company. But even when Peugeot was riding high, its poor relations with (Continued on Page 8, Col. 1) retary Caspar W. Weinberger said on a visit to Bonn that he was against opening talks with the Rus-sians so long as the Soviet Union "threatened" Poland. Since then, Mr. Haig and other State Department officials, aware

This concern was expressed again last week when Defense Sections.

of European sensitivities, have said only that if the Soviet Union "intervened" in Poland, talks would (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

TOPSY-TURVY — A photograph of the Pacific Ocean was taken through the aft window of the U.S. space shuttle Columbia as it orbited upside down during its 54-hour maiden voyage. The vertical stabilizer is visible in the center; a slight curvature of the Earth's horizon can be seen.

Pakistan Has a Right To Bolster Defense. Thatcher Tells India

By Stuart Auerbach Washington Post Service
NEW DELHI — Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher of Britain bluntly challenged India's official policies here Friday by insisting that Pakistan needs arms to defend its borders in Alghanistan. The prime minister, on the third day of her five-day state visit to India used some of firmest language that the Indian press and vernment officials have heard on Pakistan's need for arms.

itself against Soviet troops across

Mrs. Thatcher also challenged other cornerstones of Indian foreign policy. She said the presence of Western naval ships and bases in the Indian Ocean-Gulf region was necessary both to protect vital sea-lanes and to counter the Soviet force in the area: she blamed the tensions in the region on the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan; and she defended Washington's plans for a Rapid Deployment Force, to which she said Britain would add a small contingent.

She stood firmly behind a proposed British nationalities law, which an Indian correspondent has called "paper genocide." There is a widely held view in India that the measure is aimed at stripping dark-skinned residents of former British colonies of the right to full British citizenship.

International Issues

But it was Mrs. Thatcher's comments on international issues that most conflicted with the views of the Indian government of Prime blames the West for increasing tensions in the region and fears

U.S. Says Link To India Unhurt By Pakistan Ties

The Associated Press WASHINGTON - The Reagan administration sees no reason that U.S.-Indian relations should be damaged by the United States' pursuit of a closer military relationship with Pakistan, according to a senior State Department offi-

The comment was made Thursday during talks in Washington between Indian and U.S. officials on a relationship that Indian offi-cials have described as unsatisfac-

"We are prepared to be as pro-Western as you will permit us to be," the Indian foreign secretary, Eric Gonsalves, said before his arrival Tuesday. "But every time we try to create an opening, you kick us in the teeth."

"We want a security relationship with Pakistan, there's no secret about that," the U.S. official said Thursday. "We are very optimistic that a more credible, reliable policy on the part of the administrawith the Pakistanis."

At the same time, he said, he could not see any reason "why our relationship with India must get be turned against India.

Mrs. Thatcher's challenge occurred in the midst of an Indian diplomatic offensive to counter American efforts to conclude new security relations with Pakistan and to increase the Western naval presence in the Indian Ocean.

The Indian foreign secretary. Eric Gonsalves, is in Washington this week trying to pursuade the Reagan administration to shift its

Mrs. Thatcher stressed the right of any country to acquire arms to defend itself and said Pakistan's needs have increased since the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan in December, 1979.

"I would be concerned if I had Soviet troops near my frontier that had recently occupied the country just beyond that frontier," the British leader said. "I would wish to have the means to defend myself and my people."

Indian Strength

She said that India, which recently concluded a $1.6-billion arms deal with the Soviet Union and has also contracted to buy fighters from Britain, "has increased her equipment and arms enormously, more so than some other countries, because she does in fact give priority to being able to defend herself."

"One cannot ask for a right to defend oneself," Mrs. Thatcher added pointedly, "and deny that right to other sovereign nations." While Mrs. Thatcher said she opposes military intervention in Afghanistan to dislodge the 85,000 or more Soviet troops there, the British prime minister added: We shall never accept the Soviet occu-of the Soviet Union accordingly." Once you accept that the Soviets can march in and occupy an independent country," she contin-ued, "no independent nation will be safe."

pation of Afghanistan as normal,

and we shall look at every activity

She said that Britain - through the United Nations, the nonaligned movement, the Commonwealth states and other diplomatic channels - is trying to put pressure on the Russians to with-

Mrs. Thatcher defended the U.S. naval presence on the British island of Diego Garcia, and in reply to a question asking if Soviet withdrawal from Alghanistan should be accompanied by a simi-lar U.S. withdrawal from Diego Garcia and El Salvador, she said, "I am not aware of any foreign troops in El Salvador."

She laid the naval presence in the Indian Ocean-Gulf region to the Russians, who she said "have a large number of ships" in the area. She said the British, French and U.S. ships there are needed to make sure the vital sea-lanes in that area are kept open.
"It would be very

tion will produce the opportunity said, "if you could maintain freeto forge the closer relationship dom of navigation without any naval ships of any nations there at all. But I am afraid that is not what the world is like. It is a very. very sensitive area, and I do not

President Valery Giscard d'Estaing

of France and his foreign minister,

The French and U.S. delegates

proposed that the council privately agree on the text of a declaration by Mr. Dorr urging "an end to at-tacks from outside against any part of Lebanon" and, if the Beirui government agreed, the naming of the Arab Deterrent Force have been fighting Lebanese Christians

in and near Beirut, strongly objected. A Syrian diplomat explained that his country opposed "interna-tionalization" of the conflict

Other diplomats said the plan would be a blow to Syria's prestige, underlining the inability of

Israeli Raid Reported

BEIRUT (AP) - An Israeli force crossed the border into a

UN-controlled village in southern Lebanon on Friday and blew up three houses whose tenants were suspected of belping Palestinian guerrillas, Lebanese provincial au-

But Israeli military sources denied the report and suggested the raid might have been carried out by the Lebanese Christian militia of Maj. Saad Haddad, who con-trols a border enclave in southern

Police in Beirut reported a 30-minute exchange of grenades and rockets across the Green Line

separating the Lebanese capital's

Moslem and Christian quarters, marring a 10-day-old cease-fire be-

Lebanon with Israel's support.

thorities reported.

Damascus to keep the peace.

the conflict

Syria, whose 21,000 troops in a special representative.

Russians Block Proposal To Ease Lebanese Crisis

By Bernard D. Nossirer New York Times Service

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. -The Soviet Union has blocked a French and U.S. plan to appoint a special United Nations representa-tive in Lebanon charged with easing the crisis there.

The Russians, supported by East Germany, insisted Thursday that Israel be singled out as responsible for the conflict, but that as unacceptable to the United States and other Western powers.

The Security Council's members have been negotiating privately since last Saturday, seeking some formula to ease the Lebanese situation. Their inability to agree Thursday was the latest in a protracted series of failures to deal with the world's crises.

The world's chief peacekeeping body has ignored the war between Iran and Iraq since November, when it called on Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim to appoint a mediator; he has been unsuccess ful in efforts to reach a settlement. The council gave up on Afghanistan 15 months ago when the Soviet Union vetoed a demand that it withdraw its troops.

The futility, diplomats at the UN say, reflects some unwritten rules. The organization is impotent when either superpower so commands, or when one or another combatant on the ground does not on superpower support. Talks to Continue

The proposition that appeared dead Thursday - the council president, Noel Dorr of Ireland, intends to continue talking to the principal nations - arose from a meeting in Paris last Saturday at which Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. conferred with tween Syrian forces and the Phalangist Party, Lebanon's largest Christian political group.

Cassette Center HARRY'S N.Y. BAR ® 5 Rue Daunau, PARIS Just tell the taxi driver senk roo doe noo'

Several hundred demonstrators marched through the center of Amsterdam on Thursday night to protest the death of Sigurd Debus, who had been on a lunger strike in a West German prison.

Death of West German Hunger Striker Prompts Attacks, but Violence Limited

BERLIN - A bomb damaged a research institute in West Berlin early Friday, and leftist demonstrators smashed windows and clashed with police here and in two West German cities after the death of a convicted terrorist who had refused food for more than 10

In an apparent move to forestall further demonstrations, police in Hamburg said that justice officials would wait until Tuesday - after the Easter holiday weekend - to announce the date and time of the funeral of the terrorist, Sigurd Debus, 38. who died Thursday in Hamburg, Police in Hamburg, West Berlin and Frankfurt reported Friday that they were on special alert, and said that violence during the night was much less widespread than they had feared. Concern had been heightened after a bomb was found Thursday in a U.S. Army headquarters building in Wiesbaden with a note referring to Mr.

Debus' death. Mr. Debus, said to be a former member of the Red Army Faction of the late Andreas Baader and Ulrike Meinhof, was serving a 12year sentence for robbery and at-tempted bomb attacks. Several hours after Mr. Debus' death was announced, 23 other jailed terrorists broke off their coordinated two-month bunger strike. They are being held in several maximum-security prisons in West Germany and West Berlin.

Strikers in Hannover

A lawyer for Mr. Debus, Michael Nitschke, asserted Friday that three weeks of forced feeding was the cause of his client's death. Mr. Nitschke said that Mr. Debus had actively opposed forced feeding "until the last" because he felt it was designed to break a jus-

Eight officials had forcibly tak-en Mr. Debus each day from his cell to a hospital where he was strapped down for as long as 11 hours and exposed to "the torture of forced infusion." the lawyer asserted. In Hannover, lawyers for two ents were still on the hunger strike because their demand to be put in a bigger group had not been met. One of them, Karl-Heinz Dellwo, is serving a life sentence for an attack on the West German Embassy in Stockholm in 1975 in which two diplomats and two guerrillas were killed.

The hunger strikers had been demanding prisoner-of-war status and permission to be kept togeher in units of 10 to 15 persons. The government rejected the demands. saying they were attempts to plot escapes or new attacks.
West German justice officials,

while refusing Friday to comment on the details of any possible agreement with the terrorists, said that "certain conditions of imprisonment might come under review." The government has said that it would be willing to discuss iail conditions when the hunger

Ministry said that moves had begun toward easing conditions in the top-security wing at the jail where I urban guerrillas are held. These are to include a tea room, a gymnasium, a lawn in the courtyard and an extension to 10 hours of the time they can spend in small groups every day in each other's elis, now two hours. Six of the hunger strikers are in the West Berlin jail — five women and one man, Andreas Vogel, who has now agreed to resume medical treatment he had refused after being returned to jail two days ago from a city clinic, a Justice Ministry spokesman said Shortly before dawn Friday, a six-kilogram (15-pound) bomb disguised as a fire extinguisher exploded in the Max Planck research institute in West Berlin. Police said

Garwood Seeks Back Pay

United Press International CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Robert R. Garwood, the former Marine convicted of collaboration with the my in Vietnam, has asked the U.S. Court of Claims to award him $147,000 in back pay accumulated during his 14 years in Vietnam.

marks (about $5,000) in damage but no injuries. Police also report-ed that leftist sympathizers smashed windows in nine banks and food shops, and pitched firebombs inside, but none caught

Sands Grows Weaker

BELFAST (UPI) - Robert Sands, the convicted IRA terrorist who has refused food for 48 days, is getting weaker, the Northern Ireland Office said Friday in one of its few official bulletins about

Relatives who visted Mr. Sands at the Maze prison hospital, near Belfast, said that the prison doctor told them that it was only "a matter of days" before he died. His family said that he no longer could drink water and that his sight was

Police said that supporters of Mr. Sands and three other hunger strikers in Belfast and Londonderry threw 60 firebombs Thursday night. Mr. Sands was elected to Parliament last week but will not be allowed to take his seat.

Business, Labor Skeptical Of Italy's Economic Moves

ROME - The latest anti-inflation package for Italy was greeted Friday with indifference and skepticism, with both sides of industry saying it would do little to cure the country's underlying economic ills, which have produced an annual inflation rate of 20 percent.

Prices jumped in money and share markets, buoyed by the lim-

Farm Union Is Approved

(Continued from Page 1)

prisoners said Friday that their cli- nouncement was little more than quiet approval, an apparent indi-cation of the depth of the changes in Polish life since the first Solidarity agreements were signed in Gdansk amid wild enthusiasm last While Rural Solidarity's recognition was being announced, there was a small ceremony in Warsaw commemorating the 38th anniversary of the Warsaw ghetto uprising which Polish Jews lought against Nazi occupiers. Wreaths were placed at a monument by sentatives of the Defense Ministry, old soldiers' organiza-tions, Jewish groups and the U.S.

In Prague on Friday, the Czechoslovak Communist Party daily Rude Pravo said "right-wing forces [were] again fanning tension in Poland," referring to a meeting Wednesday in Torun where rankand-file party members approved a resolution calling for a liberalizastrike ends.

In West Berlin, the city Justice tion of party operations.

ited nature of the proposed mea-sures, which aim to cut public spending by 5 trillion lire (about $5 billion) this year, but impose no further credit controls. Financial analysts said that the measures, which also include selective aids for industry, were broadly neutral in effect. Political sources explained that the government was treading carefully to avoid antagonizing the unions before negotia-Reactions to the package, announced Thursday night, were predictable. A Communist deputy, Giovanni Belinguer, said: "It is shameful that the government has chosen to hit health spending more than any other sector, making life more difficult for those who are

There was also harsh reaction from small businessmen. "The credit squeeze has brought us to our knees, and we see nothing here to ease the situation," an official of the Small Businesses Association

The government has been under pressure from the European Economic Community and the International Monetary Fund to find a way of freezing Italy's inflationlinked wage index system. The lat-est measures followed a 6-percent devaluation of the lira and an increase in interest rates to record evels last month

MIT Aircraft Crashes

United Press Interna-

CAPE PORPOISE, Maine - A esearch plane owned by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology crashed into the ocean off Maine

Haig Expecting U.S.-Soviet Contacts

(Continued from Page 1) be ruled out; otherwise, prepara-

Luns Sees Reagan

On Thursday, Mr. Haig accompanied Joseph Luns, the director-general of NATO, to see President Reagan. Afterward, Mr. Luns said he looked forward to the resumption of the theater nuclear forces negotiations that were begun by the Carter administration last Oc-

Mr. Haig said: "These are matters under active consideration right now, and we'll have something to announce on this subject in the not-too-distant future."

"We're talking about the obligations incurred to proceed on two tracks," he continued, "first the modernization of our theater nuclear capabilities in Europe, and secondly, concurrent discussions with the Soviet Union with the view toward limiting long-range nuclear weapons on both sides which threaten Europe at large."

"We are in the process now of doing our homework on this subject," he said. "That will involve consultations with our partners in Europe and it will involve preliminary talks with the Soviet representatives with the view toward having negotiations ultimately that would seek to achieve the objective we're committed to."

Mr. Haig is due to attend the annual spring meeting of NATO for-eign ministers, which will be held May 4-5 in Rome. It is expected that the allies will discuss the theater nuclear forces question then and authorize Mr. Haig to initiate discussions with Mr. Dobrynin. Taking Time

At the same time that Mr. Haig was talking to reporters another State Department official was telling the reporters that the Reagan administration was deliberately taking its time in preparation for arms control discussions with the Soviet Union. The official, who asked not to be identified, said "we won't be stampeded" into negotiations because it was necessary first to settle out-standing defense policy questions, such as whether the United States will build a new strategic bomber and what to do about the projected MX mobile intercontinental sys-

Some State Department officials believe that the Reagan administration will not be ready for fullscale negotiations until the end of

Mr. Haig is likely to meet with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko of the Soviet Union in late September or early October when both attend the UN General Assembly session. They may agree then on dates for talks on theater nuclear forces and strategic arms limitation, officials said. At a meeting of allied officials last mouth in Brussels, Lawrence

S. Eagleburger, the assistant secre-tary of state-designate for European affairs, said that the United States wanted to negotiate on theater nuclear forces within the framework of the strategic arms talks. But an official said Thursday that the talks on limiting missiles in Europe could start before the strategic arms discussions.

In Israeli Voter Polls United Press International

TEL AVIV - Prime Minister Menachem Begin's popularity among voters for the June 30 elec-tion is rising steadily, two opinion polls published Friday showed. A recent poll for the Englishlanguage Jerusalem Post showed Mr. Begin running neck and neck

Begin Gains Steadily

young by two years to be a candi-date, has talked several times of returning to Manila, and his comments Friday spelled out the minimum conditions he expected from Mr. Marcos. ly and well-meaning friends. I am willing to return to Manila to serve with his main opponent, Labor Party leader Shimon Peres. as presidential campaign manager

Has Caused Delay of National Elections This proposal represented a significant change in the politics of this country, which has no experience with democracy or elections, An attempted coup four weeks ago apparently has led the 20-month-

By Steve Fishman

NOUAKCHOTT, Mauritania -

old military government in Mauritania to postpone moves toward democracy until it is more politically secure. Western diplomatic

The sources expressed concern that an unsuccessful attempt to overthrow the government on March 16 may have caused an indefinite delay in the conducting of the former French colony's first

In December, the military gov-erument of President Mohammed Khouna Ould Haidalla appointed several civilians to high political posts, including premier. The same month, Col. Haidalla published a proposed constitution that called for a multiparty state and free elections. He promised to put the con-

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

BERLIN - East Germany's security forces have substantially in-

BERLIN — East Germany's security toldes have substantiany increased their influence in the ruling Communist Party's Central Committee, a new membership list revealed Friday.

The list, published in the official daily Neues Deutschland, showed that the committee, elected at the close of the party's 10th congress Thursday, had been expanded from 140 to 156 full members and from 52 to 57 candidate translates.

The army chief of staff, Gen. Fritz Streletz, and the chief party official in the state security services, Gen. Horst Felber, both became full members of the committee without going through the usual procedure of serving as candidate members first. Senior security officials also accounted for five of the seven new candidate members. The changes gave the military and security services more influence in formulating and debating party policy than ever before.

Head of Sea Law Unit Hopes for U.S. Action

United Press International
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Despite a U.S. statement to the contrary, the president of the United Nations Law of the Sea Conference said Friday he hoped Washington could speed up its review and help to prepare a treaty governing the oceans this summer.

after the United States said it would not define its position "until au-

Asked if the meeting would still take place if the United States we not ready, the conference president, Tommy Koh of Singapore, said

Washington "keeps changing its mind," but he added, "I hope the United States will be able to accelerate its progress." In March, the Reagan administration said it needed a few months to study the document.

tumn" and said the final treaty should wait until early next year.

Hirohito Says He Would Have Avoided War

United Press International TOKYO — Emperor Hirohito, blaming Japan's entry into World War II on his scrupulous adherence to constitutional politics, suggested Fri-day that the result would have been different if he had had his way.

Hirohito, who will be 80 on April 29, told a group of Japanese journal ists he only had two occasions during the entire 56 years of his reign to sway a political decision. One was to end the war, and the other to quash

Recalling the decision made by the military-dominated parliament that led to the raid on Pearl Harbor in December, 1941, and the start of war with the United States, Hirohito said he felt too strongly about constitutional politics, with the result that he "respected" everything the

Pakistani Opposes U.S. Aid to Afghan Rebels

PARIS - Agita Shahi, Pakistan's foreign minister, said in an interview

President Reagan's recent statement that the United States was consider-

Aquino Eager to Return

To Manila for Campaign

if Mr. Marcos will allow me the freedom of movement during the campaign period or, at the least, unhampered access to our people through the media from my cell

should be choose to return me

there," he said in a prepared state-

Pressed to explain how he would manage a campaign from a prison cell, Mr. Aquino said he would insist on the right to meet with oppo-sition leaders to discuss programs and to give interviews during the

He said, however, that without some assurances from Mr. Marcos freely or to deal with the pres

Talks With Secessionists

any return to Manila, he would visit several Middle Eastern countries to meet with emissaries of the

Moro National Liberation Front,

which has been waging a Moslem secessionist rebellion in the south-

Mr. Aquino said that he had already proposed to the chairman of the secessionist group, Nur Misuari, a peace plan that would grant a large degree of Moslem au-tonomy, including independent

Mr. Aquino said he would meet again with representatives of the group to get their reaction. "I told them that if they accept this, we fin the opposition] would attempt to sell the idea to our leaders," he

Government troops have been trying to put down the rebellion

for years, with limited success. Forces of the Moro National Liberation Front continue to operate freely in remote sections of the island of Mindanao, and recently wiped out a unit of about 120 gov-

He also disclosed that before and by Mr. Marcos.

ern Philippine islands.

schools and courts.

a 1936 military revolt, Hirohito said.

fighters could lead to World War III.

ing military assistance to Afghan rebels.

confrontation policy" in the area, he said.

By William Chapman

Washington Post Service

TOKYO - Benigno S. Aquino, the principal opposition figure of the Philippines, said here Friday-that he hoped to return soon to Mamla to manage a political cam-paign against President Ferdinand E. Marcos and that he would do it from a jail cell if Mr. Marcos ap-

Mr. Aquino, a former senator who served nearly eight years in prison, said that he would return to his country if Mr. Marcos granted him freedom of movement during the campaign or at least gave him access to the news media if imprisoned again. He called the coming presidential election his country's "last chance" to attain political stability.

Mr. Aquino, who technically is

wir. Aquino, who texamically is still under a death sentence, was released from prison last May to undergo a heart operation in the United States. He has been study-ing and writing at Harvard Univer-city since then

He flew to Tokyo on Thursday night to meet with another promi-nent opposition leader, Salvador H. Laurel, who is considered likely to be the joint opposition's candi-date for president against Mr.

Marcos. The campaign period be-gins next week for the election on June 16.

United Opposition

Democratic Opposition, an amalgamation of eight anti-Marcos groups, would field a candidate if given a fair chance to campaign

but would boycott the election unless certain demands were met.

One of the demands was for a campaign period longer than the 55 days allotted by the govern-

Mr. Aquino, who at 48 is too

"Against the advice of my fami-

Mr. Laurel said that the United legislature decided, regardless of his own judgment.

The conference decided Thursday to reconvene in Geneva on Aug. 3 stitution to a national vote.

52 to 57 candidate members.

sources have reported.

national elections.

Diplomats Say Mauritania Coup Attemp

said a diplomat.

Col. Haidalla is the third military leader to control the country since a July 10, 1978, coup overthrew Moktar Ould Daddah, a lawyer who had served as president since Mauritania gained inde-

Troopers Said to Kill

15 Philippine Rebels

United Press International

MANILA — Government troopers killed 15 guerrillas Thursday in three clashes, and separatist Moslem rebels set fire to a southern village to avenge the death of their leader, according to military

The victims included three rebels of the Communist New Peo-ple's Army in Catanduanes, five separatist Moslems in Lanao Del Sur and seven in Basilan.

pendence from France on Nov. 1960.

In June, 1979, when Cal H dallah took over you would have thought this governm would last more than six month a diplomat said. But nearly t years is a pretty good to record."

The coup attempt last mo was led by two lieutenant color — Mohammed Ould Abdel Ka 40, and Ahmed Salem Ould S both former members of the or. try's ruling Military Committee National Salvation. With a gr of commandos, they attempte seize the presidential palace, radio station and other key in: lations. The lighting left eight sons dead and seven woun-Col. Kader and Col. Sidi later executed by firing squad The government arrested al 60 people immediately after coup attempt, 20 to 30 of ware said to be still under some

East German Security Forces Gain in Influence

would protect their rights, by federal government prompti in a day in which both sought to win public opinio premiers signed Thursday-they called a "historic agrees

on a method of amending the stitution that would allow prees to accept or reject changes The signing took place be national television audience the ink was hardly dry before Chretien, the Canadian mini ustice, also went on televis declare that the "mountain

Speaking for Prime Minis erre Elliott Trudeau, Mr. Cl said the federal government. proceed as planned withou vincial consent to replace th ish North America Act of with a purely Canadian doc that would include a bill of applicable to all. He said the no reason for Mr. Trudeau t with the premiers in a new tutional conference because was no basis for agreement, j

Months of Struggle-

published Friday that U.S. military assistance to the Afghan resistance

Before leaving Islamahad for Washington, Mr. Shahi told the Paris newspaper Le Monde that a withdrawal of Soviet troops from Afghani-Premier Rene Levesqu stan should be sought by political and not military means. He referred to with the other provincial Mr. Shahi, who asserted that 90 percent of the Afghan population opposed the Russians, added that Pakistan was not against an Afghan regime friendly with the Soviet Union. "But we are opposed to any premiers was in fact "sove by installments."

> tiative began as a result of ferendum in Ouebec last 1 which voters rejected Levesque's proposal for sov ty after the prime minist promised to change the fede tem. In September, a feder vincial conference failed duce agreement. The primade demands for power Mr. Trudeau would not and they either rejected to posed bill of rights or t he would not return. "If Marcos refused to allow me to campaign from a cell, what's the use of reduced only paralysis, Mr. introduced in Parliament i turning?" he asked. Mr. Aquino said he would risk being held in-communicado after the election. ber a resolution asking Brinclude a bill of rights in the Mr. Aquino said he planned to return to Boston on Sunday to America Act along with other amendments and to the document to Canad clear up his affairs and to await decisions by the opposition leaders in the future.

> Within two years of called act of patriation, would be an effort to ag new amending formula, a to the Trudeau plan. If the no agreement, the federal ment and seven province senting 80 percent of the tion would each submit a to the Canadian people ferendum. Ottawa is thus ing a method of amendawould require the agreeme legislatures of Quebec an io, the two most populous es, pius two of the four provinces and two of . western provinces with at percent of the population area. Amendments could adopted by referendum.

Mr. Trudeau had the st only two provinces which has more than a Canada's population of 2 and New Brunswick, TI have objected to both the ing formula and the bill In both cases, they were c with protecting their n sources and culture again. and one another.

حكذا من الاجل

Ottawa Bar

New Plan Constitution By Henry Giniger

New York Three Service

OTTAWA — Eight of Can

10 provincial premiers submit stitutional plan to Ottawa

brought forth a mouse."

The long months of strug proponents of provincial po-head off what Mr. Trudeau ics have called a constit coup d'etat is similar to th flict over states' rights in the ed States. The so-called righ: premiers' plan of "opting c constitutional changes whe "derogate" from provincial and privileges has the fla bec, fresh from his provinci. tion victory Monday, hail common from he had estabut said Thursday's agreen no way affected the condight of Quebecers to "decid ocratically by themselves of future." He thus implied the bec retained a permanent resected from the Canadian Later, Mr. Chretien said ti ing-out provision agreed on

Mr. Trudean's constitutio make it a bargaining tool.

Act of Patriation

Contending that no agreement was possible a the rule of unanimity h with the exclusive right to:

Still Undecided i Offering Aid to errillas in Angola

Fork Times Service JTON — In response African criticism, the ministration's effort to ation barring U.S. aid rebels did not reflect a iid the guerrilla move-tepartment spokesman lay that in seeking the so-called Clark , the administration's a matter of principle" restore the president's in conducting foreign uld not be taken as a

a decision to aid UN-e no such decision has he said, referring to i's National Union for tependence of Angola. n Angola, the presi-black African coundeclaration Thursday icizing the administras in southern Africa. crocker, the designated retary of state for Afriwho is on an 11-nation ca, arrived in the Anof Luanda on Friday.

f Angola, Botswana,
, Tanzania, Zambia owe, "denounced ac-Reagan administra-stabilize" the Sovietslan government, such ot to revoke legislation Congress in 1976 U.S. aid to any inter-Angola.

'ige to Free Africa' gation said that any to Mr. Savimbi's UNition movement is some areas of eastwith South African ould be "a flagrant inn Angola's internal afclear affront and chal-Africa."

U.S. congressional who see Mr. Savim-Western force against led government of the vement for the Liber-ngola (MPLA), have called for arming Mr. Savimbi to maintain guerrilla warfare against the 20,000 Cuban troops that along with Russian assistance helped the present regime gain power in 1976 after a civil war. Thursday's declaration by the six African states also condemned "the U.S. intention to consolidate its relations with South Africa" at moment when South African forces have struck at guerrilla camps in Angola and Mozambique and when South Africa is opposing the United Nations Security Coun-cil's plan for internationally supervised elections in South-West Africa (Namibia), which is under Pretoria's military control. The African leaders stressed the "urgent need to implement this [UN] plan without delay, evasion, qualifica-tions or modifications."

Changing the UN Plan

This part of the declaration appeared to be a rejection of earli-er proposals made by Mr. Crocker that a constitutional conference involving South Africa and Namibian factions that it supports, as well as the South-West Africa People's Organization (SWAPO) — be held before elections are called. This proposal would be a major modification of the Security Council plan, which was backed by the Carter administration, Britain, France, West Germany, and Cana-

The African presidents said they looked to the five Western nations to ensure the implementation of the United Nations plan, of which they are the authors.

Nigeria, the major oil-exporting power in black Africa, is in support of the six states and is expected to reinforce the demands for Namibian independence when Mr. Crocker arrives in Lagos on Samr-

African diplomatic sources said that the African countries, with support from the nonaligned movement and Communist coun-tries, may call for a meeting of the UN Security Council before the end of the month if the United States changes its position on the plan approved by the Security Council.

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE, SATURDAY-SUNDAY, APRIL 18-19, 1981 Tapes of Jonestown Cult: A Picture of Human Disintegration

LOS ANGELES — James Jones, the leader of the Peoples Temple cult, exerted more complete control over his followers and his paranoia was deeper than has generally been known, according to excerpts from 900 hours of tapes that have been held by the

A chilling picture of growing human disintegra-tion emerges from the tapes, recorded before the Jonestown mass suicide-murders on Nov. 18, 1978, in Guyana and confiscated by the FBI shortly after-

The tapes, excerpts of which were made available Thursday to the Los Angeles Times, were obtained by James Reston Jr., a writer, through a Freedom of information Act request.

Isolated Environment

Recorded by the cult leader and his followers during the 18 months before more than 900 persons died at the jungle camp, the tapes demonstrate what Mr. Reston calls "the slavery of the followers and the power and sacrilege of Jim Jones."

The tapes include "sermons" by Jones and show his powerful and increasing psychological control of the community in an environment isolated from outside reality.

At a "white night" ceremony, Jones asks whether his followers would kill and die for him. A man who says he is a Vietnam veteran replies: "From now on I'm living my life on your time. I will face the front line with the right now, dad ... I would die for you. Thank you, dad."

A young child declares: "I'm prepared to die for this family if I have to die for freedom. Thank you,

But one man hedges on whether he would sacri-fice his daughter if the colony were invaded by outsiders. Asked what he would do if "fascists were coming up the road right now," he tells Jones: "I'd have to take her life, if it came to that."

Jones, learning that the girl is 11 years old, says that she is old enough to light: "She'd take up a cutlass and fight 'til she was dead," he says, adding, "unless it came to an overwhelming invasion. Then we would gently put them to sleep ... we are already prepared for that."

tions carried out following the visit of Rep. Leo Ryan, Democrat of California, and reporters. Rep. Ryan and several others in his party were killed or ounded by Jonestown militants in an ambush at a jungle airstrip.

هكذا من الأصل

The tapes reveal that, at first, Jones had promised to permit members of the colony to leave for visits to the United States. Later, however, he

"When a parent is quoted as threatening to "li-berate" his son from the jungle camp by using mer-cenaries, Jones stirs a new round of hysteria and establishes stronger, more visible security forces.

"What do you think should be done with your What do you think should be done with your relative?" Jones asks the young boy whose parent has provoked fear of invasion.

"Mr. Tupper should die," the youth responds. "I should take a knife and cut Mr. Tupper all up real good and put poison in him and invite all my relatives over and have them eat him." There is applause on the tape and a lengthy burst of laughter by Jones. As others go to the microphones to testify of their love for Jones and for Socialism, the onetime San Francisco political and religious leader says that he is unique in fearlessness, mercy and cour-

Dissent, stirred by an "intellectual" in the colony, is silenced, according to a portion of one tape, when Jones sends him to the "psychological department." Later, the troublemaker sounds drugged, confused and contrite. He mumbles "Thank you, father," after Jones tells him: "You won't be very well for awhile ... I have to exert my power with a sense of justice and will because you have stepped too far ... I hope you will learn."

Mr. Reston, using the tapes, wrote a 90-minute documentary for National Public Radio, titled "Father Cares: The Last of Jonustown," and a forth-coming book, "Our Father Who Art in Hell." The radio program will be aired next Thursday.

Mr. Reston secured the tapes from the FBI after a year of legal battles. He said he listened to the recordings "spellbound for nearly two months."

Award for Falsified Story Puts Focus on Standards

(Continued from Page 1)

know the source, then he is exercising his responsibility," Mr. Rosen-

The editors interviewed acknowledged that they gave substantial leeway to columnists, many of whom for stylistic reasons mix fact with commentary in a blend they say their readers recognize as something other than straight reporting.

Moral Obligation

Many reporters said they had disclosed sources to editors who had asked because they trusted that the editor felt the same moral obligation not to publish the names. "I would go and tell the highest-ranking editor who needed to know," said Anthony Marro, Washington bureau chief for

At virtually every American daily newspaper, a story is not pub-lished until after it has been scrutinized by a number of editors — as many as half a dozen at a larger paper, one or two at a smaller one. Any of them can raise questions about the facts presented, but generally, editors say they rely on their experience to judge whether a story rings true.

They say they look for little,

Take 5 Beers.

Then Call Me

In the Morning

KINGSTON, R.I. - The old excuse about drinking for medicinal purposes" now may be used as a reason by some middle-aged men, if the results of a new study are to be be-

Middle-aged men who drink the equivalent of up to five beers a day have fewer mutri-tional inadequacies than their tectotaling counterparts, the University of Rhode Island study concluded. The study was initiated to learn more about the eating and drinking habits of middle-aged men, and the causes of overweight in the age

The study suggests that the consumption of alcoholic beverages may supply some necessary nutrients — niacin, riboflavin and phosphorus - that are missing in nondrinkers

diets. Other studies have indicated that a moderate amount of alcohol guards against coro-nary heart disease. The reasons for midriff bulge among the 61 men — whose average age was 48 — were not too mysterious: a less active pace during middle age added to the men's waistlines. Drinkers, however, were found to be just as prone to a thick middle

United Press Internat

concrete details and anecdotes that they find convincing. Even when they are in doubt, they say, they only want enough confidential information to satisfy themselves that the story is true. In some cas-es, a second reporter may be assigned to check on the first report-er's work.

Most editors said that on stories of equal sensitivity, they would question a new reporter, like Miss Cooke - who came to The Post in 1979 after working as a reporter in Toledo, Ohio — much more in-tensely than they would a veteran reporter, with a proven record of accuracy. But they acknowledged that the veterans could go wrong, too, even when no anonymous source was involved.

New Reporter

Everyone interviewed recalled at least one instance of a "harmless" fabricated story — a big break in a crime investigation, Mafia plans, the veteran who sold his Purple Heart, the bugging device in the martini olive — that never was exposed. But Michael J. O'Neill, the editor of the New York Daily News, said these stories did not have the effect of more serious fabrications, such as falsified scien-

By Spencer Rich

Washingson Post Service

WASHINGTON — The nomination of Warren S. Richardson as assistant secretary of health and human services appears in jeop-ardy because of allegations of anti-

Richardson denied charges, but a spokesman said that the department was looking into them and would decide whether to

The allegations were made by

Rep. Samuel Gejdenson, a Democrat from Connecticut, who cited a May 18, 1971, article by Mr. Rich-ardson in The New York Times and Mr. Richardson's four-year

B'nai B'rith Official

responsibility and fiscal responsi-

Nathan Perlmutter, national di-rector of the Anti-Defamation

League of B'nai B'rith, said in New York that his organization op-posed the nomination because it believed that the Liberty Lobby had been anti-Semitic and anti-black for the past 20 years - in-

Mr. Perlmutter said that the Anti-Defamation League had raised objections to the nomination with David Newhall, the key personnel adviser to the secretary of health and human services

Richard S. Schweiker, and also withdraw the nomination.

ganization.

Benjamin C. Bradlee

But having a fabricated story appear on the front page of The Post and win the most respected prize in journalism is "degrading to the whole industry," Mr. Woes-tendiek said. He and others said that because of its Watergate investigation. The Post was one of the few papers journalists read regularly and whose initiatives others

The journalists insisted, howevthat the basic system of trust between reporter and editor would have to continue because there was no other way to work.

"I am not now nor have I been anti-Semitic. I am deeply concerned and upset over these allegations and will do everything I can

Mr. Newhall, in a separate state-ment, said that Mr. Richardson had told him that "he did not au-that has been cited ... that it was added [by someone else] to his essay before submission to The New York Times and that he was una-

Mr. Newhall said, however, that regard to objections to Mr.

ware of this until publication."

to prove they are untrue."

Choice as Schweiker Aide

Probed for Anti-Semitism

Post Entry, Members Say

WASHINGTON - There was strong initial opposition inside the Pulitzer Prize Board when a Washington Post entry for the prestigious journalism award, a story about an 8-year-old heroin addict named Jimmy, was first consid-ered, according to several members

But the criticism evaporated and the Post story was given the prize when Roger W. Wilkins, a member of the board, declared that he could easily find child addicts within 10 blocks of Columbia University in New York, where the board met last April 3. Mr. Wilkins is associate editor of The

she had fabricated the story.

"I expressed my opinion that I would not have assigned a reporter to cover a life-and-death story with the precondition she accepted namely, to refuse to give informa-tion that might save the life of the child," Mr. Patterson said Thursday. "I suggested it [the story] was an aberration and had no social consequence." When the voting came, Mr. Patterson said, he abstained because "I was beaten."

Under the rules of the Pulitzer Prizes, panels of jurors submit their choices to the board, which has the power to overrule them. In fact, Miss Cooke's piece was the second choice of the general local reporting panel. When the board discussed entries in the local reporting category, several board members said that the Cooke story really belonged in the feature writing category. And after some dis-

Judith Crist, a film critic who was the chairman of the Pulitzer feature writing jury, said Thursday that jurors on her panel never had a chance to examine Miss Cooke's entry, even though it was later given the feature-writing prize.

Miss Crist, a contributing editor of the Saturday Review and TV Guide, called the board's decision to ignore her panel's choices and to substitute its own winner "outrageous and a slap in our faces ... it's an insult. It was unjust of the Pulitzer Board Opposed board to ignore the recommenda-tions of the jury." The practice of the Pulitzer Prize

Board of changing the selections of category juries was defended Thursday by Osborn Elliott, dean of the Columbia University Grad-uate School of Journalism and a member of the board. He said the board "has the right to juggle things around a bit."

to its readers, has launched a full investigation by its ombudsman,

Bill Green, into the circumstances surrounding the preparation and

Vatican Says Prague

Is Harassing Priests

United Press International

tions against clergymen in Czechoslovakia have become more vigor-ous in recent years. Vatican radio says, quoting a report by the Rev. Giovanni Rulli, a Jesuit priest.

lic clergy have taken on new vigor and have been punctiliously applied," Father Rulli was quoted

Thursday as saying.

"The actions against the Catho-

VATICAN CITY — Official ac-publication of the article.

The Post, which has apologized of the board,

Washington Star.

During the board's delibera-tions, Eugene C. Patterson, editor and president of the St. Petersburg Times, voiced strong reservations about the entry of reporter Janet Cooke, who resigned Wednesday from The Post after admitting that

Mr. Wilkins could not be reached for comment.

Second Choice

cussion, it was switched.

PUT YOUR TRUST IN A DIAMOND appreciated in value tremendously during the past years with constant increase in value. IDS at the diamond center of the world is the leading direct source diamond company offering fine qua-lify diamonds and jewelry for in-vestment, gifts and personal use at exceptionally good prices. All diamonds guaranteed by Certificate. Contact us for free booklet - Practical Guide for Diamond investments or visit us and see the world of diamonds. International Diamond Sales Head office: 50-52, Hoveniersstraat 2000 Aniwerp, Belgium Tel. 031-31 77 64, Telex 35395 indisa-b LONDON: Inn on the Park Hamilton Place - Park Lane London W1 - Tel. 01-409 1844

For those who appreciate the difference. In Los Angeles a grand-luxe hotel that provides superior service and facilities for Beverly Wilshire Hotel Telex: 698-220. Telephone: 213-275-4282.

Represented by HRI The Leading Hotels of the World® Member of The Preferred Hotels Association

rty Study Supports acks, Stockman Says

Lee Lescaze

JTON — The Reagan on has replied to a ng that 20 million to secole, most of them the poverty line, rt by its spending cuting that the study has terpreted and really cologists o Remove or Chief

NCISCO -- The Sierenvironmental group, nillion signatures on a the removal of James ecretary of the interi-on charges that Mr. resenting private ecosts rather than followand is "sabotaging goals supported by onty of the American isks members of Con-Mr. Watt's removal lying his policies.

ing to provide a way ged public to express e federal officials closnamely their repre-Congress," said Miskey, executive direc-tra Club.

loskey said that Mr. ed to be removed bes ended parkland acsened marine wildlife to offshore drilling, aded reviews of lands iered for designation areas, among other s office responded that strongly believes he is tream of the environ-

JTON - Rudolf E

6, a retired U.S. For-officer who had served or to Guatemala and died Wednesday in

mield retired in 1955

for a year as ambassaibia. He was ambassa-ed been the first U.S.

temala from 1950 to

Romania after World

ng there from 1947 to the war, when he was

y to the U.S. Embassy

Mr. Schoenfeld was

o work with the war-

nments of Belgium,

akia, Greece, the Norway, Poland and

He had arterios-

shows that the "truly needy" would not be hurt by the plan.

David A. Stockman, director of the Office of Management and Budget, said Thursday the study, by the Congressional Budget Office, is welcome because it shows that most low-income families loss of spendable income.

Mr. Stockman said that "if you want to analyze [the study] fairly and objectively," what should be stressed is that of the 16.5 million people living with an annual in-come of less than 150 percent of the poverty line — $8,410 for a family of four — 15 percent would gain under the Reagan program, 34 percent would have no change in spendable income, and 47 percent would suffer a loss of between 1 percent and 5 percent of their spendable income.

He was asked whether a cut of 5 percent would not be painful for a family living at the poverty level.
"I don't think so," Mr. Stock-

Article of Faith

The budget director added that the congressional study did not take into account what has become an important article of faith for administration officials: that the president's economic program of spending and tax cuts, if approved would lower inflation, bring down interest rates and stimulate growth and employment so that its bene fits to the poor would "vastly outweigh" its cuts.

On the other hand, Mr. Stockman did not take into account the congressional report's statement that its figures considerably understated the real impact of the spending cuts because it measured only about a third of them.

The impact of $5.3 billion in fiscal 1982 cuts in welfare, public-service job and food programs was measured, but the effect of $10.1 billion in cuts, including Social Security, Medicaid and unemployment insurance, could not be cal-

as the nondrinkers.

nounced appearance in the White congressional report.

On another subject, he said he expects that the Senate Budget Committee will give its approval

culated because of a lack of data, the report said. Mr. Stockman made an unan

House press room to give the administration's interpretation of the

with the White House. Rep. Gejdenson, in denouncing the choice of Mr. Richardson, who has not been formally nominated but who has been designated as the quickly to the Reagan budget plans when the Senate returns from its Easter recess. assistant secretary for legislation, said that a sentence in a New York Times article by Mr. Richardson opposing U.S intervention in the press' in America.'

In a statement issued through the Health and Human Services Department, Mr. Richardson said:

Tass Assails Efforts Of Dissident's Wife

The Associated Press

MOSCOW — Tass said Friday that the wife of imprisoned dissident Anatoli B. Shcharansky is a "soccialist" in anti-Soviet rhetoric. and demanded to know why she was received this week by French Foreign Minister Jean Francois-Poncet and other officials. Mrs. Shcharansky reported after her meeting Tuesday with Mr. Francois-Poncet that he had promised to intervene with Soviet authorities in Mr. Shcharansky's case. The 32-year-old Jewish activist was refused permission to emigrate, accused of spying for the United States and sentenced in 1978 to 13 years' imprisonment.

Richardson's nomination from the Anti-Defamation League and the American Jewish Committee, Mr. Schweiker "has the highest respect for these organizations, having stint (1969 to 1973) as general counsel of the Liberty Lobby orworked with them in the past."

Mr. Newhall added: "I have initiated a thorough and prompt re-view of the Warren Richardson The Liberty Lobby has described itself as a political and lobbying organization that is "pro-American and anti-Communist," and dedicated to "constitutional

U.S. Vietnamese Seek Aid, Cite Ku Klux Klan Threats

The Associated Press HOUSTON — Vietnamese fishermen have asked a federal judge for protection against "in-timidation, harassment, threats, violence and other illegal actions" cluding the period during which Mr. Richardson served there. by the Ku Klux Klan in a dispute over fishing rights in nearby

Galveston Bay. A Klan spokesman said he wel-comed the suit, which was filed want to obey the local laws. Thursday.

Galt of Houston. "It shows we're an effective organization in the

Two Vietnamese boats have been burned in recent weeks, and Klansmen have held rallies, burned crosses and mock boats, and ridden "patrol boats" in the bay carrying guns and wearing Mideast read: "Liberty Lobby will

Shrimp Season The lawsuit asks that federal deputies patrol the bay and that the Coast Guard be alerted to assist them if necessary, It seeks temporary and permanent injunctions against the Klan and the abrook-Kemah Fishermen's Co-

The Vietnamese say they fear what might happen to them if they remain after May 15. That is the date the shrimp season opens — and the date the Vietnamese say the Klan has set as a deadline for them to get out of the area. The class action suit was filed by the Vietnamese Fishermen's Asso-ciation, which represents 58 fisher-men owning 51 boats in the Galveston Bay area. They are among about 2,500 Vietnamese who settled on the Texas coast after the fall of Saigon in 1975.

Resettlement agencies placed the refugees along the coast on the theory that its warm climate and fishing opportunites would be familiar to them. But instead of a peaceful coexistence, there have been clashes and tension between the natives and the refugees for the past two years. Native fishermen claim the Vietnamese overcrowd prime shrimping waters, violate game laws and threaten to wipe out certain shrimping areas by taking too many. The Vietnamese say they

"We really consider it sort of a compliment," said the spokesman, who identified himself as John Cinon Non Title Given New Title

United Press International
PORT-AU-PRINCE Haiti The Haitian Parliament has taken the title of first lady of the republic away from President Jean-Claude Duvalier's mother and given it to his wife. Michele.

The National Assembly gave

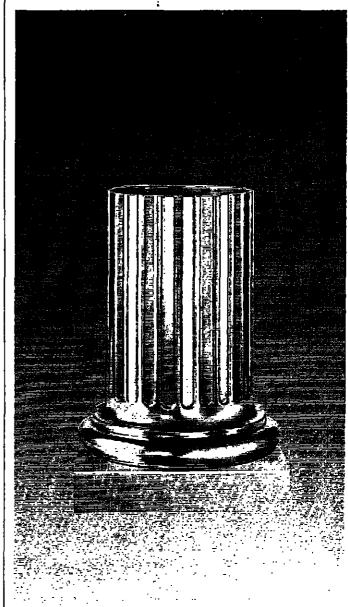

Mrs. Simone Duvalier, widow of the late Francois "Papa Doc" Duvalier, the new title of "guardian of the revolution. Parliament is usually a rubber stamp for the administration but the motion on the change in titles provoked some dissent before it passed. Since Mr. Duvalier's marriage last year, there have been signs of a power struggle in the National Palace between younger people around the president and old-guard supporters of his mother and the late dictator.

NEW YORK'S

HOTEL GARLYLE

MADISON AVENUE AT 76TH ST., NEW YORK 10021 CABLE: THECARLYLE NEWYORK YELEX: 620692

BVLGARI

ROMA - 10 VIA DEI CONDOTTI NEW YORK HOTEL PIERRE GENÈVE 86 RUE DU RHÔNE MONTE CARLOS AVENUE DES BEAUX-ARTS PARIS HOTEL PLAZA-ATHENEE

is they took refuge in n C. Coleman RK (NYT) - Sylvan 75, former chairman of E.F. Hutton & Co., died Wednesday.

He began his career with E.F. Hutton, stockbrokers and investment bankers, after receiving a master's degree from the Harvard School of Business in 1928. He was named a general partner in 1938 and a senior partner in 1961. When the company was incorporated in 1962, Mr. Coleman was named chairman of the board and chief executive officer. He retired as chairman in 1970.

OBITUARIES

William Henry Vanderbilt

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP)

William Henry Vanderbilt, 79, a former governor of Rhode Island and a great-great-grandson of Cor-nelius Vanderbilt, the railroad tycoon, died at his farm here Thesday of lung cancer.

olf Schoenfeld, U.S. Diplomat, Dies not tag along with the cowards who would rather countenance another national disaster than brave the screams of the pro-Zionist free Mr. Vanderbilt, a Republican, was elected governor of Rhode Island in 1938 but was defeated in a re-election bid in 1940. He moved to Williamstown in the 1950s. In the last few years of his life, he bought a grocery store and service station and often worked there pumping gas.

Paul Barnes

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Paul Barnes, 80, whose diary supplied valuable information about the valuable information about the world of jazz misic during the 1930s, did Monday. Mr. Barnes played the saxophone and clarinet with several jazz bands, including those of Louis Armstrong and King Oliver.

Nortis G. Davis AUSTIN, Texas (UPI) Norris G. Davis, 65, the chairman of the University of Texas journalism department for 11 years, dur-ing which it became the largest in the United States, died Wednesday printed Janet Cooke's false account of a meeting with an 8-year-old heroin addict called "Jimmy" and his family, was itself the victim of a hoax - which we then passed along in a prominent Page 1 story, taking in the readers as we ourselves had been taken in. How could this have happened? What does it say or imply, if it says or implies anything at all, about the reliability of other stories? An embezzled bank may point out that the crime was an aberration, that other accounts remain safe and sound. But it will immediately examine its system of internal controls to see how such a thing could have been allowed to happen.

Herald-Tribune

Page 4 Saturday-Sunday, April 18-19, 1981

A Threat to Credibility The End of the 'Jimmy' Story

So, too, will we. In some way, it is already plain, the sheer magnitude and breathtaking gall of the deception - its size - made it harder to detect. Reporters are often challenged by their editors, grilled on elements of a story or on their construction of some event. And, paradoxically, it is more probable that you will be able to catch and correct less ambitious distortions or errors than the massive falsehood that underlay the "Jimmy" story. For the rock-bottom element of trust and the assumption of good faith that must exist in any professional relationship diminish the chances that you will spot a huge scam right away. You just do not read a many-paged memorandum from an apparently reliable reporter, relating her visit to and prolonged conversation with several people in great detail, and then inquire: "Say, did any of this actually happen?" Like some giant weapons system that can come in under the radar, Janet Cooke's invention cluded detection by the normal protective procedures and techniques that are designed to catch far less spectacular but more commonplace slides and lapses.

In fact, it will be an error and a shame if serious students and critics of the press take the "Jimmy" episode as the model of what's wrong with us or as evidence that stories are largely fabrications. The fact is that the shortcomings we in this business are continu-

We apologize. The Washington Post, which ally fighting against, the shortcomings that can threaten our prized credibility and that we recognize in all their danger are far more subtle and insidious than some out-and-out made-up story.

It will also be a mistake if the disproof of the fictional "Jimmy" is taken as disproof of the existence of a hard drug problem being spread to and imposed upon very young children. And it will be another if it is used to try to discredit the various First Amendment protections that were activated and called into service when the conflict sharpened between the paper and the authorities on the question of identification of sources and the rest. Those protections and the constitutional values they embody and reflect were abused by Miss Cooke in the reporting and aftermath of her story, but they are no less vital today than they were before for that.

In truth, just as readers may feel maltreated by publication of the "Jimmy" tale and all the subsequent hullabaloo it created, so we at this newspaper feel at once angry, chagrined, misused ourselves, determined to continue the kind of aggressive reporting Miss Cooke's story only purported to be and determined also to maintain and honor the highest standards of straight and fair reporting. We feel, as well, something else: enormous sorrow for the burden this young woman created for herself and deep hope that she will find her way out of trouble.

All this is an analysis, not an excuse. It seems to all of us around this newspaper that warning bells of some kind should have sounded, that procedures should exist, if they don't now, for smoking out a weird and atypical hoax of this kind. You may be plenty sure that there will be lots of self-examination, that the episode will be written about and explained in The Washington Post and that more of the skepticism and heat that our colleagues traditionally bring to bear on the outside world will now be trained on our own interior workings. One of these episodes is one too many.

THE WASHINGTON POST.

The Pulitzer Lie

When a reputable newspaper lies, it poisons the community. Every other newspaper story becomes suspect. Anyone stung by a newspaper story feels emboldened to call it a lie. Facts are not only impugned but made impotent. And the tense constitutional debate about whether a newspaper must reveal its sources is irresponsibly polluted. The lie - the fabricated event, the madeup quote, the fictitious source - is the nightmare of any respected newsroom. It is intolerable not only because it discredits publications but because it debases communication, and democracy. We do not know what possessed Janet Cooke to invent an interview with an imaginary 8-year-old drug addict, "Jimmy," who aspired to grow up to be a heroin pusher in the nation's capital. Nor do we know why The Washington Post was so quick to claim the protection of the First Amendment when city authorities sought help in locating children so obviously needing help. We do not know why this contested tale was then pushed for journalism's highest honor, or why the Pulitzer Prize judges jumped the entry from one category to another to bestow the award.

We do know that the apologies and embarrassments all around can be only the first steps toward reaffirming a public trust. Miss Cooke was finally and brutally correct in addressing her apology to "my newspaper, my profession, the Pulitzer board and all seekers of the truth." And The Post was right in stating that "warning bells of some kind should have sounded, that procedures should exist ... for smoking out a weird and atypical hoax of this kind.

As residents of the same glass house, we are well aware of a newspaper's vulnerability to error and deception. The Post's examination of its procedures will instruct us all.

But it seems clear even now that one critical failure occurred the moment Miss Cooke refused to document her story for her editors. For there was an alarm in this case, a great commotion in fact from a startled police force and City Hall. And they were turned away by the newspaper because the reporter allegedly risked death if she revealed her sources and subject. Other reporters have gone to jail to protect confidential informants, and editors and publishers stand prepared to join them. But society will revoke the privilege of confidentiality if it is casually entrusted to individual reporters.

Great publications magnify beyond measure the voice of any single writer. Thus, when their editors and publishers want or need to know a source for what they print, they have to know it - and be able to assure the community or the courts that they do. Where this is not now the rule, let this sad affair at least have the good effect of making

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Police Work for El Salvador

A beam of light is finally falling on the terror and lawlessness that darken El Salvador. Effective police work has led to the arrest of two suspects in the January murder of Jose Rodolfo Viera, the director of the nation's land reform institute, and two U.S. labor advisers, Michael Hammer and Mark Pearl-

The arrest, however, only adds a new point to the question of why progress has been so slow on a whole list of comparable killings in El Salvador. Except for the prominence of the victims, the deaths of Michael Hammer and Mark Pearlman were grimly typical of thousands attributed to right-wing "death squads."

Of the 8,000 people slain in 1980, many were undoubtedly victims of left-wing guerrillas. But most of the slaughter is credibly attributed to government security forces and the "death squads." which the ruling junta has been unable or unwilling to control. A year after the murder of Archbishop Oscar Romero, that case remains unsolved. So does the ambush killing of six leaders of the umbrella opposition front. Nor have there been any arrests in the murder last December of three American nuns and a lay missionary.

U.S. concern should go beyond the Salvadorans' inattention to outrage, or the fact that this violence betrays whatever chance there is for the survival of the U.S.-backed junta. Four months ago, the outgoing U.S. ambassador to El Salvador supplied Washington with a list of wealthy Salvadoran exiles in Florida who are believed to be bankrolling the death squads. The arrest of one of the murder suspects in Miami raises anew the question whether some of these killings are being planned and financed on United

A full-scale inquiry is surely in order to determine whether the laws of asylum are being flouted. The Reagan administration would enhance not only the national interest but also national honor if it moved evenhandedly against terrorists of the right and THE NEW YORK TIMES.

In the International Edition

Seventy-Five Years Ago April 18, 1906

SAN FRANCISCO - An earthquake disaster. the proportions of which are still unknown, befell San Francisco today, when, at about 5 a.m., the city was shaken by tremendous convulsions. The first slight tremors were enough to send the frightened populace into the streets half-clad, and then came a shock that toppled buildings over in the business district, hurled scores of brick tenements to the ground and sank some streets from four to 10 feet. The waters from the bay rushed in like a tidal wave, snatching hapless victims as it receded, and then came fire, blazing up among the ruins in the lower part of the city, fed by leaking gas mains. Four hundred bodies have already been found.

Fifty Years Ago April 18, 1931

PARIS - Today's editorial in the Herald reads: "Why silver has become so much cheaper, declining very rapidly in recent months, is a question occupying the minds of many financiers and economists. There has been tense propaganda in the interests of the producers of silver. The average mind has become somewhat confused over the controversy on the causes and possible cure of the depreciation of this metal. In fact, it is a process that has extended already over something like four centuries. The elder generation of U.S. voters still remember the struggle for and against the double monetary standard in the United States. The importance of the fall of silver has been greatly exaggerated."

Shostakovich Evens the Score

By Leopold Unger

never declared that the book was a forgery.

His escape to the West makes

Further, the conductor's flight end of the leading Soviet musical dynasty. It is an indictment of the intolerable conditions in which Soviet artists are forced to live and

And it was with the aim of getting away from this difficult situa-tion that first-rate musicians such as Mstislav Rostropovich and Rudolf Barchai left the Soviet Union.

Many other virtuosos, from Vladimir Ashkenazy in 1963 to Gideon

est creators or interpreters. The situation is similar in other Eastern

The Elite

titional value to any defection.

"If they want to prevent artists chose to remain in the United States. Since that solution

appeared a little extreme, Moscow preferred - in 1979, a vintage year for defections - to simply cancel

the U.S. tour of the Soviet Philhar monic Orchestra as well as that of the Sovremiennik Theater in Sweden after Western impresarios refused to guarantee that there would be no defections.

"How long will the people of the Soviet Union be able to continue living like this." Mr. Rostropovich has asked. Now director of the Washington Philharmonic Orchestra, he just learned that his only sister, Veronica, a violinist in the

Moscow Philharmonic Orchestra

ance with the Soviet Union his hostile aggressive stance toward the pro-Western Arab states, his unabashed support for the leftist terrorists in El Salvador and the blatant usurpation of Chad. This long record of misconduct leaves no doubt that this man is little more than an international thug

with nothing but the deepest con-tempt for good order and peace. THERON W. PARKER.

"Voting with your feet," or emi-ist community."

BRUSSELS — The saga has ended and the legend has withered away. The story of the most prestigious Soviet dynasty of his point of view very clear: The son is now beginning to write the sequel to his father's memoirs. music and the arts has come to an abrupt stop. s Maxim Shostakovich, 42, one of the most popular contemporary to the West means more than the orchestra conductors and his son, Dmitri, 19, a piano virtuoso, de-fected to the West during a concert tour in West Germany. Maxim is the son and Dmitri is the grandson of Dmitri Shostakovich, the great this frightening and the Soviet composer, and one of the where hypocrisy is a necessary element of life, even at the highest

The Shostakoviches are reported under way to the United States, where they will enter as political refugees.

The West was impressed by the decision of the two men, but musical and political circles in Moscow were profoundly shocked. The effects of this shock will long be felt and in many ways.

Debate Closed

Maxim Shostakovich's flight to the West closes the debate regard-ing the authenticity of his father's memoirs, one of the more heartrending indictments ever written against the Soviet Union

The composer, who died in 1975, was always presented by the Kremlin as a musical giant which he was - and the best example of an engage artist, con-vinced that political ideology and propaganda must always come before art. Dmitri Shostakovich only appeared to be convinced of that. The composer held every honor and enjoyed every privilege that an artist can hope for in the Soviet Union ... to compensate for his servility. When in the West, he was one of the most obedient emissaries of the Kremlin and the most satisfying alibi that Western apologists of Moscow could find whenever the suggestion was made that Soviet artists were not free. Dmitri Shostakovich's "Testimony" was taped secretly in Moscow by musicologist Salomon Vol-kov, who fied to the West in 1976, where he published the composer's memoirs in 1979.

Led Two Lines

The book had the effect of erasing all the accumulated official nes concerning Mr. Shostakovich. In it, the composer tells how the regime forced him to abandon own personality, how he was victim of intimidation, comprion, denunciation and how he was forced to lead a double life of mystification and frustration. The memoirs created a wave of shock and indignation in the Kremlin. The official Literary Ga-zette called the book a forgery and said that Mr. Volkov was "a louse on the body of Shostakovich." Then the authorities tried, in vain, to get the composer's son, Maxim, to condemn the book. He did, however, express some criticism concerning the way his fa-ther's testimony had been obtained and added that his father played no role in the production of the book. Under the circumstances at the time, it was the least he could do. Maxim Shostakovich, however,

Foe of Qadhafi

William Safire's "Oadhafi in Chad" (IHT, March 6) was an interesting and enlightening forewarning of the possible dan-gers the Libyan despot could likely present in the near future.

To be sure Moamer Qadhafi has already fomented sedition in and division among the Western nations. His efforts to destabilize

Britain and Italy stand out as an excellent example. Neither should

– Letters

ister of culture himself, Vassili Kukharski, who told me that I could no longer leave he Soviet Union because I am the sister of Mstislav."

The situation is best summed up in Estimation is oat stimuted by in Eastern Europe through what is now an old joke: "Question: What is a Soviet quartet? Answer: It is the Moscow Philharmonic Orchestra after a tour in the West."

All this, and the posthumous testimony of Dmitri Shostakovitch, are clear evidence of the price that Soviet artists must pay to go on living in their country. The composer's son refused to pay that price and chose to spare his son from one day having to pay it.

The great composer Dmitri Shostakovich died a slave. His testimony rendered him some of the freedom he sought, but only after his death. His son and grandson chose to be free while still alive. 0/98/, International Herald Tribane.

Kramer in 1981 also preferred to breathe free beyond the borders of this strange world, as did writers such as Andrei Siniavski and Vassili Axionov and literary giants like Alexander Solzhenitsyn and Alexander Zinoviev, who were forced to go to the West.

This one-way hemorrhage has emptied Soviet culture of its great-

European countries, such as Czechoslovakia, which has earned the name of "intellectual Biafra." There are no normal ways to escape the Soviet Union. The na-tion's frontiers are among the best guarded in the world. Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger's recent denunciation of the "prison wall of Berlin got an immediate reply from Tass, which said that the wall was a "symbol of the peaceful labors of the entire socialgration — a slogan invented by Lenin — can be achieved, therefore, only during an official mis-sion in the West. But the only Soviet citizens allowed to travel in the West are members of the elite, those who enjoy a maximum of privileges at home, thus adding ad-

from escaping, they would have to carry us in cages," ballet dancer Leonid Kozlov declared when he in certain circumstances.

Reagan will not, as one senator put it, "cut our legs off." Equally important is the bill itself, since put it, "cut our legs off." Equally many Americans regard as the important is the bill itself, since constitutional right to bear arms. nothing that can be construed as a Nor would it interfere with any general attack on gun ownership, sporting practices, or prevent any-or even as a "toot in the door" one save criminals and disturbed toward that purpose, would have a persons from buying a handgun has not been allowed to go to Britain with her group.

According to Mr. Rostropovich's sister, "It is the deputy min-

The Namibian Tes For U.S. Diploma

By Flora Lewis

A BIDJAN, Ivory Coast — The impression has spread around black Africa, prematurely, that the Reagan administration has tilted the United States toward indulgence of South Africa's status quo demands, both on its own territory and for continued control of

It was the prime concern when a group of government and press of-ficials here met to discuss their views with me, and it comes up constantly in conversations. No doubt, there are active Soviet sup-porters around the continent seeking to spread this view.

But it is a clear example of how foolish it is to attribute troubles of the United States everywhere to Communist machinations. People who aren't paying much attention to the situation in Poland or Asia are very well informed from Washington on statements by the Reagan team, both before and after the inauguration, which suggest the United States is in fact backing away from the United Nations' plan for Namibia and has become friendlier to South Africa.

Out of Power

They remember that it was the iney remember that it was the same segment of American opinion, then out of power, which argued two years ago for support of a white-imposed Rhodesian settlement with Bishop Muzorewa as the token of black participation. These Republicans were against the negotiations that led to black majority rule.

majority rule.

Now, Rhodesia has become Zimbabwe, with its own troubles, but almost miraculously without spreading Soviet involvement. On the contrary, negotiated independence and predominantly black gov-erument have served to block Moscow's ambitions in Zimbabwe. Of all African countries, the Ivory Coast is one whose leadership is most eager to see the United States rebuff East bloc influence in Africa.

The dispatch of U.S. special forces training teams to neighboring Liberia was welcomed here, even though it's widely known that the gesture can hardly ease the country's travail under an utterly incompetent military regime.

The first requirement for African development in Abidjan's view is stability. It wouldn't have been surprising to hear Portians deplore about might common like and beautiful to the common like what might seem like U.S. en-dorsement of a brutalcoup, provid-ing that the new rulers reject flirtation with pro-Communist regimes. But the reaction here was relief to see the United States accept some responsibility for trying to limit the damage in Liberia. The Ivory Coast is not one of the places where an American hears itrades against U.S. "neo-colonial-

Nonetheless, insistence on genu ine independence for Namibia is beyond question. It is now the test of U.S. intentions in Africa generally, and no amount of revulsion

Africans if the United Str The argument is pracwell as moral and politic doubt Assistant Secretary Chester Crocker has heart and over as he touted the c neighboring Namibia an Africa, and hell probably just as strongly from Europe lies he will consult in Lond SWAPO, the rebel organ based in Angola that is: South African control of ? is indeed supplied with a support by the Russians agreement on internation pervised elections is not out, it will surely get more movement's ties to Mosco increased. Therefore, it is i ican, Western and most . interests to speed a settlen: The magic diplomatic now is that the settlement internationally acceptable Crocker has been advan proposal that negotiations stitutional guarantees for t minority before independs elections would ease accep South Africa and make th

tion smoother. This idea isn't rejectes hand, but in the circumst the current administratic statements, it is meetin deal of skepticism. The k tion is whether it means SWAPO on an equal foo carreat governing parties dhock. Namibia's capit United Nations has alrea-nized SWAPO, and the countries won Tgo oack or U.S. assurance that the States will in no case it previous support for the backed agreement could better hearing for the effection of prior granthe long run, an independent of the long run, and independent of the long run, and independent of the long run. U.S. assurance that the nomic cooperation with S nica, and both SWAPO at boring countries know tha

This awareness is rell the UN special commissio against blanket sanctions Africa, on the crucial grou neighbors too much.

The Key

But U.S. insistence that move quickly after comi tions is seen throughout a the key to a peaceful and tory solution.

It is quite true of ct many South Africans lear ter Namibia the rest of A focus its attention on the apartheid. The questic hether other countries w ate the racist regime, \ much hope can be susta continuing diplomacy and tion versus war. The United States, as w troubled developing nati-quire stability, and U.S. won't be served by enc Pretoria to drag its feet. ... ©1981, The New York To

Reagan's Choice

By Tom Wicker

NEW YORK — Gun control is nedy, Democrat of Massachusetts, probably the most hopeless cause in U.S. politics.

Countering street violence, on the other hand, is a matter of growing concern to millions of liberals and conservatives alike. Just Thursday, Attorney General William French Smith's Task Force on Violent Crime held its first in this apparent contradiction lies a chance — admittedly slim — that President Reagan might make a substantial contribution to the safety of Americans without sacrificing his long-held opposition to ann control.

Nobody should expect Mr. Reagan to reverse that opposition because he has himself become a handgun victim. No doubt his is a sincere view, and neither politically nor personally is he likely to put himself in the position of altering his principles because of his own injury, when he had not done so ise of injuries to others.

But Mr. Reagan's close brush with death, and that of the three others who were wounded by the same gunman, may have made a crucial difference on Capitol Hill. Because that episode was part of a rising toll of handgun violence, some members of Congress who have opposed, and still oppose, "gun control" now say guardedly that they might be willing to sup-port a limited "anti-violence" bill sure being prepared by Rep. Peter ons.

Chief among those circumstances is some assurance that Mr.

W. Rodino Ir., Democrat of New Jersey, and Sen. Edward M. Ken-would permit police to find out if a would provide only for:

• A ban on the manufacture, sale or importation of cheap handgums like that used to shoot Mr. Reagan, often called "Saturday Night Specials."

• A 21-day waiting period before a buyer of another type of handgun could take possession of • A ban on the sale of handguns in pawnshops, and a limit of two or three handguns per buyer per year. Some liberals will argue that this is not enough gun control; the Na-tional Rifle Association no doubt will consider it a "foot in the door" to further legislation. And Con-gress is more likely to vote stiffer penalties for the use of handguns in the commission of a crime -Mr. Reagan's preference in the

But such laws, while they would deter some handgun violence, wouldn't affect crimes of passion or those committed by mentally disturbed persons. They also tend to further overcrowd the nation's already jam-packed prisons, turning them more than ever into "schools" of crime and violen A "Saturday Night Special" hill like that outlined above would limit the easy availability of cheap handguns (John Hinchley Jr. ap-parently was able to buy six such pistols in the recent past) and thus night have substantial effect on violence in the streets - where these weapons are mostly used.

The bill would not attack what hance. for legitimate purposes, or force

Thus, a narrowly focused mea- anyone to register his or her weap-

gan buyer has a record of violence or mental instabi pawashop ban would ii easy turnover of cheap ready in circulation, and merical limit on handgun es sucely should not be a for any law-abiding pers such legislation clearly wo made it more difficult, per possible, for Mr. Hinckley obtained his weapons or made the assault with wit

As governor of Califor Reagan approved a bill posed a waiting period buyer could take possess handgun. What he rega proper for a state law, of he might not be willing to federal law. But at least in ifornia instance he was phi cally able to approve the ant waiting-period provisi-out impairing his overall tion to gun control.

Even the National Rifle ation, if it would, could i son to support a "Saturda Special" bill, Such a would deal with the most complaint of gun-control cates and the weakest par-National Rifle Association fense — the easy availa-cheap handguns. Close the the law and pressures for gun-control measures won be eased for years to come. But the major question. Mr. Reagan, not the NR president views the limite sions of the "Saturday Ni cial" bill as not incompati his basic opposition to a trol, and as useful steps as olent street crime, other trol opponents would be follow his lead. But if he f poses or threatens to veto e probably will kill it. It's his finger, so to s

the trigger. ©1981, The New York Tu

Herald Tribune one overlook his obsequious alli-

John Hay Whitney Chairman

Arthur Ochs Sulzberge Co-Chairmen

international Resuld Tribune, R.A. an empiral de 1,200,000 F. R.C., Partin No. 23 B. 21/2, 1749/RR, 200. Chiefes de Gaulle, 92521, Neullè-sur-Salon, Ted. 247-12465 Teles; 672715 Bissulf, Parle Carbon, Hersell, Parle, Discretion de la publicazion: Wallow N. Theyer, U.S. authorization price 3225 yearly. Socond class possure parle at Long, Salond City, N.Y. 1198 C 1981 International Hersell Televon. All Aging recurried. Commission Parisons N.D. 2121. General Managert, Asia: Alain Lerouz, 24-34 Sempany Read, Renez 1901, Hong Kong, Tel. 5-22 56 1879, Teles: 61170 INTERPLENT

Walter N. Wells Robert K. McCabe

ا حكدا من الأصل

Publisher Lee W. Hinebner Philip M. Foisie Executive Edi: Editor Deputy Edil. Chief Editorial) Associate Pub Director of Fire Director of Circu Director of Adve Richard H. Morgan

muel Beckett in e 'Age of Godot'

Arthur Holmberg

RIDGE, Mass. - Not unduly raed about intelligibility. I want iece to work on the audience's s," replied Samuel Beckett to an Tandy. The actress had cabled from New York shortly before micre of "Not I," expressing her she dashed through the dramat-at the clip the author had indiin the audience would catch the g on audience's nerves is Beck-

o was born near Dublin in 1906. 3 75th birthday on April 13. a Nobel Prize for Literature in n author is generally considered ratest living playwright. remiere of his Watting for Goenovoked an outcry and turned a the history of Western drama. most erudite of all 20th-century elivered the coup de grace to Arisetics, a death blow that became apparent with each subsequent r as a genre will never be the Samuel Beckett lived and wrote, igh current trends in both mainivant-garde drama have moved eckett's model, all living writers normous debt.

*- liot's "The Waste Land," which d the anguish of the lost genera-rid War I, "Waiting for Godof" spirit of its age, an age of existenon and metaphysical gloom he sorrow of World War IL Side two literary landmarks sum up ience in the 20th century, and ain the moral touchstones of our o single works that convey most t means to be alive in our fretful rprisingly, many cultural historithe post-World War II period as > y, against a blasted and desolate vo vaudeville tramps perform a se-hall turns to while away the live-aiting for Godot, whose arrival, e, will justify their lives. But Gomes, and the two tramps begin to own existence. Still, they keep on the in a meaningless cycle of eter-

two clowns, inspired by the great mics, Beckett treated the perfect ucle for phenomenological futility. philosophy of the absurd a human s gave modern drama a whole new shima and the Holocaust.

timately banished from the theater ional supports - plot, character e. Similar to the reductionism of t Expressionist painters, Beckett's non-representational and non-objective. Although the theme of his work never varies — his plays always stare fixedly into the cumpty center of human existence — his command over his technique has through the years become more and more dazzling.

Man alone: Scene from Berlin production of Beckett's "Krapp's Last Tape."

Beckett is a minimalist. He has ruthlessly stripped away all externals from the stage in order to discover drame in the undramatic. He has made his language more and more sparing in order to discover poetry in the prosaic. In terms of economy, the quintessential Beckett play is "Breath," which lasts only a few seconds and consists only of sounds — a single cry and breathing in and out, but structured in such a way as to present an aural metaphor for the brevity of the human life cycle beginning with a puking wail and ending, not with a death rattle but a sigh of relief.

Many critics consider "Not I" the pinnacle of Beckett's technical virtuosity. Only a mouth can be seen clearly on stage with a shadowy figure, dimly perceived, listening to the jabberwocky that spews forth from the chatterbox, who is not so much a person as an autonomous and disembodied voice rising up from the depths of consciousness as it confronts the black void of life.

Language seems to have broken down; and yet it gives the Mouth its only contact with the outside world and with itself. Here Beckett stands revealed as a bridge between Existentialism and Structuralism, between Heidegge and Wittgenstein, Sartre and Levi-Strauss. The Mouth searches for a pure existential I, and yet whatever fragments of her self seem to exist are coded in linguistic systems.

"The mouth," Beckett told Miss Tandy when she was working on the text for the color, movement and sound. Beckett himself has directed many of his plays to great effect, including a recent and memorable "Happy Days" in London with Billie Whitelaw and what some critics consider the definitive "Waiting for Godot" in Berlin. Although Beckett is most widely known for Samuel Beckett, in caricature and in life, the man who captured the spirit of the postwar age.

Herald Tribune

his plays, his career has encompassed virtually all modes of literature: poetry, novels, short stories and critical studies. His most recent novel in French, "Mal Vu, Mal Dit" was published on April 1 by Les Editions de Minuil "Company," which appeared last year, is the author's latest and, for many, his finest novel

A man lying on his back in pitch darkness imagines that he hears a voice talking to him - the company of the title. But by the end, silence conquers all, and the nameless, faceless anti-hero remains as he was in the beginning, as he is and always shall be. Alone. Although the book has the usual dosage of sardonic humor and bitter despair, it strikes a new note of lyricism and tenderness, and in it Beckett gives us a series of vignettes more autobiographical than he has ever granted us before.

But technique alone does not begin to explain the power and fascination Beckett's work exerts. First and foremost, he is a master craftsman of language, a great poet who is able to play tricks with words in a way only Shakespeare. Dickens and Joyce have done

Beckett received a classical education. And it shows in every line he writes: the panoply of thetorical devices lurking beneath the seemingly simple surface of his prose staggers the criti cal imagination. But the secret key to the beauty of Beckett's style is rhythm. The cadences of his sentences are unforgettable. Nowhere is this more apparent than in "Rockaby" (see article at right) which will also be presented at the Festival d'Automne in Paris.

The play is a duet between an old woman and her own voice as she rocks herself to death - a forlorn icon of absolute human isolation. Once again, Beckett juxtaposes images of the womb and the tomb. Instead of waiting for Godot, rocking has now become the central metaphor for human life. The old theme of the existential quest remains, but Beckett's language has never been either more humble or more beautiful. Almost every word is a simple Anglo-Saxon monosyllable, but they create an hallucinatory incantation which is both a lullaby and a dirge.

"Performing Beckett," remarked Estelle Parsons, the Academy Award-winning American actress, "was one of the great joys of my pro-fessional life. Along with Shakespeare, he pre-sents an actor with all possible difficulties and all possible rewards."

Winnie in "Happy Days" keeps mumbling to herself half-forgotten lines of great poetry that surface in her mind. She thanks God for the classics because, even in a tattered state, they "help one through the day."

Beckett has become a living classic and has DOFATY MAD 9 ond half of the 20th century. By taking the form of the farce and infusing it with full tragic significance, he has provided the modern world with its only possible catharsis in which humor as well as pity and terror reconcile us to

Debut of Beckett's 'Rockaby'

by John C. Given

UFFALO, New York - When a college professor here began planning a 75th birthday celebration of the work of Samuel Beckett, he wrote the Nobel Prize-winning playwright for suggestions on which work should be featured.

He got a new play. The 15-minute work written just for the occasion was the biggest thing to hit Buffalo's theater district since the days when the Barrymores were a regular attraction.

British actress Billie Whitelaw, a guest artist with London's Royal Shakespeare Company, was the star and only actor in "Rockaby" when it premiered at the Center Theater at the State University of New York at Buffalo (SUNY-Buffalo) on April 8. The audience was sprinkled with critics and Beckett fans from across the country.

"It's like the whole of human life com-pressed into 15 minutes — like putting a bat-deship into a bottle," said Martin Esslen, a Stanford University drama professor who once headed the radio drama section of the British Broadcasting Corp.

"I found it a very full piece," said Mel Gussow, drama critic for The New York Times.
"As far as I'm concerned, it's a very important event - not just because it's Beckett, but because it's interesting."

Miss Whitelaw opened the program by reading "Enough," a short story by the Irish writer. After intermission, "Rockaby" brought Miss Whitelaw center-stage, spotlighted in a rocking chair and dressed in sequins — her "best black dress." Most of the dialogue came from a tape played behind her in the darkness.

Director Alan Schneider, who began his association with Beckett by directing the first American production of "Waiting For Godot" in 1956, calls "Rockaby" a "theatrical poem." Dan Labeille, of the Cayuga Community College drama department, was beaming. La-beille, who met the recluse playwright through Schneider a couple of years ago, started out trying to find a way to incorporate documentary filmmaking into plans of SUNY's Committee on the Aris.

Urged on by Beckett's agent, Labeille wrote and asked the playwright to select one play to be featured and filmed in honor of his 75th birthday on April 13. "Rockaby" arrived in the mail last June.

Cinematographer D.A. Pennebaker, whose "Monterey Pop" was a model for later pop music festival films, recorded the occasion. Beckett remained in Paris, though Miss Whitelaw and Schneider say they consulted him

Miss Whitelaw had an easy explanation for how Buffalo theater-goers lucked out: "As long as it's done well, and the way [Beckett] wants it, I don't think he'd [care] if it were put on in somebody's backyard. © 1981 The Associated Press logue whatsoever. It is a dramatic interplay of re's No Soft-Peddle to Bonn's Spring Bike Campaign

by Helen Lion

1.46

N - A clerk in Cologne has been ig it for 30 years. Allen Greenberg, American diplomat here, discovit only lately — but now does it cretary Yella Puetz indulges four summer and winter. There is a per that I am about to be addicted. hess player Bobby Fischer who ool empty of swimmers when he refer biking on roads clear of cars, rking dogs — and other bicycles.
ies me definitely different. Most rde riders do it in droves - prelowed by friends or family (and/or dog). These balmy weekends, nus of silent cyclists wind their way rany's rivers, flatlands and forests nost religious zeal. And the brave , who ride daily to and from work, rush-hour traffic with the aplomb ah of men and women with equal ats - much to the annoyance of matient automobile driver.

lar has bicycle riding become in hat some 4.5 million "steel horses" n 1980 alone. Already a record 40 his nation of 60 million own bikes. gasoline prices, the most recent tic of which took place this April 1, rubbing their hands, expecting a 50 arease in the bicycle-buying spree) bike salesman claims this spring's already doubled last season's.

aready doubled last season's.

a Britain may not be equally bikee 1979, when 1.5 million bikes were has been a slight decline in sales, to the British Cycling Association, ibutes the drop to the state of the bike riding in France steadily grows
lar: The French Chambre Syndicale
appress that France produced 2.2 mileports that France produced 2.3 miles in 1979 — as opposed to 981,000 he country boasts 17 million bike re than twice as many as in 1960. Cyclist Federation says 1.7 million cyclists there were registered in 1979, an increase of 85,000 over the year before.

The forefather of today's bicycle, the wooden "draisine" had no pedals!

A little more than a year ago, bicycle buffs in Bonn organized themselves into a branch of the national German Bicycle Clubs (ADFC). Members meet to exchange travel tips, pedal in mass outings to nearby sites (or to more distant destinations, with the help of the Ger-man Bundesbahn) or listen to talks on how to fix broken bicycle parts.

Recently, the ADFC called on the citizens of Bonn to switch from cars to bikes this spring. The response was enormous. Young and old hauled out, dusted and saddled their old "Dratesel" (wire donkey). "In this way we can pull a fast one on the oil sheiks, keep our pockets from emptying and our waistlines from spreading, said one spry sportsman.

As for needing more time to get to work —

thus reducing time at home - one two-wheeled commuter claims: "When I ride, I've users had to run with it! already done my sport for the day and when I On Dec. 22, 1813, the Badische Magazin realready done my sport for the day and when I get home, I don't leave my family to play tennis or football."

premiere, "is an organ of emission. Nothing can control what comes out of it. Not your

Beckett's interest in technique has led him to experiment with all forms of dramatic expression. He has written scripts for radio, television and film. He always exploits the specific ple, "Cascando," a radio play, cannot be done

any other way since the nature of the writing depends on the absence of images.

In contrast, a new work written for Stuttgart television (to be aired next June) has no dia-

fully. Fo

mind. Not your heart. Nothing.

"It's like taking a microscope," another commuter said. "From my bicycle vanuage point, I suddenly see things I never saw before. And," he adds, "no parking problems."

After an international cyclist convention in Hamburg last year, a number of municipalities added a bicycle planner to their payrolls. In Bonn, this man is a passionate young cyclist who tests street traffic safety by pedaling along city roads himself. A network of some 60 kilometers of bicycle paths has been hewn out in the capital with more planned. This year alone, 24 kilometers' worth will be built - at a cost of 11 million Deutsche marks.

The Bonn branch of the ADFC has pro posed to a number of institutions, among them the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, to prepare individual bicycle path maps to facilitate decisions by employees to come to work with the silent, muscle-building, fat-reducing, unpolluting (the Germans call it "umweltfreundlich" environment-friendly) vehicle.

Another mass incitement to pedal is a cur-rent six-part, prime-time television series called Tour de Ruhr, in which a sextet of family and friends sets out on a bicycle trip of the Ruhr district to discover sights and, incl dentally, interpersonal entanglements, which otherwise they would not have experienced.

"If not for the invention of the bicycle, we would not have the automobile. Our knowlwould not have the automobile. Our knowledge of the pneumatic principle, steering and ball bearings all derive from it," says Gerd Volke, owner of the largest private collection of historical vehicles in Duesseldorf and coauthor of a definitive history of the bicycle.

Volke's pride and joy is an original "draisine" named for its inventor Baron Carl Friedrich Ludwig Christian Drais von Sauerbronn from the State of Baden. The greatbronn from the State of Baden. The greatgrandfather of today's bicycle, the draisine was dorf, until April 20 and at the Bi made entirely of wood and had no pedals—its the city of Hagen, April 28-June 9.

ported that Baron von Drais had demonstrated his "mechanical wagon" to Czar Alexander I. According to the report, it gave the czar such "pleasure" that he gave the baron a valuable diamond ring. The czar also suggested that Drais show his "wagon without horses" to the delegates at a congress in Vienna.

Many carious folks ogled the wagon in the Austrian capital — but Drais did not sell a single machine. Struck with the disease of many a great inventor — deep disappointment — he returned home to apply for a patent which was promptly refused.

There have been many variations on the draisine; one that moved on ice and snow was invented in 1869 by the American James Bray. Some 15 years later, the Brussels engineer Coorman dreamed up an amphibious 3-wheeler. And there is the 12-seater (six connected tandems) and the "sociable" where friends can sit next to one another, pedaling between two huge wheels and a small front wheel.

A variety of types can be seen currently in a show of historical and modern bicycles enti-tled. "Via Bike into the Future" at Duesseldorf's Volk and Wirtschaft Museum. The exhibition is attracting crowds of adults and chil-dren, who are permitted to make on-the-spot tryouts of the non-historical vehicles. "We get anywhere from 8 to 16 school groups a day, says the museum director.

Chief eye-catchers here are the early folding bikes, huge-wheeled creatures that look like they belong in circus-balancing acts (known as the "kangaroo" in England), tentlike all-weather bikes (safe from rain but susceptible to side winds), the "dernier cri" aluminum bike and, for this Year of the Handicapped, a higyele that is hand-monelled bicycle that is hand-propelled.

"Via Bike into the Future" will be at the Volk und Wirtschaft Museum, Ehrenhof 2, Duessel-dorf, until April 20 and at the Buergerhalle in

Anonymous Eskimo whalebone carvings have faces in ivory, stone and bone.

by Jeffrey Robinson

ROBISHER BAY. Northwest Territories, Canada — It's Toonik Tyme.
That's the Eskimo equivalent of Carnival, a festival where the elders can remind the youngers how rich their heritage is. It all began a few years ago when some peo-ple here became concerned that many young Eskimos didn't know anything about their own culture. Life in the North these days is not what it once was. Teen-agers live in homes, drive cars and snowmobiles. Many of them cannot ice-fish, some of them have never been hunting, and a lot of them couldn't build an igloo to save their lives. So Toonik Tyme is a series of contests, races, ceremonies, parades, a time of igloo building, hunting, fishing — and Canadian Broad-casting Corp. radio lessons on Eskimo legends. There are also banquets, complete with feasis of seal, caribou and walrus. You sit on the floor with your Eskimo hosts and eat the meat which comes raw and frozen like a popsicle.

boiled or grilled. When you politely tell them something like, "delicious," they know damn well you're lying because they have seen non-Eskimos try to eat that stuff before. It takes a lot of getting used to. The village itself is still white with snow and will be for another two months, when the bay will eventually melt and the once-a-year ship will arrive with supplies. It's light now for a large portion of the day, although before 100 long it will be winter again, with as many as 21. hours of daily darkness. Until then, you must walk around wearing sunglasses because the glare is so intense. And everything is frozen, Doors, Cars, Your feet.

In case there is any doubt, Toonik Tyme doesn't get crowds the way Rio does for its Carnival. In fact the moment a new face ap-pears, the CBC broadcasters shove a microphone toward it. Everyone becomes a star immediately. The main tourist rush won't happen until June, when charter flights bring people up for midnight sunbathing. They snap their pictures, buy their souvenirs and get back to Foronto in time for the Sunday doubleheader,

Very few Canadians know that Toonik Tyme exists. Frobisher Bay can't afford a Madison Avenue ad agency to put it on the beautiful people's calendar. Then too, ice fishing is not the world's most exciting spectator sport. Yet everyone here agrees that Toonik Tyme is a success. The Eskimos remind themselves they have reason to be proud.

This year Toonik Tyme happens on Easter weekend. In off-festival hours (the rest of the the year) there isn't much to do. You can hunt around for some fine Eskimo whalebone or antler sculpture. Or you can watch television live from Atlanta, Georgia, which someone has fig-ured out how to steal off a satellite.

There are a couple of hotels, a few restaurants, several clubby bars and a hangout called "T-L" it's the "in" snack bar. It's also the only snack bar. The menu features cheeseburgers, malteds, french fries and ham 'n' eggs. The fibor show is the latest pinball machines. In addition to all of that. "T-I" happens to be best spot perhaps in the entire Northwest Territory to disprove the rumor that it is impossi-

Hoping to bein way.

Hoping to bein alber the deplorable course of English culturary his tory, Malcolan Lamingston, Michael Smith and Martin Lam opened The English House past race years.

ago in an 1850s townhouse they

AUSTRIA

VIENNA. Akademietheater (tel: 5324/2658) — April 20: "Die Schwaermer" (Musil) April 23: "Trip-(Prisch).

ointernational Theatre (tel: 31.62.72)

— April 18, 19 and 23-25: "You're a Good Man. Charlie Brown" (Wilder).

April 20-22: "Our Town" (Wilder).

«Konzerthaus (tel: 72.12.11). Mozart
Sual — April 22: Fortunes Fire Lute Song Ensemble. April 23: Josef Suk violin. Elisabeth Leonskaja piano (Becthoven).

Staatsoper (tel: 5324/2655). Opera -April 18: "Il Trovatore." April 19: "Parsifal," April 20: "Ariadne auf Naxos." April 21: "Die Trojaner in Katha-go." April 23: "The Barber of Seville." April 24: "Der Liebestrank." Ballet — April 25: "Swan Lake"

Belgium

BRUSSELS, Musee Royaux d'Art et d'Histoire (tel: 02/733.96.10) - To May 3: "Japanese enamel work." exhi-•Musee Royaux des Beaux-Arts (tel:

513.96.30) — To May 3: "Felix De Boeck," exhibition. Palais des Beaux-Arts — To May 10:
 Drawings by Austrian Masters, exhi-

GAND. Centrum voor Kunst en Cultu-ur, St-Pietersplein 9 — April 24-May 3: Antiques Fair.

CAMBRIDGE, Firzwilliam Museum -To May 10: "The Third Tolly Cobbold Eastern Arts National Art Exhibition." HARROGATE, To April 22: Interna-tional Youth Music Festival (tel: 486.96.561

LONDON. Aldwych Theatre (tel: 836.64.04) — Royal Shakespeare Company, Includes: April 18: "The Knight of the Burning Pestle" (Beaumont/Fletcher). April 23-May 2: "The Life and Adventures of Nicholas Nickleby" (Dielem). OBattersea Park - April 19: Easter pa-breties.

British Museum (tel: 636.15.55) —
April 18-Sept. 13: "The Gauls: Celtic Antiquities from France." Museum of Mankind (tel: 437.22.24) "Asante, Kingdom of Gold," exhibi-

OF SPECIAL INTEREST

FRANCE

LOURDES. Various venues - To

April 26: Easter Festival (1cl: 62/ 94.15.64), Includes: April 19-20: Rhen-ish-Palatinate State Orchestra, Kurt Redel conductor (April 19: Bach,

music for organ and brass by Gabrieli, Charles Tournemire and Charles Marie Widor, soloists, chorus, brass and tim-

Cathedral of St. John the Divine (tel: 678.68.88) - Misse

Solennelle by Langlais and works by Byrd, Robinson and

Vaughan William's "Gloria,"

"Et Resurrexit" from Bach's B-minor Mass, "Worthy Art Thou" from Brahms's "Requiem" and "Hallelujah" from Handel's "Messiah."

Gibbons.

St. Patrick's Cathedral

EASTER MUSIC IN NEW YORK

"Stabat Mater," excerpts from Handel's "Messiah." Easter Sunday: ·Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Holy Tranity (tel: 887.68.15) — The Res-surection" by Liszt, "Hilar-iter" by Dirksen, works by Ec-card, Brahms and Handel and

The following is a selection of Easter music that can be enjoyed April 18 and 19 in New York

April 18:

•Alice Tully Hall (tel: 362.19.11) — "An Easter Fes-tival": Senfi's "Pange Lingua," Apel's "Victimae Pascali Lauda," "Christ Ist Feetefrom the Glogauer Liederbuch, Suite No. 1 from Schein's "Banchetto Musicale," canzonas by Giovaini. Gabrieli, hymns and suite of dances from "Terpsichore" by Practorius; New York Renais-

St: Patrick's Cathedral (tel: PL3.22.61) — Peloquin's "Gloria of the Bells," "Quando Corpus" from Poulenc's

•Sadler's Wells Theatre (tel: 837.16.72)

To April 25: Tanz-Forum of Cologne Opera.

OVictoria and Albert Museum (tel: 589.63.71) — To July 26: "Spotlight: Four Centuries of Ballet Costume, A Tribute to the Royal Ballet."

ALPBACH EUROPEAN

FORUM 1981

SCIENCE - CULTURE - POLITICS - ECONOMICS

General Topic 1981: STRUCTURES IN TRANSFORMATION

15 study groups and workshops - lectures and discussions - European Symposia: "we need a new economic order?" - "How nations live together anarchy, hegemany cooperations?" - "Symptoms of cultural transformations the reaction against counter-cultures and alternative movements" - concents - theatre - exhibitions.

Under participation of autstanding personalities, such as: Hans Albert, Mannheim; Michel Albert, Paris; Leanetto Anadei, Rame; Mahammed Arkaun, Dravell France; Alexander Auer, Vienna; Brian Berry, Chicago; Jan Berting, Teteringen/Neitherlands; Margaret Baden, Brighton; Rector Herbert Braunsteiner, Innabruck; Minister of Justice Christian Brade, Vienna; Bergia Cotta, Rome; Midtel Drancourt, Paris; Lard Ehryn-Jones, London; Minister of Science Hertha Firmberg, Vienna; Helmut Frisch, Vienna; A.P. Grecos, Brussels; Johannes Gross, Cologne; Vietna; Helmut Frisch, Vienna; A.P. Grecos, Brussels; Johannes Gross, Cologne; Vietna; Paul-Emmanuel Janssen, Brussels; Bernult Kontischeider, Giessen; Elie Kadaurie, Wassenaar/Neitherlands; Loretta Kaertge, Bloomington/USA; Stephan Koren, Vienna; Hans Lenk, Karlsuthe; Rainer Madcenten, Berfin; Andraa Manaella, Rame; Wolfgang J. Mammen, London; Commissioner of the EC Kart-Heltux Narjes, Brussels; Rector Peter Oberndorfer, Linz; Fritz Paschlae, Vienna; President Svetazar Pejovich, Dollas/USA; Hans Printas, Zurich; Vice-Governar of the Tyrol Fritz Prior, Innabruck; Wolfgang Rilm, Karlsruhe; Harold B. Rose, London; farmer President of the Federal Republic of Germany Wather Scheel, Cologne; Svetazar Stolanavic, Belgrad; Otta Wolff von Amerongen, Born; Georg Zimmer-Lehmann, Vierna.

one of the most interesting and most topical events of our time.

Information and registration: The Austrian College, acral Secretariat, A-1010 Vienna, Reichsratestrasse 17, Tel.: 0222/43 34 34.

suct 22md to September 4th in the mountain village of Alphych, Tyral.

eRoyal Opera House (tel: 240, 10.66). Opera — April 20, 23 and 25: "Loheng-rin." April 22: "L'elisir d'amore." Bal-let. — April 21: "Les Sylphides," "Hamlet." "Sytvia pas de deux" and "Gloria." April 24: "Swan Lake." Telemann; April 20: Haydn). NICE, Palais des Expositions (tel: 93/55.18.55) — April 22-24: "Photographie Astronomique," exhibition for centenary of Nice.

PARIS. American Center (tel: 321.42.20) — April 22-May 15: "Maria da Conceicao-Sao." estabision.

Bibliotheque Nationale — "Henri Matisse." lithographs.

Centre Georges Pompidou (tel: 271.12.33). Exhibitions — To June 1: "Gilbert and George." To June 29: "Robert Rauschenberg." photographs.

To June 1: "Sextant: Six Contemporary Swedish Artists."

Grand Palais Exhibitions — To Amil irand Palais. Exhibitions — To April

27: "Pissaro" and "Gainsborough." To June 29: "Cappiello." To Aug. 10: "The Horses of St. Mark's, Venice." "Opera de Paris (tel: 747.57.50). Opera — April 18. 21 and 24: "Don Juan April 20 and 23: "Arabella." Recital April 22: Monserrat Caballe.

HONG KONG

JAZZ, ROCK AND POP

BARCELONA. Palacio de Deportes Municipal de Montjuich — April 21: Bruce Springsteen.

BRUSSELS. Forest National -- April

COPENHAGEN, Club Montmartre -April 20 at 8:45 p.m.: Ben Webster Festival featuring Ernie Wilkins, Thad Jones, Richard Boone, Sahib Shihab, Kenny Drew, Ed Thigpen, Duke Jordan. Doug Raney and many more.

Sheraton Hotel — Every Night: Lennie Bluett.

5 p.m. and April 25 at 5 p.m. : Country and Western Festival.

GENEVA, Hotel Beau-Rivage - Every 24: Up With People.

HONG KONG, Arts Centre (tel: 528.06.26). Studio Theatre — April 18: "The Final Act" (Cheung), The Green Players. Shouson Theatre — April 18-19: Hong Kong Academy of Ballet, Recital Hall — April 19-21: London String Quartet (Haydn, Tippett, Besthoven, Elgar, Britten).

ROME. Teatro dell'Opera (tel: 46.17.55) — April 23 and 26: "Tristan and Isolde." Teatro Spaziouno (tel: 589.69.74) — To April 21: "I Creditori" (Strindberg), oShinagawa Sports Land — April 18-19: Tokyo Antique Fair. •Shinjuku Bunka Center (tel: 403.80.11) — April 21: Teresa Bergan-za (Scarlatti, Pergolesi, Rossini).

La Cooperativa Teatrale. TRIESTE, Teatro Comunale Giuseppe Verdi (tel: 040/63,19.48) — April 18, 21, 24, 26 and 28: "Mazepa."

JAPAN

TOKYO, Bunka Kaikan (tel: 828.21.11) — April 18-19: "Swan Lake," Tokyo Ballet Company, Tokyo City Philharmonic Orchestra, Michel Oueval conductor. Obta Memorial Museum (tel: 403.08.80) — To April 24: "Ukiyo-E Masterpieces in Progress," sketches, prints and hand-painted works by Utamaro, Hokusai, Hizoshige, Masanobu and others.

THE NETHERLANDS

AMSTERDAM, Concerngebouw (tel: 020/71.83.45), Grote Zaai — April 19: Claude Heliter piano (Bartok, Beethoven). April 21: Chung Piano Trio (Haydn, Shostakovich, Brahms). April 24-26: Concerngebouw Orchestra, Bernard Hastink conductor (Mozart, Shostakovich), Kleine Zaal — April 21: Noors Chamber Orchestra Iona Rosell. Noors Chamber Orchestra, Iona Brown conductor/violin (Vivaldi, Grieg, Mozart). •Stadlicht Museum — April 24-June 8: "Edward Hopper," exhibition.

BARCELONA, Sala Gaspar (tel: 93/318.87.36) — Through April: "An-MADRID, Banco Internacional de Comercio (tel: 91/410.40.04) — To April 25: "Sixty Rare Editions of Car-vante's Don Quixote," exhibition. Fondacion Juan March (tel: 225.44.55) — To May 10: "Paul Klee," exhibition. Teatro Nacional de la Zarznela (tel: 429.82.16) -- April 25, 27, 29 and May 1: "Tosca," Montserret Caballe.

SWITZERLAND

GENEVA, C.A.C. Voltaire, 27, rue Voltaire — To April 30: "Wim Wenders

●Musee d'Art et d'Histoire — To May 10: "Florence Henri," exhibition. ●Musee Rath — To June 8: "Pierre Bonnard," exhibition. ZURICH Ausstellungsgelaende -

April 24-May 3: International Art and Antique Fair.

•Christie's Exhibition Rooms, 17 Steinwiesenstrasse - To May 14: "Sal-vador Dali," exhibition of his works from the period 1933-1939.

Operahaus (tel: 251,69,22) — April 18: "Parsifal." April 21: "Zar und Zim-mermann." April 22. 24 and 26: "The Merry Wives of Windsor." April 23; "Tosca." April 25: "Tristan und *Schauspielhaus (tel: 251.11.11) -April 18: "Tartuffe" (Moliere), April 20: "Romulus der Grosse" (Duenen-matt). April 21: "The Genoese Con-spiracy" (Schiller).

UNITED STATES

NEW YORK, American Ballet Theatre (tel: 580.98.30), Includes: April 20 (gala opening night): "Raymonda," van Hamel, McKenzie; "Les Rendezvan Hamel, McKenzie; "Les Rendez-vous," Tcherkassky, Radojevie; "Le Corsaire." Gregory, Godmov; "Push Comes to Shove." Baryshnikov, Elliott, Shafer. April 21: "Les Syiphides," "Airs" and "Theme and Variations." April 22: "Prodigal Sou." April 23: "Afternoon of a Faun" and "Bournou-ville Pas de Trois." April 24: "Jardin and 13 de Trois." April 24: "Jardin

•Grace Borgenicht Gallery, 724 Fifth Ave. — To May 9: "Milton Avery: 1893-1965," exhibition. •Metropolitan Museum of Art — To June 7: "Leonardo da Vinci," exhibi-tion of 50 of Leonardo's landscape and •Whitney Museum — "Chuck Close," exhibition of 90 photorealist portraits.

WEST GERMANY

BERLIN. Amerika Haus (tel: B19.76.61) — To April 25: "The New Generation: A Curator's Choice."

Desusche Oper (tel: 341.44.49), Opera — April 18: "The Massic Flute." April 20: "Parsifal." April 22: "Der Freischnetz." April 23: "The Flying Dutchman." April 24: "The Masked Ball." Ballet — April 19: "Swan Lake."

Philharmonie (tel: 26.92.51) — April 19-20: Bertin Radio-Symphony Orchestra, Neville Marriner conductor (Bach). April 23: Murray Perahia piano (Mo-April 23: Murray Perahia piano (Mozart, Schubert, Bartok, Schumann).

FRANKFURT, Cafe-Theater (tel: 0611/63.64.64) — To April 26: "The Caretaker" (Pinter). Oper Frankfurt (tel: 2562/335) — April 18 and 22; "Arisdae auf Naxos." April 19: "Aida." April 20; "The Merry Widow."

Staedtische Galerie im Staedel — To June 21: "Max Beckmann: The Trip-tycha," exhibition.

Retrospective, films.

•Conservatoire — April 25: Amadeus Quartet (Haydn, Bartok, Beethoven).

Sharps and Flats

HONGRONG, Arts Centre - April 18 at 9 p.m.: Tony Newstead and Jazz Business by Orient Jazz

LOCARNO, Kurassal (Casino) - Eve-

LONDON, Royal Festival Hall — April 18: Vic Damone, Iris Williams

and Terry Wogan.

Fairfield Halls — April 21: Franz.

Lambert.

Ronnie Scott's — Every night through April 25: Freidy Hubbard and Julie

•Wembley Arena — April 17-20: Inter-national Festival of Country and West-

PARIS. Dreher — April 18-24: Kenny Clarke and Hal Singer.

Stanley H. Kaplan

Over 40 Years of Experience

is Your Best Teacher

PREPARE FOR

MCAT DAT

ISAT GMAT LSAT GMAT GRE GRE PSYCH GRE BIO SAT

CPA .VAT . OCAT

Stanley

KAPLAN

EDUCATIONAL

CENTERLID

TEST PREPARATION

SPECIALISTS SINCE 1938

FOR PROGRAM BEORMATION OR DETAILS REGARDING L-20 (STUDIENT VISA) FORMS,
PLEASE CALL.
212-977-8200
OR WRITE
137 West 56 St.
New York, N.Y. 10019

For Information About Other Centers in More Than 90 Major U.S. Citres & Abroad Outside N.Y. State

CALL TOLL FREE

1-800-223-1782

night: Lorna Michaelson.

ry night: Singer Vera Love.

Jazz. Unite - April 20-25: Horace

 Hippodrome de Pantin — April 21-22.*
 starting at 6 p.m.: International Festival of Country and Western Music featuring Johnny Cash. Jerry Lee Lewis. Tarnmy Wynette, Carl Perkins.
 Matchbox and 12 other groups. Palais des Congres — Every night through May 12: Michel Sardour •Hotel Meridien — Every night through April 25: Eddie (Cleanhead) Vinson.

TOKYO, Budokan — April 19 at 6 p.m. and April 24 at 7 p.m.: Keith Jar-

--- Frank Van Brakle

GREAT BRITAIN

RICHMOND COLLEGE The American International College of London

A private co-educational Liberal Arts College with a US curriculum

Write or telephone: Director of Admissions ★ BA and AA degrees, US transfer wide choice of courses in Business Richmond College, Dept T | St Alban's Grove

and Economics, Humanities, Social Sciences, Natural Sciences, Fine Sciences, Process
Arts and Languages

Highly qualified Anglo-American faculty

± 500 students enrolled * Two attractive residential campuses.
In central London for Upper Division and in suburban Richmond for

Lower Division

London W8 5PN, England Tel. 01 957 5193 Telex: 25357

ITALY

THE INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL OF MILAN

For day students aged 3-18

The school offers a British-based, English medium curriculum and extra-curricular programme. It is a recognised G.C.E. and C.E.E.B. testing centre, and offers its own transportation and funch services. The current enrollment is 600 with 37 nationalities represented. Bourding facilities are not available.

For further details please apply to: The Heading Via Bezzola 6, Mikuno 20153 - Tel.: 45.24.749.

AUSTRIA

SALZBURG INTERNATIONAL PREPARATORY SCHOOL

A co-educational American boarding school in Europe's most beautiful city. Grades 9-12 & PG, High academic standards. Extensive travel, skiing and cultural programs.

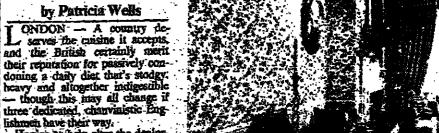

For catalog write: S.I.P.S., Moosstrosse 106, A-5020 Selzburg, Austria.

SWITZERLAND

advisory service helps you to choose the RIGHT SCHOOL RIGHT PLACE more than 50 provide schools and institutes reaching well reputed for its quality and divertibly Summer and Water sports LAKE OF GENEVA REGION Canton of Yand - SWI ZERLAND furgyrabic enurgraments for study hub of a vaca hatterful of minimals beautiful landscape - healthy clim PRIVATE SCHOOL ADVISORY BUREAU IO. Are de 12 Gare - Chi-1002 Lausaone Tel. 021-22 77 71 Telex 24 390

English Food at Its Very Best

The English House's elegant interior.

Smile and Martin Lam optimed The English House are very common that he elegant proper Victorian county states.

Several recent vigits to the corry peach and premyonal forms not in front Stone Square confirmed that the trio is indeed encouraging a new constantiates of traditional Engine food.

Once signin, there are dated as industrial Engine food.

Once signin, there are dated as industrial Engine food.

Once signin, there are dated as industrial Engine food.

Once signin, there are dated as industrial Engine food.

Once signin, there are dated as industrial Engine food.

Once signin, there are dated as industrial Engine food.

Once signin, there are dated as industrial Engine food.

Once signin, there are dated as industrial Engine food are sent stated as industrial Engine food and the stated in the product of the gall. Soft stated in the month of the month food water and challen in the month food water and challenge in the month of the sent of the se dur Justini seleptana semes (House and American and Superiors) states. Dispersions semes (Justini Special and Superiors) states. Dispersions administration of Project country and project set of the country of the country and project set of the country of the country and project set of the country of the country and project set of the country of the country and project set of the country of served in a powerful sauce il. with juniper and wine, was p homemade guilled posk set made without the all-too co creat fillers, set new standar the traditional English smear The only true disappoint was the mustard balant of

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION DIRECTORY

EUROPE

The TASIS Schools AMERICAN EDUCATION IN EUROPE WITH AN INTERNATIONAL DIMENSION

ENGLAND

35 acre country campus only 18 miles from central London and Founded in 1976 offering American college prep and ESL curricula. Coed, grades K-12 day; grades 7-12 boarding Complete sports, activities and travel program. Day student SWITZERLAND The oldest, independent American boarding school in Europe, tounded in 1955. American college prep. I.B. General Studies and ESL curricula Coed, boarding and day, grades 7-12 plus a Post Graduate Year. St. Moritz ski term and extensive travel throughout Europe.

GREECE Founded in 1979 in affiliation with Hellenic International School. American college prep. I.B., GCE. General Studies and ESL curricula Coed, grades K-12 day; grades 7-12 boarding. Diverse activities, sports, travel. Campus in residential kifissie only 10 miles from central Athens.

The American School in Switzerland, CH 6926 Montagnola, Switzerland. Tel: Lugano (091) 546471 Tix: 79317 TASIS England, Coldharbour Lane, Thorpe, Surrey, England TW20 8TE. Tel: Chertsey (09328) 65252 Tix: 929172 TASIS Greece, The Cecil, Kiflasia-Kefalari, Greece. Tel: Athens 8013837, 8014442 Tix: 215185 IPRG U.S. Office: TASIS, 127 Esplanade, Irvine, California 92715. Tel: (714) 552-4184. Tix: 181560

FRANCE

PARSONS SCHOOL OF DESIGN at the AMERICAN COLLEGE IN PARIS

An Invitation to Art Students May 8-9, 1981, 9:00 A.M to 4:00 P.M. An informal portfolio review will be held on May 8 and 9 at the art studios of the American College in Paris, by members of the faculty of the raisons scande of Design.

York & Los Angeles, Parsons is one of America's leading colleges of the visual arts, and is now offering the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Painting, Illustration, Photography and Interior Design in collaboration with the American College in Paris. Students may begin their studies in Paris and transfer to New York or Los Angeles. All college level art students are welcome.

For further information, please call: The Office of Admissions at the American College in Paris, 31 Avenue Bosquet, 75007 Paris, Tek: 555.91.73.

Learn and live the french Language in colm and idyllic surroundings near Monte Carlo
The CENTRE MEDITERRANEEN D'ETIDES FRANÇAISE offers 25 years of experience. Whotever your level, you may acquire a mastery of trench to sunt your professional of cultival needs. Small groups. 4, 8 or 12-week, courses starting each marsh. Cassette lapse and library are available to students supervised by a professor.
Brochure with emoliment fees, alone or with board and ladging:
CENTRE MEDITERRANEEN D'ETIDES FRANÇAISES

06320 Cap d'Ail (France) Tal.: (93) 78.21.59 or 3-week Summer courses in Amboise (Val-de-Leire), with family acc starting June 29th, July 20th and August 10th. Brochure with enrollment form:

CENTRE DE FORMATION ET D'ETUDES FRANÇAISES PRATIQUES

2, Place Henri-Bergton, 75008 Paris Tel.: 522.04.11.

.The most renowned school for French. THE INSTITUT DE FRANÇAIS

Overlooking the Riviera's most beautiful bay MAKES LEARNING FRENCH A WONDERFUL AND UNIQUE EXPERIENCE The next 4-week all-day immersion program starts April 29, June 1 st and all year.

LODGING IN PRIVATE APTS. AND 2 MEALS INCLUDED. For adults, 6 levels: from beginner 1-to advanced il. Years of research & experience in the effective teaching of French to INSTITUT DE FRANÇAIS - D.18 nérol-Lederc, 06230 VILLERANCIES/ MSR. Tel.: (93) 60.86.61

ς.

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE IN PARIS

31 fv. Bosquet, 75807 Paris, France. Tel.: 555.91.73. Full U.S. Accreditation Seven B.A. Degree Programs New Computer Center Summer Session '81: June 17-July 28

Sne student ne moster concept for boys 12 through 20 of average and superior intelligence:

Who have lost one or more years

With needenic deficiencies Foreign students wish American universities

ONFORD LADEM Degt N Westbrook Conn 0649 Educational Troubleshoptors Since 1906

Calvert School

Kindengartes through 8th grade, Complete home-study course for elementary-level students. An American education ensywhere in the world, Ideal for enrichment, Home is the descroom, you are the teacher with Calvert's approved step-by-step instructions. Start any time, transfer to other schools. Used by ever 300,000 students. Namprofit. Write for catalog, Admits students of any rates, cofor, nationality or ethnic orligin.

1897

Professional Diplotes courses G.C.E., Computer, Secretarial Stud Prospectuses: CLC Dept. LY. .. Child's Age ... Gr ...

STUDY IN THE USA

 George Community

 From 1-20 years within 2 ye

GREAT BRITAIN

Under the galvenere of me Association of provide achievis IRVDEPs and the Tourist Charlet 11 the of Geneva Region (OTV).

SWITZERLAND

ITC .

INTERNATIONAL SUMMER CAMP MONTANA-Europe's top sports cause for boys and girls 8-1 years : riding, stables, swimming pool, tennis, it skining, summer skiing, alpinism, excursions, lauguage courses, etc. Accredited member of ACA. For color brochure please call 927/41 18 97 as 41 23 84 or swite to:

Rady and Erica Stader, Directors, CH-3962 Montana, Switzerland

INTERNATIONAL

TEEN CAMP LAKE GENEVA

Chally-sur-Laus

Endustrio Co-ed 13-19 John-August
THE HIGH STANDARD CAMP in BURCHE with dolly French, English, and German courtes. All sports, hiles in the Alps, securators. SUMMER SCENC.
For folder and internal, references, please

Ot-1012 Chally sur Lausanne Tel. (056) 22 67 78. Tk. igar 453182

it: ITC, c/o Scale Neovalle CH-1012 Chally-sur-Louszer

SPAIN

School OF MALLO Co-ed, day K-12 and boarding College Preparation College Boards, TOBIL Test Cer. Learning Disabilities and ESL pr Extensive sports and activities pre-CALLE GRATORIO, 9 - PORTALS I -MALLORCA - SPAIN TEL.; 675850/51. TELEX; 69006

SPAIN -BALEARES INTERNATIONAL SCHOO!

Tel.: 401812. Teles: RCA 68667 PME, Cubies: Colimbal Poiess: de Maliare: Address: Cassi Son Toefe y Calle sentes Cada 17, Son Augustin,

Palma de Mallorca

Spanish Courses

Chaminade College PASES DE MAN - XXIII AL MANGEN 2. University of Madrid

"ART EXHIBITIONS Appears every Saturday 🤋

COMING IN MAY

International Education a special supplement by the International Harold Tribune

For advertising information contact Prançoise Clément, International Herald Tribuna. 181, avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly-sur-Seine Cede Tel.: 747.12.65, Telex 613 595, or your local IRT representative.

حكذا من الأصل

ne Mid-19th-Century Furniture Can't Compete With Art Deco

by Souren Melikian

ARIS - Art Deco furniture has never ad it so good. Meanwhile, mid-19thcentury furniture continues to be virtu-sily ignored. Within three days, two held at Dronot provided striking evi-this paradoxical state of allairs. ntrast is all the more astonishing as Deco furniture sold on April 10 by Retaud with the assistance of the exfix Marcilhac was good but by no inforgertable. An armchair designed by Marcau, for example, with a so-called Shaped back was a pleasing but thinly a staptation of a well-known midmodel. It was remarkably well intry model. 5.970 francs.

veneer resting on stumpy bronze legs made by Emile-Jacques Ruhlmann slightly disappointed Marcilhac when it was knocked down at 67,570 francs. This merely shows that we now take for granted the huge prices so easily paid for Art Deco furniture.

The most telling sign perhaps of the growing success encountered by the aesthetics of the 1920s is the unexpected interest aroused by a style that could be characterized as Second Generation Art Deco. - meaning the furniture made in the early 1940s.

This was represented in the sale by some typical pieces carrying the mark of the cabinetmaker Rollin — no ornament whatever, purely abstract volumes, very well constructed. Their appeal lies chiefly in their high-quality veneer. That did not prevent a pair of banal bookcases iv after, a deep sofa in Macassar ebony from going up to 9,190 francs, three times

19th century all the more surprising. At an auction conducted on April 13 by Paul Pecheteau, only a handful of professionals took no-tice of two extraordinary pieces of furniture obviously designed in the early years of the Napoleon III period. These were two small occasional tables made "en suite."

The combination of ebonized wood, gray

what they would have fetched a couple of years ago.

Another indication of the strongly entrenched position of Art Deco design is that high prices are no longer confined to signed

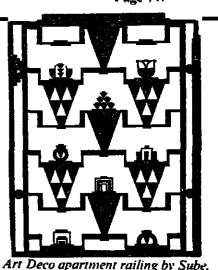

"galuchat" (leather) insets and Boulle-type tin inlay gave them a sober elegance. The scrolling design based on the repertoire of the Louis XIV period, the harmony in black, pearl gray and structure metal added to the technical perfection that those two tables master.

high prices are no longer confined to signed (or identifiable) pieces. A striking example was a tubular structure of a dining table lacking its glass top that went up to 12,535 francs. fection that made those two tables master-pieces of the highest order. If 18th-century pieces of a corresponding caliber were offered, they would sell together for anywhere between 800,000 and 1,500,000 That makes the continuing lack of interest in top-quality furniture of the latter half of the francs. These two went up to 151,120 francs, a huge price as the market stands but a low one for museum pieces that would not be overlooked in any other category. The same sale included a large galuchat asket with Rococo silver applications on all sides and putti flanking its corners, again, a highly original 19th-century creation. A signa-ture on the lock — "Giraudon" — was not even mentioned by the expert Jean-Pierre Camard,

This would be unthinkable concerning pieces of the 18th century - or the 20th century. for that matter. The casket was knocked down at 11.980 francs. This, again, is a superlatively good example of 19th-century fine art. It will probably end up in a museum some day.

Right at the bottom of the price ladder, the disregard continues. In that same sale was a giltwood chair with a highly original design of the 1860s. True, single chairs are not normally sought after. But the model of this one was absolutely remarkable, thereby deserving at-tention. Yet the price was almost a joke — 408 francs. No such accident would ever befall either 18th-century or Art Deco pieces of com-

HEALTH CLINICS

SWITZERLAND

VALMONT

WORLD RENOWNED MEDICAL CLINIC

Glion sur Montreux, Lake Geneva, Switzerland.

Located at 2,000 feet altitude in a moderate and protected climate, the clinic has the finest occommodations available for your comfort. In a beautiful and colm setting overlooking the Lake of Geneva and the Mont-Blanc chain the CUNIC VALMONT provides complete medical check-ups, outstanding medical care as well as rest, individual diet and rejuvenation. Centers are provided for cardiology, physiotherapy, electrotherapy, hydrotherapy, electrocordiogram, X-ray and laboratory analysis.

Please ask for our brochure and prices.

Write to Mr. H. Tuor - Director CLINIC VALMONT, 1823 Glion sur Montreux, Switzerland. Telephone: 021/61 38 02 - Telex: 453 157 valmt-ch

HOTELS

U.S.A.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

A Renaissance of Graciousness

European tradition Flegant, quiet

unruffled—never a convention

THE MADISON

Radmana's Cerral Adires

5th at M Streets, NW, Washington, D.C. 2007

Telev (#245

or see your travel agent

May hell it to any Destructed

SWITZERLAND

ZURICH

FIZERHO

100 years of exceptional

Unique location

pousite flyrail, main station

The screne quietness of a resort hotel

in the heart of docum-town

Phone B1 21186-10

PO-Box, CH-8023 Zurich

"WEEKEND"

appears every SATURDAY

strasse Bahnholplatz

appiello's Graphic Showmanship

by Michael Gibson

RIS - Cappiello turned up in Paris n 1902 and went to call on a compatrin from his native Livorno (known as eghorn in English thanks to the good British sailors of former centuries who se for funny foreign words). The comas Giacommo Puccini. t should I do to make myself known?"

o asked. / me," said Poccini. tello took out his pencils and did a scini sitting at an upright piano with in the air. The drawing appeared hereafter in Le Rire, a popular comic and drew immediate interest - not nks to Puccini. Cappiello had an unasck of turning any profile or gesture ancing arabesque, a gift he exploited his society and theater profiles and in now at the Grand Palais (to June 29) > appiello's career from his earliest i of familiar figures in Livorno to the -advertising posters.

--- Bernhardt was a frequent Cappiello .- represented with a profile some acy's Jiminy Cricket. The spirit of tragundertood by Sarah Bernhardt (or Sully, shown in the role of Oedipus), the actor to bray, bellow and bleat. re recordings attest to this (Mounet-is the bull, Sarah the goat), and Capirawings evoke it by suggesting the ap-

d the end of Sarah Bernhardt's career, o drew her with her back to the her arm over the shoulder of a young who was shown in profile. When the appeared in a morning paper, Cap-phone rang. It was Bernhardt: "I was you," she said, "but we are through." drawings show an old and puffy Osde and an elegant and weary Marcel The Proust drawing was done in the

by Jules B. Farber

OTTERDAM - At the 1980 Venice

Biennale, the Netherlands had only one entry: the Amsterdam artist Ger and was unanimously rated among exhibition, revised and broadened in ent on to the Kunsthalle in Basel and ee d'Art Moderne de la Ville de Paris.

pened in Rotterdam's Boymans van en Museum here (through May 31).

etrospective of Van Elk's work from 1981 — 55 paintings, objects, environ-lms, installations and sculpture — is a o the 40-year-old artist who is better broad than in his homeland. He is the chman who has had a one-man show

sn't my goal to get into MOMA," says confident, highly successful artist orks are often sold before they are fin-t just happened. I have one ambition:

good art."

Ik began to break new artistic ground

'ork's Museum of Modern Art.

an Elk. His work filled the Dutch course of a conversation with Cappiello's daughter-in-law in 1938.

My father-in-law did not talk with the same ease that he drew," she recalled. "So when I said: 'Oh! You knew Proust! Do tell me what he was like?' He dashed off this Cappiello was finally a great innovator in advertising, although his first attempts were fairly conventional, showing elegant ladies gazing ecstatically at various forms of merchandise. But in 1904 his keen sense of graphic showmanship found its proper form. An ad should not harmonize with its surroundings, he said. We all know that today and are in fact in 1965 with the use of color transparency projections, painted-over photographs and films

as supplementary forms of expression to his

The solidly-built artist with long, shaggy hair wears dark clothes and rimless glasses. He is an extrovert and very much part of his own works. In the triangular-shaped painted photograph, "C'est Moi Qui Fait La Musique," it is Van Elk himself who is seated at the piano that buckles under. In others, he balances poles, juggles objects, smokes and paints. Van Elk's world is one of ironically distorted reality that is amusingly provocative. "The main thread through all my work is reality," he explains. "I isolate certain elements from reality and give them a new order in combinations

you otherwise do not see in real life. But that doesn't mean I change reality, I present it dif-ferently. My works are intended to make peo-ple think it could also be this way."

Van Elk's "reality" takes many forms in the works that hang on the walls, lean against the floor, comprise a floor (a parquet wood section), descend from the ceilings, flicker in films and project in slide presentations on objects unorthodox canvases and graphi

eality' According to Ger van Elk rather wary of much of Cappiello's progeny in contemporary advertising.

But his own work is brilliant and amusing and not only because it has some sort of period charm. When OXO is advertised by an apoplectic tomato that stares at one through the letters of the brand name or when a mustard plaster's virtues are proclaimed by a dancing green man spewing flames, one can only ad-mire the easy talent that conceived these shapes and colors.

Another native of Liverno turned up in Paris four years after Cappiello. Amedeo Modigliani's career did not run as smoothly by any means; he died in 1920 at the age of 35 after a brief, difficult and tragic life. The Musee d'Art Moderne de la Ville de Paris (!1 avenue du President Wilson, Paris 16, to June 28) has assembled 100 paintings, 120 drawings and seven sculptures along with a few documents, making this show the most important retrospective ever devoted to this artist.

Modigliani's style is so obviously recognizable that one is tempted to think he somehow fitted all his models into a preconceived pattern. This turns out to be quite untrue, and one of the striking things, when one sees so many of his paintings assembled, is the way in which the personalities of his various subjects are directly apparent. Given the relatively homogenous style, one is struck by the diversity.

The catalogue includes a document that is remarkable in several respects — an essay by Jeanne Modigliani that attempts to dispel various legends born in the fertile brains of those who wrote about the artist. It represents the results of a daughter's search into her own family background and her coming to terms with a sometimes burdensome heritage.

Modigliani's career coincides with one of the most effervescent periods of Western painting, though he did not fit into any of its movements. He was in a class by himself and look from his contemporaries only the formal freedom that the spirit of experiment had made into an obvious attribute of art.

Wim Beeren, the Boymans director who wrote the catalogue for the show, said: "[Van Elk] recognized the existence of reality at the very least in that he sees it as capable of being manipulated. Art is for him the means not only of making reality recognizable, but also of influencing it and causing it to change its form

"His works of art are never so abstract as to be completely outside collectively experienced reality. Nor are they ever so realistic as to fail to take account of abstraction in art as a recognizable factor in itself. Ger van Elk is the dupe

Van Elk continues to make statements about the cliches of our society. By applying paint to color photographs, he takes everyday situations and people (often of himself via a delayed shutter setting) and turns snapshots into intriguing confrontations. He eliminates a figure from a group looking with great intensi-ty at an empty chair. He rolls up, carpetlike, a California landsape in a canvas owned by the Centre Pompidou or creates a pastel sculpture of a Dutch river that looks like a cigarette.

Even the presentation is intriguing. Frames are rectangular, triangular and trapezoidal. Images are tied to a line or combined with an object in another way. Sometimes the works are concealed within a situation, sometimes

"There are lots of triangles in my work. I don't know why," he said. "But it's a fact that I don't like circles. Things like circles reflect a sort of continuity and do not interest me. I'm more interested in things which hang on each

Van Elk's more recent works are more sculptural; they soar like kites or ships' prows with painted-over photographic images of himself on canvas fastened with rubber strings to the wall. He has babies yanking on painted panels

they determine the situation as objects.

of neither reality nor art."

Galleries in Paris

Example of Sao's "wearable art" complete with doll.

PARIS — Two galleries near front of a group of young admir-Beaubourg are showing artists ers. Visually stunning, they are abwho work in and with space.

The first Yvon Lambert, on 5 rue du Grenier Saint-Lazare, has two shows running until May 5: The American Richard Tuttle's latest works are small wall-sculptures. collages of wood and paper in bright colors. Like his walldrawings, they have an inimitable quality of airtness, but also a force that eminds one of Schwitters.

Bernard Joubert's installation is composed of subtly colored canvas angle pieces glued on the walls. Joubert's interest lies in the interaction of his work and its space.

The Gallery Gillespie-Laage-Salomon, 24 rue Beaubourg, is showing (to May 2) three-dimensional works by seven American Artists. Among them, Richard Artschwager is the best known in France. His favorite materials include hammered aluminium, paint on formica, glass inclusions and metal molded around stone blocks. Since the 1970s, Joel Shapiro has been trying to diverge from the purity of minimalism but with abstract geometrical forms. His themes are bridges, animals, tables and wood constructions east in bronze. His small-scale work gives new perception of our life-space.

In the Centre Georges Pompi-dou, the huge dirigible ("Aeromo-deller") of Panamarenko stands immobilized as if in a dream (until May 4). This poetic flying machine gives an impression of ephemerali-ty that, paradoxically, is difficult

At the Musee d'Art Moderne de a Ville de Paris, one must not miss A.R.C., the contemporary section of the museum showing Malaval and Michele Zaza (to May 15).

Zaza's blue mystery photographs, hung asymmetrically, show an old man, a clock beside him, an open door through which one can see people and objects that belong to events of the past or future. This Italian's study of time has a strong parapsychological presence as well as aesthetic quality.

There is a "Mont Blanc" mountain sculp-ture composed of layered painted canvases on the floor and a "Wizard" sculpture hanging like two flags joined in a "V" with a heads-down Van Elk portrayed on both panels. Just before Malaval's death last summer, the French painter and rock addict did some paintings at the Centre Culturel de Creteil is

ers. Visually stunning, they are abstract paintings smeared with beads and filled with strong brush strokes. They reflect an euphoric state of mind. Documents, photographs, Malaval's last text — a strong piece of punk poetry - and rock music make this show a moving trip.

Until April 30, the Goethe Institut, 17 avenue d'Iena, is showing posters, postcards, books and obects by Klaus Staeck, the German artist. For two decades, this former lawyer has been denouncing his country's political, economical, social and racial hypocrisy in his art. His work, close to the Russian avant-garde of the 1920s, is aimed at the establishment and under scores the internal conflict of a West Germany torn between prosperity and terrorism.

For the first time in Paris, the Portuguese artist Sao will show her costumelike "wearable art" at the American Center on boulevard Raspail (April 22-May 15) and at the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation,51ave.d'Iena(April24-May 14).

Sao (whose real name is Maria da Concelcao) creates gowns like "Air," a chiffon dress with ruffles with a small doll attached to it, or "Body Suit" a knitted body "sculpture" with two purposes: to wear and display on the wall. Sao mastered lacemaking, embroidery and crocheting at a convent and later began creating tapestries. Seven years ago she settled in Washington, D.C., where her clothes are shown in museums not in haute couture shows.

Collector's Guide

FRENCH FURNITURE

LOUIS XV, XVI

Collector wishes to purchase museum quality pieces.

Write Sox D 1741, Herald Tribune 92521 Neutly Codex, France.

- Xiane Germain

of advertising, contact the stemational Herald Tribus

office in your countries Cathy Stubley
Tel.: 747 1265.
Indon: Michael Mitchell London: Michael Mitchell Tel.: 2423173. Brussels: Arthur Maksner Tel.: 3431899. Amsterdan: Alfons Grim Tel.: 263615. Athena: J.C. Remesson Athens: J.C. Rennesson
Tel.: 361 83 97/360 24 21.
Frankfurt: H. Jung/K. Ohff
Tel.: 28 36 78.
Lousanne: Marshall Walter
Tel.: 29 58 94.
New York: Sandy O'Hora
Tel.: 752 38 90.
Romes Antonio Sambrotto
Tel.: 679 34 37.
Modrid: A. Umkuff Sambnotto
Tel.: 453 30 6/455 28 91.
Hong Kong: C. Cheney PARIS

HOTEL CALIFORNIA * Luxe

FRANCE

16 rue de Berri. 75008 PARIS Tel.: 359 93 00 Telex: 660634

Near the "Champs-Élysées, enjoy its 188 quiet and comfortable rooms, from FF. 295 to 470, tax included, all equipped with T.V., mini-bar and bath, and also its bar, restaurant, conference rooms and flowered patio. Have a pleasant stay!

HOTELS HOTELS

ART EXHIBITIONS

other as extremes."

that climb to the ceiling.

Sotheby's Spring Islamic Sales

created, covered or painted.

7-29 April, 1981, in London

van Elk in his 1973 retouched photo, "C'est moi qui fait la musique."

onday 27th April, 11.00 hours NE ORIENTAL MINIATURES ND MANUSCRIPTS FROM THE OLLECTION OF THE HAGOP EVORKIAN FUND

onday 27th April, 14.30 hours LAMIC WORKS OF ART

resday 28th April, 11.00 and 14.30 hours d following day at 10.30 hours NE ORIENTAL MINIATURES, ANUSCRIPTS AND PRINTED

Wednesday 29th April, 10.30 and 14.30 hours FINE RUGS, CARPETS AND TEXTILES

Wednesday 29th April, 10.30 and 14.00 hours ISLAMIC COINS, MAINLY IN GOLD

All sales will be on view from Wednesday 22nd April.

Special viewing Saturday 25th April 10.00-16.00 hours, with the exception of Illustrated catalogues are available from our offices.

Right: A portrait of Ahmed Shah on horseback, Mughal, c. 1730-40, 233 by 148 mm.

All enquiries about these sales should be addressed to Margaret Erskine. Sotheby Parke Bernet & Co., 34-35 New Bond Street, London W1A 2AA Telephone: (01) 493 8080 Telegrams: Abinitio, London Telex: 24454 SPBLONG

Hong Kong: C. Chaney Tel.; 5 - 420906. Liebon: Rita Amber Tel.: 672793/662544.

ART EXHIBITIONS

PARIS

WALLY FINDLAY Galleries International

> Group Show Gallery Artists

Imp., Post-imp., Moderns 2, av. Matignon - Paris 8º

Wally Findley George V Hôtel George V - 723.54.00 DOUTRELEAU - GANTNER KLUGE - SIMBARI

31, ev. George V - Paris 8 daily - 10 s.m. - 9 p.m. sunday - 7 p.m. - 9 p.m.

LONDON

ALWIN GALLERY 9-10 Grafton Street, Bond Street, W.1. 01-499 0314. London's Leading Sculpture Gallery

171a Slagne St. (1st Floor) SW1, Tel.: 2352464. Early English Paintings, Furniture Quilts, Decoys, Folk Art and "AMERICANA". One of London's most Daily 10-6, Sats 10-4.

LONDON

CRANE GALLERY

Bruton Street W1 - 01-493 1572/3 20TH CENTURY WORKS ON VIEW Mon.-Fri. 10-5.30

LEFEVRE GALLERY

Colnaghi ORIENTAL ART OF THE EAST Until 15 May 14 Old Bond St, W1. Tel.: 01-491 7408

"ART

EXHIBITIONS Appears :

The same of the sa

every Saturday

Labor Relations Still A Key Issue in France

(Continued from Page 1)

militant labor unions placed it at the top of the leftists' agenda for

Many of the older workers vividly recall that the Sochaux plant was the scene of some of the most bitter pitched battles during the labor strife in the country in 1968. Scores of employees were injured then when management called in the police to end the workers' occupation of the factory.

Some Peugeot executives still take pride in the fact that union membership at their plant - less than 15 percent of the blue-collar force - is well below the national average. But the statistics can be misleading because a worker does not have to be a union member to vote for delegates in his factory. Almost 90 percent of Sochaux's 34,000 employees cast ballots in last month's elections of union delegates and, to the annoyance of management, the Communist-con-trolled CGT and the Socialist-led CFDT trade unions together polled more than two-thirds of the blue-coliar votes. Over the last decade. Peugeot has made some considerable efforts to improve the working and

Group Asks Ban On Sex Guides

LAUSANNE, Switzerland -- A Third World aid agency has appealed to Western governments to ban the publication of guides and magazines providing information on child prostitution in Asia.

Terre des Hommes (Land of Man) said Thursday magazines on open sale in the West are directly linked to child prostitution rings. The organization specifically named the International Gay Guide, also called "Spartacus." It said the magazine provides a "holiday help portfolio service."

The Swiss group included with its appeal a report on prostitution among boys in Sri Lanka. The report said that boys as young as 8 years old are prostitutes, and that clients visit Sri Lanka to "procure what they cannot procure in their social environments at its plants Management has virtually aban-doned its support for a much-criticized rightist union that it heavily subsidized in the early 1970s to try to woo workers away from leftist labor groups. Factory restaurants offer cheap, varied menus that are the same for executives and bluecollar workers. By decentralizing operations, managers can now soive most labor problems on the spot, avoiding the time-consuming process of consulting with the headquarters office.

Factory Tours

At its second largest plant in Mulhouse, about 30 miles (48 kilometers) east of Sochaux, workers no longer have to punch their attendance cards at the start and end of their shifts: the honor system is used. For the past several years, Peugeot, like many other French manufacturing companies, has in-vited thousands of students and tourists to its factories in an attempt to dispel the Chaplinesque image of an infernal assembly-line

But management still appears to have made little headway in overcoming trade union hostility. Some executives still view themselves as locked in battle with militant labor organizers for the soul of the work force. And many labor representatives seem convinced that manage-ment is attempting to decimate the trade unions and force employees to deal directly with management.

The most contested issue at Peugeot recently was a strategy devised by management four years ago to reward and promote workers on their individual performances. Known by its French acronym as DIPO, the system allows a foreman or section chief to grade the 15 to 30 employees under his responsibility according to 10 criteria: adaptability, punctuality, care of machinery and products, quality of work, industriousness, initiative, friendliness toward colleagues, accident prevention, availability for extra tasks, and loyalty toward the Management spokesmen assert that DIPO was conceived because a company poli showed that most workers wanted individual merits to be recognized. Eventually, employees who score highly on their added that "in any case DIPO assessments will receive salawidespread problem."

That's Entertainment: Factories In France Promoting Tourism

PARIS — Peugeot is only one of many hig businesses in France that have encouraged factory visits by students, tourists, and families of employees in recent years as part of an educational campaign aitned at softening the traditional antagonism between labor and management.

Societe Generale, one of the largest French banks, publishes a 'Guide of Industrial Tourism," which describes hundreds of factories that can be visited around the country, in much the same way that the Guide Michelin lists restaurants and hotels.

The CNPF, the National Employers Association, has also started its own visiting program, dubbed "Operation Open Doors," to counter what it calls "abstract, often erroneous notions" of factory life with an image that is more "concrete, lively and attractive." A pamphlet distributed by the CNPF to factory managers offers them the following advice on organizing visits by outsiders:

"One can say about a visit to a business firm the same thing that is said about television: It is entertainment, above all, enter-· The first principle: A visit to an enterprise should be orchestrated from beginning to end ... Even if a visit proves exciting and full of discoveries, a mediocre welcome can undermine every-"Second principle: A visit to an enterprise is carefully composed. It is an orderly, measured speciacle — neither too long, nor too slow — above all a speciacle that will have been put together taking care to give it a good rhythm ... "

Third principle: A visit to an enterprise should be conceived keeping in mind the nature of the visitors ... The giving out of information must be done with a sense of sympathy. It would be better to not even attempt to put on the show if one is not capable of imagining oneself as a spectator." · Fourth principle: Even when the curtain goes down, the show is not over. There must be a follow-up to the spectacle. The visit is only a part of a broader policy of information, and one must figure out ways of extending this policy."

ary bonuses of up to 20 percent and quicker promotions.

Peugeot executives say the system is popular with the workers and has helped increase productivity and lower absenteeism. But trade unionists — particularly in the CGT and CFDT — maintain that some of the DIPO criteria are strictly political and that the system has created strong psychological pressures on the labor force. Last year, in an incident that received national publicity, Pascal Paquay, a young assembly-line worker, addressed an open letter to management complaining that after he applied for membership in the CGT his foreman threatened to grade his performance badly.

"That was an exceptional case and the foreman was reprimanded," said Christianne Jacquet, an assistant director of personnel at Peugeot. Her colleague, Roland Vardanega, suggested that the worker might have had a personal grudge against his foreman, and added that "in any case, this is not

But at the local CFDT office, Camille Bobillier, a labor delegate, pulled out copies of four union members' DIPO report cards, which showed that they had scored highly on all the criteria, except loyalty to the company, for which they received the lowest possible grade. They were the only CFDT members in their car-body painting section, so it is just too much of a coincidence," Mr. Bobillier

In the CGT office, Luis Simon, a Communist labor organizer, also asserted that the DIPO system penalized his union's members and was "clearly designed to tell workers to stay away from militant la-

Mr. Vardanega, the deputy director of personnel, insisted that union affiliation was irrelevant to Peugeot. "But if an employee continually attacks the company, of course he is going to be graded badly," he said. "I mean, after all, he even risks hurting company

French Election Polls: A Blurred Picture

By Richard Eder New York Times Service

PARIS - The first round of the presidential election, which pares down 10 contenders to two finalists, is one week away. The official campaign, according to law, began April 10, but intensive campaigning has been going on for more than a month, with the four major candidates swinging regularly around the country and blitzing the television screens to the point of snow blindness. There have been some notable changes in the apparent strength of the contenders over the last couple of months. According to polls, President Valery Giscard d'Estaing has slipped steadily and now runs-neck and neck with — or a bit behind - the Socialist candidate. François Mitterrand.

The president's rival on the right, Jacques Chirac, has increased his strength sharply enough to raise the possibility that he will get more votes than the president and thus face Mr. Mitterrand in the runoff vote on May 10. In theory, Mr. Mitterrand could come in third on April 26, leaving Mr. Giscard d'Estaing and Mr. Chirac as the finalists, but nobody expects that to happen.

Principal Polls

The half-dozen principal polls reveal contradictory things, adding up to a blur. On Thursday, for instance, one poll showed that Mr. Giscard d'Estaing and Mr. Mitter-rand would tie in the second round. Another had Mr. Mitterrand ahead by three percentage points, and still another by eight. A fourth had Mr. Giscard d'Estaing shading his opponent by a

Tokyo Exchange

Matsub, Hvy Ind. 295 You

New Index : 541,38 ; Previous ; 541,39 Nikkel-DJ index : 7,418,50 ; Provious ; 7,418,74

HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL

KENYA SAFARI

16-Days Air-Ind. Safari

for an affordable US$ 1790

High Low Close Ch'ts

Chirac third but gaining. Georges Marchais, the Communist candidate, has recently moved up three points, to 19 percent. All this shows some kind of dead heat and hence, one would suppose, an exciting horse race. Excitement may yet come as the finish approaches, but so far the contest is both close and passion-

Partly this is because the polls are not fully believed. The polls

For the first round, the polls tend to put Mr. Giscard in front by three to five points, with Mr. Mitterrand second, and Mr. of every three respondents believe he will win. Most political com-mentators tend to feel the same

There is a lack of striking alter-natives offered by the candidates, no issue that has caught fire.

Issues Half-Buried

Two issues will weigh heavily when people go to vote, but both are half-buried, and neither makes for exciting campaigning.

Corsica Blast as Giscard Arrived Was Premature, Authorities Say

Toronto Stocks

The Associated Press

AJACCIO, Corsica — A bomb that exploded at the Campo Dell'Oro Airport, just as an airplane carrying French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing arrived, went off seven minutes earlier than planned, police bomb experts said Friday. A Swiss tourist injured in the blast died Friday.

Police said a warning by telephone three minutes before the explosion on Thursday did not give authorities enough time to evacuare the airport, three miles east of Ajaccio. Hundreds of persons crowded the terminal hoping for a glimpse of Mr. Giscard d'Estaing, who was on an election trip.

Eight persons were wounded in the explosion, including Peter Hirz, 19, of Switzerland, who died Friday at a Marseilles hospital. Mr. Giscard d'Estaing was una-ware of the attack until told by aides aboard the aircraft. in Paris, the Interior Ministry announced that France's top law enforcement officer. Maurice Bouvier, had been assigned to the case at the request of Mr. Giscard d'Estaing. No group has claimed responsibility for the attack, although Corsica, a department of France, has had several terrorist.

Canadian Family Saved The Associated Press

incidents over the last year.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico - The U.S. Coast Guard rescued an On-tario family of five who spent 20 hours floating in the Atlantic Grean after their sailboat broke up. A spokesman said Thursday that a commercial airliner picked up a signal from the family's emer-gency locator transmitter.

One is the notion of alternation single collection of political clans has been in power since De Gaulie returned to office in 1959 His successors as president, first a Georges Pompidou and then Mr. Giscard d'Estaing, were also his political heirs. Thus France has been governed by its conservative half for the last 22 years. And it is not only the left that feels that ; change -- of people perhaps morthan policies — is necessary.

The country's center, floating between right and left, is susceptible to this argument. It is also sus ceptible to a conflicting one, in volving the other submerged issue the suspicion that a Socialist victo ry may lead to uncomfortable changes, and the fear that to a semble a legislative majority, the Socialists may eventually have to rely on the Communists.

There is bad feeling between th two parties of the left, and the feel ing is widespread that if the Social ists take power they would gover toward the center, in the pattern C other social democratic parties i Europe. It is nonceable that i contrast with previous election: there seems to be very little alari in the business community at the possibility that Mr. Mitterran might win.

The feeling that it may be tim for a change, and the feeling the the country has not been doin badly compared with other part of Europe and that these bad time are no time for risky experiment - these are the submerged issue Before April 26 the French ma grow anxious and even excite about the outcome, but for the moment, as the magazine Le Poir said the other day. France is yawı

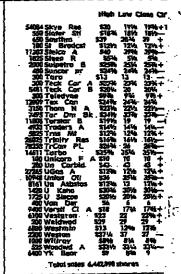

Closing Prices, April 16, 1981

675 H Group A
3209 Hard Crp A
6991 Hawker A
5990 Haryes D
7349 H Bay Co
10030 IAC
1710 Indo 1701 Indo
1701

164 Not Trust $26 26 26 90 90
NSSAS Normodo $33 30% 33% 2
NSSAS Normodo $33 30% 33% 2
NASAS NORMODO $33 30% 33% 2
NASAS NORMODO $31 30% 30% 31% 2
NASAS NORMODO $41 512 21% 2
NASAS NORMODO $41 512 23% 2
NASAS NORMODO $315% 15 15% 4 66 $19% 19% 19% 4 $21 25% 21 4 6 A 813 12% 12% $13% 13% 13% 13% 5 $13% 13% 13% 13% 4 $13% 12% 12% 2 $22% 21% 22 $24% 24 24% 4 Montreal Stocks

Closing Prices, April 16, 1981

5304 354 354 4 5134 154 154 4 5174 174 174 4 536 274 254 4 536 274 276 4 536 364 366 4 5176 176 176 4 520 276 276 4 $27 20% 31 + 14 $34 33% 34 +1 Total Sales 1,836,827 shares.

European Stock Markets

April 17, 1981 (Closing prices in local currencie. Milan SCI (odex : M.A. Dravings ; N.A.

DRUG INDUSTRIES AND THE EUROPE GROUP MEDICAL APPLIANCES

INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVE OPPORTUNITIES

(ACDIMA) Seeks qualified and experienced personnel of Arab nationality to fill the following positions:

Director - Technical Department Ph.D. in Industrial Pharmacy

THE ARAB COMPANY FOR

Experience: Not less than five years in Production at Pharmaceutical industries. Participated in preparing feasibility studies for formulation plants with knowledge of project evaluations.

Director - Department of Planning for Financial H. & Economic Studies Ph.D. Economics or DBA (Finance)

> Experience: Five years in project evaluation and financial analysis. Prepared and/or participated with a team in analyzing projects and conducting feasibility studies. Persons holding MBA and having experience of not less than eight years may be considered.

Head - Research & Development Division Ph.D. Pharmaceutical Chemistry

> Experience: Not less than five years in research and development department of pharmaceutical formulation plants. Persons with MSc. degree and eight years experience may be considered.

Please send your C.V. to :

Director General ACDIMA P.O. Box 925161 Amman, Jordan Telex: 21172 Acdima JO New York Stock Exchange, has management positions available for experienced people in the following areas:

- LARGE PROJECT MOBILIZATION
 - LARGE LABOR FORCES.

well as South America. A knowledge of Arabic or Spanish is desirable for some of the positions.

INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVES

CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT

Assignments for these positions will be in the Middle East as career oriented fast growing firm with existing substantial sized municipal service contracts in the Middle East and South America, contact:

103 Kingsway, LONDON, WC2.

International Executive Opportunities appears on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. For information and costs of advertising.

Tel.: 747.12.65 adon: Michael Mitchell Tel.: 242 51 73. russels; Arthur Maixner Tel.: 343 18 99,

Tel.: 361 83 97/360 24 21.

Stockholm: P. Kernig Tel.: (08) 51 68 70.

Tel.: 28 36 78. Lausanne: Guy Van Thuyne Tel.: 29 58 94. New York: Sandy O'Hara Tel.: 752 38 90. Rome: Antonio San Tel.: 679 34 37. Tel.: 455 33 06. Lisbon: Rite Amba

Brussels (+ major cities), BIGLAND: 01-628 7969 NOW ALSO IN LONDON, OTHER SEC CAPITALS Tel: Germany 0-6103-86122 LONDON

Portman Escort Agency 67 Chilburn Street, London W1 7EL: 486 3724 or 486 1158

5700-16 1700-1

EDUCATION LEARN GERMAN IN GERMANY

FRENDSPRACHEN-INSTITUT MAWRIZKI Intersive courses thring holiday per-olso- please request prospected Wilhelm-Shur-Stress 12/14 D - 6900 HEDILBERG

SEA PINES ABROAD

Anteriom Preparatory School in the Salabung Alps.
Co-ed, grades 9-12
Boarding, trovel. High scadesiac Catalog Write Sae Pines Abrook.
5324 Faistende, Salabung, Austric

Estudios de Espanol, Ave. 1.5. Bc.
110, Melaga.

A SUMMER SCHOOL Aug. 14
Discovering the Human Sprit. A troduction to Authroposophy at E son College, Forest Row, Sutset, land, Brochere from Dept. H.
DIFLOMA/DEGREE! in atterior de Correspondence course, Detois I.
HT. Rhode International, BCM
dec, London WC 1N, 30X, UK.
576ENER EDUCATION 2eth - 31st
on introduction of Emergen Col Forest Row, Sussex, England.
PREMCH COURSES IN PARES. 7
POLYTICATOR Paris 770 29 96 Loc.
01-235 0231 Bonn 0228-223085.

PEN PALS

GRES AND GUYS oil continents pen pols, Details free! Hermas VI Bos 110660/N., D-1000 Berlin West Germany.

ESCORTS & GUIDE

MilleCife Stor Scort-Service Files or mole. Tel: (089) 317 79 00: ZURICH - Tel: 0.095-6100-81 Onego Escort Service/Germany, FRANGUST - KAREN Escort Service/Germany, 7th (0511-691662

TOR US 1 - 681662.

PRANKTINT - ESCORT AGENCY, -COLIT - 671653.

PRANKTINT - WESBADEN - M.
STRILLY BOOT SERVICE. To 3062.

ATHENS ESCORT SERVICE. To 3062.

BERLIN CITY ESCORT Service (030) 874999.

(Continued from Back Page) HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL HELLAS YACHTING. Yocht charter Academics 28, Athens 134, Greece.

TEALY

ESCORTS & GUIDES

CAPRICE

ESCORT SERVICE

IN NEW YORK

TEL: 212-737 3291.

CACHET U.S.A.

ESCORT SERVICE

NEW YORK 212-242-0835 or 212-874-1310 MAN: FLORIDA 305-425-1722 FT. LAUDRIDALE, FLA. 305-942-547

Other major cities available on request.

LONDON

BELGRAVIA

ESCORT SERVICE TEL: 736 5877

ALEXANDRIA

London Secont Service

Tel: 289 6977 4, 269 7384

Weekly departures from London, Paris, Brussels, Amsterdam, Frankfurt, Zurich, Bed & Continental Breakfast in Nairobi. All meals on Safori. Best Hotels/Ladges. NILESTAR TOURS (Africa) I.d. (ASTA) behanderhenel Soles/Reservations:
823 Grond Blobs, Trafelger Sc.
London WC2N SRN, Tel. 930 1895, Ts: 262972 or canada your local Travel Agents. The mognificent

STELLA SOLARIS The yocht-like STELLA OCEANIS 3-4-7 DAY CRUISES The best of the Greek Islands, Egypt, Israel, Cyprus and Turkey. Every Mandoly roll Pricaus. Heate apply to your travel agent or SUN LINE, 2 Kar. Service Str., Afters. Tales: 21-621, Propor 3028-863

SUPI, SEA ... and a sense of community. On Beautiful Skyros Island, THE SKYROS CBNIRE. Growth groups, areative events, Greek Island Indiany community. Details. Dr. Dine Glouberman. 20 Dingwell Gdns. London NVIII TET, England. 01-428 2783.

RY AND CAMPING VAN RENIAL Enjoy Exceps at your own pose. Confortable, fully equipped, insured. Departs Paris/after French cities. Societe ELS. Centre PKS, 47300 Chalet, França. Tek 41-424142

ESCORTS & GUIDES ESCORTS, N.Y. INTERNATIONAL EVERYWHERE, U.S.A.

EVERYWHERE YOU GO, AMERICAL 212-359-6273 212-961 1945/461 2421

ESCORT SERVICE.

CONTACTA INTERNATIONAL
 Excrt Service in Europe:
GEMANY:
 Ost 63-86122
 Frenkfurt - Westbeden - Melez Cologne - Bost - Descendont Berint - Manich - Hemburg.
SWITZELAND: 0049-6103-86122
 Zurich - Sessi - Lucerne - Berns Lucerne - Generon.
BEIGRIM: 0049-6103-86122
 Russek (+ major cilise).
BNGLAND: 01-628-7969

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL HOLIDAY ADVENTURE For 7/17 year aids
If your child to one of our selects Summer Comps. RDSNG, Tennis
20 Diving, Just some of 30/40 acids
Complete Adult Supervisio
roughout, A Liteline's Adventural

SUPERCAMP USA (IHT)
32 Hill Street, Richmond,
Surrey, England,
Tel: London (0) 1948 4201
TX: 895 2747. HOTELS RESTAURANTS NIGHT CLUBS FRANCE PARIS - Plann Miraheau *  NN, 10 Ava. E. Zolo, 1-2-3 room flats, bath, letchen, fridge. 577 72 00: GREAT BRITAIN

MUNGARY 1981. 2 day trip from Visuants to Budapas/but from AS 1037.

IT Tours - Budapas/but from AS 1037.

IT Tours - Budapas/but from AS 1037.

IT Jours - Budapas/but from AS 1037.

Z250. By hydroid and fight to Budapas - days AS 200. Vas quodament within 24 hours. Ask for brochure Thrappay 1981. IBUSZ Travel Agency, 1010 Visuana, Kominerstr. 26. 1th 526208.

CHARTER A VALEF YACHT in Greece direct from conser of larguel fleet in Europe. American monagenerat. Excelered from conser of larguel fleet in Europe. American monagenerat. Excelered from conser of larguel fleet in Europe. American monagenerat. Excelered from College 22. Firosus, Greece. Tel. 4527957, 452988. Telev. 21-200.

GREECE BY YACHT Motor/Soil to discover 2000 islands of bissure. INN CN THE SEA, Bottoni 1, Fironus, Greece. Tel. 4524097, the 211247.

CRIESE the Mediterranear. Superb, well accipped 45 ft. ketch ovoloble for charter with superinerad stoper. Belgium 2/345 12 75 eventings.

FIE - Sontrad, keury, inactional houses. Sleep 6. £65 - £140/week. Tel. Mrs. Durlop 03372-496 UK.

ESCORTS & GUIDES

ESCORT SERVICE AND PROMOTIONS

N.Y.-U.S.A.

Travel anywhere with multilingual escerts,

Major Gredit Cards Actsepted.
212-743-7896 or 745-7754,

130 W. 566h St., N.Y., N.Y., 10019, htterpolynol Escert needed.

REGENCY - USA WORLDWIDE MUETUNGUAL ESCORT SERVICE NEW YORK CITY Tel: 212-838-8027 8-212-753-1864

By reservation only.

SILVER FOX ESCORT SERVICE OUTCALL

NEW YORK 212-691-7734 212-741-2524

HOTELS RESTAURANTS NIGHT CLUBS TROUS HOLDAYS- England. Teans U.S.A. LOW COST FLIGHTS

TUDOR HOTEL, 304 Bost 43nd Street, New York City, le fest-ionable, 5se Side Menhalton, half block from UN. Single from $48; doubles from $60, Telem, 422951. BUROPE - N.Y. Fos. $15; Round Trip Frs. 1,630, 115 225 12 39 Paris. BOOKS

Herrishi BODISHOP WELCOMES you. Come either in person or send your mail order. We offer a wide se-taction of Bristin American books (olso children 3). We also sell all British tour-iet publication. BEADING MAXTERS. Order your U.S. books through us. Personal service on all American filles in print of U.S. Est price. Contach Noncy Rosen and Lasrel Storie, c/o Beading Mothers, 30 Bratile St. Dept. HT, Condendar, Massachusetts (2139, USA. GORE HOTEL, LONDON, a great fo-varies with the discriminating invalide. 10 minuses West End. All rooms with color TV, bettersoon, radio, helphone. Singles from $27.00. Deathles from $25.00. Tel: 394 66 DI. Telen $96691 prefix Gone, 187 Queen's Gate, Lon-don SW7.

BOOKS from Assertes, any U.S. book / subject, Send let US Overses Book, PO 2066, Great Neck; N.Y. 11022. EDUCATION

HOTEL LA FENECE et des Anistes. Pre-ferred for its unique estressphere, les-urious confort, but moderate prions. Near Theotre La Ferrica, 5 mirs wolfning distonce from St. Merco Square. Reservations, Tel: 47 22233 Version 19-411150 Ferrica. Monager Dorte Apol-losio. COURSES IN INVISION for forlegs stu-dents in Chaster & Liverpool, Individu-als or Agencies welcoms, E.S.C., 30 Whoddon Drive, Chester, Tel, Chester 675 319 (England). ESCORTS & GUIDES

LONDON ESCORT AGENCY Tal. 23) 1158 oc 231 8818.

AMSTERDAM . ESCORT GUIDE SERVICE

LONDON - CHELSEA GEL Export Service, 5) Beouthomp Moss, London SW3, Tek 01 994 6573/2049, 4-12 pm.

RAMONA - AMSTERDAM Escort Service. Tel. (2) 20-732940 BYGLISH ESCORY SERVICE Heath & London Avecs, Tel: 07-754 6281.

ROME EUROPE Excen & Guido Service. Tel: 05/5992604 - 589 1146 10 cm. - 10 pm. HEATHROW ESCORT SERVICE, London and Gamedy, Tels 01-351-2160, 12-2 p.m.

LOUISA ISCORT SERVICE Headmow, Survey and London Areas, Tel. 01 390 4699-noon-10em. LONDON - CONTIACT Scort Service. Tel. 07-402 4000, 01-402 4008 OR 07-470 0989 VIENNA - HARMONY Escort Service. Tel: 63 89 05 or 02244/2418. VIRANA - MICHELE ESCORT Service.

Phone 01-229 9925, 10 cm - 9 pm LONDON BUANCA Execut Service 352 3467 352 3667.
COSMOS - London needs exter Landon 07 723 7297.
BLZABETH ESCORT SERVICE Linds 883 6626.
CHANTELLE ESCORT SERVICE don 201 1198 or 201 8818.
CHANABACHP ESCORT SERVICE don 201 1198 or 201 8818.
CHANABACHP ESCORT SERVICE LONDON TOWN TOWN, BECORT SERVICE 170-100 1198 of 212-600 1634 of 212-600 16 NOW TOLK CITY BUTE ESCOR AMSTERDAM IB Except St. 222785 Builen Wieringenstrope. LONDON JACQUELFIE Sout 5 194.422.79.49.
LOPEDON EXECUTIVE Beent 5
Tel, 262.3108.
HOLLAND, ESCORT AND GUS
vice, Tel-(22).634053/4347-90. COMPRIHACIEN EXCLUSIVE E SERVICE Tet 1.244 (34, 500-12)

FRENCHMAN, 46, HIGH RANKING reconstruction, 46, HIGH RANKING EXECUTIVE, fluent both in English and German, expert in International Trade and Finance: Expart marketing of industrial products and turn-key resistants. projects, such monogement and con-trol, combined multinational export finance packages, managing director of an export finance house, looks for finance, Ref.: 135 - PARIS CADRES EXECUTIVE MANAGER, 44, engineer + MBA, fluent french/English + tonovledge of German, 14 years experience in 2 multilangual groups (American & Swedish), of which 8 as general manager of French subsidiaries, acting on European/Asian/African markets for equipment goods. Available immediately for equipment responsibilities or high level interrotional marketing functions. Ref.: 134-PARIS CADRES 1/JCB.

L'Agence Nationale

Pour l'Emploi

AGENCE SPECIALISEE

DES INGENIEURS ET CADRES

12, rue Blonche 75436 PARIS CEDEX OP Tel. , 280.61,46, Ed. 71, 285.44,40, Ed. 42.

OIL TRADER AFRICA

A world-wide trading company seeks for new West African office an oil trader to expand existing contacts.

Candidate should be:

rangeme

 Knowledgeable with full range petroleum products Acqueinted with some Stateowned oil companies in Africa

- Able to seek out market informotion Top salary with attractive bonus ar-

P.O. Box X Gracie Square Station New York, NY 10028.

Fluent in English (French help-

Our employees are aware of this od. Please reply in confidence to:

production facilities as well as world wide distribution and exhibition of theatrical motion pictures, is seeking a qualified executive to fill with responsibility the following position:

DIRECTOR OF SALES

A major organization consisting of a group of companies engaged in the field of broadcasting video, television and cinema commercials, film-

 a) Marketing. b) Programming. c) Ability of self-decision. d) A minimum of 7 years experience with Candidates are requested to send their application with a professional resume to: Manufacturers Hollywood International bv.

major advertising agencies.

Koningsplein 14, 1017 BB Amsterdam. Company based in Amsterdam, Salary according to qualifications. We assure full confidentiality.

One of the fastest growing U.S. Corporations listed on the

- --- BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT
- MOBILE MAINTENANCE DIRECT MANAGEMENT AND SUPPORT OF

If the above areas are of interest, and if you wish to join a

Box 33158, International Herald Tribuna,

For information and costs of advertising, contact the international Herald Tribune office in your country.

Peris: Max Ferrero Frankfurt: H. Jung or K. Chiff Amsterdam: Alfons Grim Tel.: 26 36 15.

Tel.: Tel.: 672793/662544

ا حكدا من الأصل

32 -

4.75

....

Mark Commence

. .

general Permitati

ships waiting at Hampton Roads since January and February to be

The wait can be costly. Mrs.

Chasnov estimated that demurrage costs incurred for loading delays have run $15,000 to $18,000 per ship per day, adding about $15 to the cost of a ton of coal, which on average sells for $45 to $50 a ton.

An interim report on coal exports prepared in January by an Interagency Coal Export Task Force for the U.S. Energy Department noted that at Hampton

Roads, with 55 million tons of export capacity, there were as many as 130 ships waiting an average of 40 days to be loaded in January.

The demurrage costs, the report calculated, were as high as $10,000

The U.S. coal strike has eased

the congestion temporarily, and there are now about 40 ships wait-

. Foreign customers warn that such costs and delays may cause

the United States the loss of long-term contracts being sought particularly by European power companies - many of which are switch-can come up with a package that coal from mine to ship and enable them to keep better control of with announcements of major expansions, which they use as marketing incentives to reassure cus-

The coal companies counter

Meanwhile, the railroads fear that the coal companies, by getting their own coal-handling piers, could increase their control of the flow of coal and shut out smaller producers that the railroads ser-insure adequate delivery of ing from oil to coal - unless they per day per ship.

ing to be loaded.

INTERNATIONAL -Herald-Tribune-

Page 9 Saturday-Sunday, April 18-19, 1981 * *

SINESS NEWS BRIEFS U.S. Coal Exporters

ese Firms Win Argentine Rail Contract

- A Japanese consortium has won a contract for 77 billion : $356 million) from Argentina to electrify and supply equip-commuter railway line, Marubeni said Friday. sembers of the consortium are Toshiba, Hitachi, Mitsubishi id Nippon Electric. The contract from Argentina's national indes supplying cars, communication systems, rails and other for a 40-kilometer (25-mile) line to be completed by 1985.

Fime to Continue at Estel Hoogovens

EN, Netherlands — Estel Hoogovens, the Dutch steel opera-stel Hoesch-Hoogovens, said Friday that it plans another six hort time at its Limniden plant, starting April 26. About 2,500 00 employees will work an average of 25 percent fewer hours. are working 20 percent less time.

id to Win Zimbabwe Locomotive Deal AP-Date Jones

URY — General Motors has won a multimillion-dollar conovide Zimbabwe with 25 diesel-electric locomotives urgently avert a transport crisis, it was reported Friday in Salisbury. omotives, due for delivery late this year, are expected to recomotives - a fifth of Zimbabwe's fleet - being repossessed Africa. The contract reportedly is to be financed by a $54n for transportation pledged to Zimbahwe by Knwait.

f Chairman Vows to Revitalize Airline

United Press International Chairman John J. Ca-VINE, Texas — Braniff International Chairman John J. Cawith a tough auditors' report, has pledged to use all efforts to ailing airline to financial health after its auditors told stockit the company may be unable to survive its financial troubles, many, which lost more than $131 million last year, reported a r net loss of $23.6 million, compared with a loss of $21.96 ear ago. However, Braniff said it had a first-quarter operating 454,000 against an operating loss of $22.5 million for the same

Plans to Sell Industrial Unit to Reading New York Times Service

DRK - Gould Inc. has announced that it has signed a letter o sell its industrial group to the Reading Co. for about $380 bject to adjustments. Reading would also assume certain liathe five-division industrial group, which manufactures prod-transportation and capital equipment markets.

e Gets Go-Ahead to Open Tokyo Office

-The Finance Ministry said Friday it has authorized Jardine Hong Kong to open a branch office in Tokyo on May 1. It fifth foreign securities company with a branch office in Japan, vierrill Lynch, Bache, Vickers da Costa and Smith Barney.

Clamor for Outlets

By Agis Salpukas New York Times Service NEW YORK -- When Claire C.

Chasnov, assistant director for ATIC, a French association that buys coal in North America, meets with U.S. coal executives, she offers them advice on how to grab a share of the growing export market for coal.

"Gentlemen," she says firmly, "until you get it out of the country, you haven't sold it."

Coal executives have apparently taken her words to heart. In the past year there has been a flurry of announcements detailing plans to expand coal-handling installations at ports along the East Coast. New projects have spring up so quickly that a government study has warned of future overcapacity.

Others fear that the rivalry among railroads, coal compani and ports to capture some of the coal trade has resulted in fragmented expansion plans. A helterskelter approach, it is argued, may make it difficult for U.S. producers to compete with South Africa, Australia and Canada, where coal companies have put together more systematic projects.

While the companies move to expand installations, coal exports re surging. Last year, they totaled 89.9 million tons, compared with 64.7 million in 1979, and shipments in the first quarter of this year were well ahead of those in the comparable period last year.

The increased foreign demand has been so great that Hampton Roads, Va, the nation's leading coal port, often has lines of ships waiting for months to be loaded.

Mrs. Chasnov said that the Association Technique de l'Importation Charbonniere, which bought 7.5 million tons of coal last year and expects to buy 11 million to 12 million tons this year, has had six

Reason for Surge

an Feels European Heat on Exports Allen B. Childress, director of international coal and one traffic for the Norfolk & Western Railway American Express/Shearson Talks Seen the Norfolk & Western Railway, These are not exports from lowsaid the surge in coal demand is the result of a combination of earlier oil shortages, the political un-rest in Poland — which has cut coal exports there by 50 percent and more rapid conversion to coal than expected by some European nations

> How much of the boom is a result of short-term factors and what the actual long-term growth of coal change within three years.

> ously to expand installations. The Coal Export Task Force estimated that capacity to handle about 18 million tons of coal a year was under construction on the East Coast and that capacity for 81 million more tons was in the planning

5 million tons is under construc-tion and installations for a further 33 million are planned. On the West Coast, capacity to handle 47 million tons is planned, the report

Soaring Exports, Capital Inflows

Friday a sharply improved trade position in the 1980 fiscal year, created by soaring exports and a healthy inflow of foreign capital.

Japan's visible trade surplus surged to $6.77 billion in fiscal record $2.44 billion deficit in fiscal 1979, the Finance Ministry said in a preliminary report.

Reuters ance of payments deficit fell to TOKYO — Japan announced on $196 million from a record $18.95 record $13.85-billion deficit a year earlier.

> in February.
>
> The ministry said the visible trade surplus in March widened to $2.15 billion, nearly double the February surplus of $1.38 billion and compared with a $36-million > deficit a year earlier. March exports rose 31 percent over a year earlier, while imports were a record $2.92 billion.

Gold Options (prices in 5/04.) Prices May Arg. Option for November 1400-1700 3400-3900 7,00-1000 20,00-31,00 3,00-5,00 20,00-23,00 1,00-2,00 13,00-16,00 0,50-1,00 8,00-11,00 stori en May 4, 1961 Valeurs White Weld S.A. 1, Quai de Mont-Blanc 1211 Genera I, Switzerle Tel. 310251 - Telex 283

A Dour Message on Inflation

By Leonard Silk

New York Times Service
NEW YORK — Does anybody know how to stop inflation painlessly? The answer is no, according to the Group of Thirty.

This group of leading eco-nomic thinkers is headed by H. Johannes Witteveen, former managing director of the International Monetary Fund. The members include such prominent figures as Otmar Emminger, the former president of the West German central bank, Alexandre Lamfalussy of the Bank for International Settlements, Henry C. Wallich of the Federal Reserve Board, Robert V. Roosa of Brown Brothers Harriman and Marina V. N. Whitman of the General Motors

Last weekend the Group of Thirty met in Frankfurt to consider the nature of inflation and how to combat it.

These economists denounced inflation roundly for hurting economic efficiency, interfering with economic growth, redistributing income unfairly, altering tax burdens, worsening social tensions, drawing governments more deeply into economic processes, undermining confidence in government itself and assorted other sins.

Little Optimism

After all this fire and brimstone, however, the group de-parted with not much sign of optimism that inflation, having been around so long, would lie down and expire once all the conventional wisdom had been uttered. The experts recognized that inflationary expectations remain powerful in many countries and would probably be self-fulfilling.

How could a government get rid of those inflationary expectations? That is what some of the top economic advisers in the Reagan administration are

By Robert J. Cole

New York Times Service

takeover by American Express.

pared to pay almost $80 a share - to gain a foothold in the brokerage

Shearson stock has been strong lately, apparently a result of the company's above-average earnings, but Wall Street professionals began taking a closer look because of the persistent rise in the stock.

It has gone up 71/4 a share since

Late Thursday night, Sanford I. Weill, chairman of Shearson, said in a brief telephone interview that he would not respond "positively

a total of more than $1 billion industry.

Monday.

trying to do by insisting, among other things, that the money supply will be increased only at a very slow rate. Thus far, however, the financial markets have not found this promise credible. After many efforts to rally, the bond market plunged again this week as interest rates climbed.

The Group of Thirty warned that inflationary expectations could not be rooted out "by promises or threats." Governments can regain credibility only by winning the clash between anti-inflationary policies and inflationary expectations.

But how to do this? Not by setting the monetary dials on automatic pilot for slow growth and going to sleep. While declaring that "nobody can deny inflation is a monetary phenomenon." the group also stressed the importance of fiscal policy and institutional behavior in checking inflation.

Shock Treatment

Noting that inflation was stopped in Central Europe in 1923 by sudden, strong govern-mental action, some economists favor a "short sharp shock" as the way to kill off inflationary expectations now.

But the Group of Thirty concluded that, in countries where inflation is deeply imbedded, the cost of a short sharp shock could be heavy because of its impact on businesses and households with contractual commitments made in the belief that inflation would continue. The group found "no evidence" to support the contention that a sudden change in monetary poli-cy would induce a big change in inflationary expectations.

Nor did the experts see any quick cure for inflation in proposed measures to spur productivity, eliminate government regulations or directly control wages and prices. However, they said less rigid forms of incomes policy could make a "modest contribution" if they embodied a broad social consensus on income distribution and reinforced the government's own commitment to control infla-

BUSINESS/FINANCE

Supply-side measures to increase saving and capital formation or increase competition can be beloful against inflation but cannot "bear fruit" quickly, the group warned. And the effectiveness of such supply-side measures would be impaired without strong demand-side pol-icies to check inflation.

Matter of Faith

In brief, the economic thinkers assembled in Frankfurt found "no easy way to avoid a confrontation between disinflationary demand management and inflationary expectations." Governments would have to keen their anti-inflation commitments until price and wage setters were at last convinced that general price increases would lead only to lost export sales, and not the accompanying reduction in the real wage rate, and that wage increases in excess of productivity gains would lead to lost jobs.

This was a dour message that politicians, liberal or conservative, cannot find appealing. The wage and price setters in the United States, as well as the financial markets, will obviously need a lot more convincing before their inflationary expectations evaporate.

Beyond their concern about the ability of politicians to hold to their anti-inflationary commitments, the financial markets are fundamentally skeptical about whether the Reagan administration's mixture of big tax cuts, social spending cuts and defense spending increases, joined to orthodox monetarism, even adds up to a credible antiinflation policy.

Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette and to have sold the block for roughly

$3 a share. Two years ago American Express failed to buy the publishing house McGraw-Hill for $1

In a recent step interpreted as signaling a new shift in providing financial services to consumers,

Prudential Insurance agreed to pay

$385 million for the Bache Group, the corporate parent of Bache Hal-sey Stuart Shields, another leading brokerage house. Prudential said

Thursday that it had already purchased enough Bache stock to give

A deal between American Express and Shearson would be a further move in that direction. American Express already has vast travel-related services, including credit cards and travelers' checks, a chain of banks outside the United States,

insurance, and a cable television company owned jointly with

Warner Communications.

it control.

Output Cuts Agreed to By Eurofer

Reuters
BRUSSELS — The European Economic Community's main steelmakers have reached a tentative agreement on voluntary production cuts.

Eurofer, the association that accounts for 80 percent of EEC steel output, said in a communique late Thursday that a draft accord on the curbs is expected to be signed. "in the very near future."

A meeting of the 15 producers
Thursday in Luxembourg on a system of voluntary production and delivery quotas resolved, with few exceptions, all the outstanding problems, Eurofer said. It said the draft accord will be sent to the EEC Commission in the next few

No specific details of the pact were released. It would replace the EEC Commission's controls on output, which expire June 30. EEC Davignon had threatened to renew those controls if the steelmakers did not agree among themselves by May 1.

The commission declared a state of "manifest crisis" in the industry last year when a previous agreement on voluntary controls collapsed.

Eurofer said it will seek meetings with independent producers in the next week with the aim of bringing them into the new accord. Steelmakers that do not form part of Eurofer could undermine the agreement by cutting prices, industry sources noted.

The major producers also agreed to new minimum prices to come into force along with the output curbs on July 1. Eurofer said. These would be aimed at recouping the substantial cost increases over recent months.

Price increases of 10 to 15 percent for the second quarter, settled at a meeting earlier this month, would be rigorously enforced even if that required further cutbacks in production, the association said.

The most significant problem still blocking agreement was a de-mand by the West German firm Kloeckner Werke for a higher quota in the coil sector, industry sources said. Kloeckner caused the breakup of the last voluntary pact over what it saw as unfair limitations on output from its modernized plants. But the steelmakers are confident the present problem can be resolved, perhaps by asking Mr. Davignon to arbitrate, the sources

U.S. Personal Income Rises by 0.8% in U.S.

WASHINGTON - U.S. personal income rose 0.8 percent in March to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $2.335 trillion, the Commerce Department reported Friday. The increase followed a 0.7-percent rise in February.

It said personal savings grew $1 billion to $93.3 billion in March. Personal savings stood at 4.7 per-cent of disposable personal income in February, the latest month that satistics are available.

ADVERTISEMENT INTERNATIONAL FUNDS April 17, 1981 tions shown below are supplied by the Funds listed with whose quotes are based on issue prices. The following requency of quotations supplied for the IHT: (d)—daily; ;(r)—resultarty: (l)—travallarty.

(w)—weekly; (m)—monihiy; (r)—regularly; (i)—kragolarly.
ALLIANCE INTL.c/o Bk of Bermud — (d)Allignce Infl.$Rsvs.($1)	lo.Berm.	Other Funds
		(w) Alexander Fund	$14,48 $ 1,006,7R
BANK JULIUS BAER & Co Lid: — (d) & Boerbond	0E 784 AF	(r) Arab Finance I.F	$ 1,892.57
— (d) Conbar	SF 11400	(w) Trustcor Int. Fd (AEIF)	58,92
(d) Stockbor S	5F 754.00 F 1,113.00	(w) Bondselex - Issue Pr	SF 120.7S 5 10.43
DANY LONG EDNET & Cla AC DD	M22 Berr	(w) CAMIT (w) Capital Gales Inv	5 10.43 $ 18.35
BANK VON ERNST & Cle AG FB : — (d) CSF Fund	SF 18.86	(w) Citodel Fund	5241
- (d) Crossbow Fund	SF 6.83 5 1399	(m) Cleveland Offshore Fd	$ 1.531.62
		(w) Convert. Fd Int. A Certs (w) Convert, Fd Int. B Certs	$7.79 $17,89
BRITANNIA TRUST MNGT.(CI) L (w) Universal Growth Fund (w) High Interest Sterling	125.7c	(d) Cortexa International	$ 184.54
	£85,0oxd	+(w) Currency Trust	11 6 p
CAPITAL INTERNATIONAL: — (w) Capital Ini'i Fund — (w) Capital Italia S.A — (w) Canvertible Capital S.A		(w) Data Force Inti	$1.25 555.39
— (w) Capital Italia 5.A	5 25.45 5 14.81 5 31.61	(w) D.G.C(d) Drevius Fund Inti	5 26.01
— (w) Convertible Capital S.A	12.15	(w) Dreylus interpontment	$ 32.20
CREDIT SUISSE:		(d) Europe Obligations	_F 1.578.00 $.37.76
— (d) Acilons Suisses — (d) Conasec	SF 294.00 SF 733.00	(d) Energy Intl, N.V (w) First Eagle Fund	$9.293.00 ·
— (d) C.S. Fonds-Bonds	SF 60.00 SF 79.50	(w) Fonselex Issue Pr	SF 192.80
— (d) Energie Velor	SF 143.00	(w) Formulo Selection Fd	SF 90.76
CREDIT SUISSE: - (d) Acilians Suisses	SF 143.00 SF 451.00 SF 115.50	(d) Fonditaila(d) Frankf-Truși Interzias	$ 23.10 DM 37.40
DIT INVESTMENT FRANKFURT		(d.) Global Fund Ltd	SF 5.38
-+(d) Concentro	DM 17.19 DM 61.75	(d) Global Int'l Fund	DM 7.26
+(d) Int'l Rentenfond	DAR 61.75	(w) Houssmoon Hides, NV	5 674.83 5 106.70
FIDELITY PO Box 670. Hamilton, B	lermyda: $ 19,03	(d) Indosuez Multibonds A (d) Indosuez Multibonds B	$ 100.70 $ 125.10
FIDELITY PQ Box 670. Homilton, B - (m) American Values Common - (m) American Values Carm, Pref [w] Fidelity Amer. Assets (d) Fidelity Dir. Sys., Tr (d) Fidelity Vir. Sys., Tr (w) Fidelity Vir. Fig. Car (w) Fidelity Vir. Fig. Car (w) Fidelity World Fd	5101.00	(d) Intertund S.A	S 13.88
- (w) Fidelity Amer. Assets	$41.91 $78.23	(w) intermarket Fund	5 201.12
- (d) Fidelity For East Fd	5 32.71	(w) Int'l Inc Fund (Jersey) (r) Int'l Securities Fund	$ 19.89 $ 11.44
— (w) Fidelity lat? Fund — (w) Fidelity Pacific Fund	$ 45.69 $ 110.59	(d) investo DWS	DAA 31,96
- (w) Fidelity World Fd	$ 25.86	(r) Invest Allantiques	$ 62.94
G.T. MANAGEMENT LTD:		(r) Italiarium Ini'l Fd S.A (w) Japan Selection Fund	$13.22 $115.13
— (w) Berry Poc. Fd, Lld — (w) G T Asin Fund	$ 62.91 HK$ 20.83	(w) Japan Pocific Fund	5 42.7s
— (d) G.1. Bond Fund	5 11.96	(d) KB Income Fund	LF 1.453.00 .
— (d) G.T. Investment Fund	$ 11.96 $ 14.30 18.60 $16.39	(d) Kielnwort Benson Int. Fd	$ 17,46 $ 44,45
G.T. MANAGEMENT LTD: — (wi Berry Pac, Fd, Ltd	516.3V 5 27.38	(w) Kielswort Bens, Jop. Fd (w) Leverage Cop. Hold	S 109.40
LESSING & CAMPS.		(w) Luxiund	5 41.79
JARDINE FLEMING: (r) Jardine Japan Fund (r) Jardine S.Easi Asia	Y 2348 54365	(d) Medicianum Sel. Fund	$ 17.14 5.64
		(d) Neuwirth let'l Fund	5 22.82
LLOYDS BANK INT., POB 438 GEN	(EVA II	(w) Nor. Amer. Inv. Fund	5 5.00A
-+(w) Lloyds Int'l Income	SF 292_50	(w) Nor. Amer. Book Fd	$ 4.27° $ 107.88
RBC Investment Mars, PO Box 246,	Guernsey	(w) N.A.M.F	5 100.10
RBC Investment Mars, PO Box 246, 	$ 11.14 $ 10.57	(d) Panmec Skipping S.A	$ 1.55
	$ 5.32	(d) Putnam Intern'l Fund	$43.59 . $1,840.00
ROTHSCHILD ASSET MGMT (Ber — (w) Reserve Assets Fd Lid		(w) Quantum Fund N.V	$ 52.55
		(d) Rentinvest	LF $05.0g
ROTHSCHILD ASSET MGTM (CI) — (r) O.C. Dir Commodity Tr		(d) Sate Fund	3418 .
	5 46.40	(d) Sale Trust Fund (w) Samural Portfolia	s 10.32 SF 81.15
SOFID GROUPE GENEVA	E 1 476 65	fwl Seorn (N A V)	$ 20.14
— (r) Parton Sw. R Est — (r) Securswiss	F 1,022.00	(w) SMH Special Fund	DAN 38.30
EWISS DANK CODD.		(w) Talent Global Fund (w) Takya Pac, Hald (Sea)	$ 16.55 $ 67.98
— (d) Americo-Volor	SF 489.50 SF 64.50	(w) Tairve Pac, Hold N.V	5 93.23
— (d) Japan Pertielle	SF 537.00	(w) Transpecific Fund	5.52.12
- (d) Americo-Volor	5F 537.00 SF 227.50 SF 65.00 SF 88.04	(d) UNICO Fund	DM 47.30 54.61
— (d) Universal Fund,		(w) Western Growth Fund	57.94
UNION BANK OF SWITZERLAND — (d) Amee U.S. Sh):	(m) Winchester Overseas	$8.55
— (d) Bond Invest	SF 32.25 SF 56.50 SF 79.25	(d) World Essity Grib, Fd	$ 470.75
— (d) Convert-Invest	SF 79.25	(m) Worldwide Fund Ltd	$ 22-62 $ 125.29
— (d) Eurit Europe Sh — (d) Fenso Swiss Sh — (d) Globinvest	SF 100.25	(w) Worldwide Special	$ 1152.57
— (d) Giobinvest	SF 144.00 SF 100.25 SF 67.75 SF 137.50	DM - Deutsche Mark: Ex-	Obvidence :
— (d) Romeloc-Invest	CE 4M 4D	' — New; N.A. — Not Available: B	F — Beloi.
(d) Geostavest (d) Pocific Invest	SF 455.50 SF 190.00	um Francs; LF Luxembourg Fr	CONCR.: SR .
		Swiss France: + - Offer prices; o	- Asked;
UNION INVESTMENT, Frankfurt — (d) Unicento	DM 34.02	b - Bid Change P/V $10 to $1 per of Stock Spill:  _ Ev DTS -  _ c.	#111, 5/5 —
— (d) Unifonds	DM 15.85	Stock Spill:  _ Ex RTS: $ _ Si N.C Not communicated: * _ •	mpenses; - Redefant
16 / Ururex	Date 42 14	PAICE -Ex-Coupon Yirid on USSI	-COUNIT

key sectors are politicaltools, personal computers and ct its own protectionist ry from Europe and the ain restrictions has conie Japanese leaders that m outlook for exports ious in Europe in than tened with car quotas. ve said that weak and d French industries rotected for at least a d of time. Britain's for-tary, Lord Carrington, I Japan not to make a al on automobiles with States, Even West Gerlid free-trader, is calling slow down. as complain that Japa-s are targeted in certain

'illiam Chapman

- While it tries to ne automobile export

the United States, Jang buffetted by tough

varnings to curb its ex-

ives or face a new wave

onism in the European

ame stance as Washing-

tionism is a dirty word

thing major trading hould avoid, they say.

nsist that unmoderated

Community countries.

hington Post Service

ctors whose vulnerabilindermine entire econo-· also accuse Japan of uble standard by com-1 U.S. trade complaints ing those of Europeans. on phrase in Japan re-"three-legged-chair" of man, the United States "The third leg is brob-ranking trade official y. Europe is more woryear than the United dded because the politof unemployment are ous there. Politicians ough about exports to is the scapegoat," he d_scapegoats are made period of near-equal Europe in the late in racked up a sizable . year. The EEC counwas almost $10 billion.

ary Intends nued Loans

Resters
ST — Hungary intends a raising loans in the ance projects aimed at amosts and saving eneral Bank President Mahas told parliament. ch reported Friday, Mr. The credits we raise ve investment and deourposes which guaran-nounced it would institute a new monitoring system to keep track of

In February, the community ancertain Japanese imports.

"That was really intended as a warning signal to Japan," a British economic expert said. "The EC felt that Japan has got to recognize its responsibility on exports."

A $10-billion deficit would not in itself be alarming, Europeans n leaders are taking contend, but the one with Japan is concentrated in a few vital sectors - automobiles and electronics, including television sets, in particular. Other export items that increased substantially in volume last year were bearings, machine

Baldrige Sees Opening on Car

From Agency Dispatches
WASHINGTON — Japan
has indicated willingness to impose voluntary limits on car exports to the United States and the Reagan administration will accept whatever limit Tokyo offered, Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige said Friday. When asked what kind of voluntary quota by the Japanese would the administration like, Mr. Baldrige said, "We will accept whatever they come up with."

"They [the Japanese] have inon their part," Mr. Baldnige told a news conference.

iast year.

"I think the word voluntary tration is concerned."

The Commerce secretary said that despite several pieces of proposed legislation setting lev-els for Japanese imports, "I don't think we can sit here and say there will or will not be leg-islative quotas if there is no voluntary restraint."

Baldrige said, that while it would be politically difficult for President Reagan to veto an import restriction bill, This president, I gnarantee you, takes the hard route whenever ervice c

1,887.05	2347.10 2354	D.M. 498.30 24566	F.F. 210,99 0 1934	0.0915 °	GMT. 445.70 0.4117	9.F. 20.423 0.2787	5.F. 545.32 0.500P	D.K. 159,23 N.A.
		D	ollar v	dues
. Ljadij Ljača	Per U.S.S 7,235			Per 067 U.S. 3 WGD 677.	도 문학 50 , 08	144 .	9782CF Yes	Per U.S. 217.3

Import Issue

dicated a desire to come to some kind of voluntary action

"There's no question about it." Mr. Baldrige told a news conference repeatedly that the administration has no intention of even proposing a specific im-port target for the Japanese to meet, below the 1.9 million Japanese cars sold in the country means exactly what it says and that's exactly what we mean in this case," Baldrige said, "and that implies, as it should, no numbers as far as the adminis-

be thinks it's the right one."				Per Shore 0.2: 6 Months 1981 Revenue		1
									Profits Per Share	43.74 1.04
C	UR	RE	NC	YR	AT	ES			lst Quar. Revenue	nternotio 1981 325.2	na
hange	rotes	for Apri	17, 1	98), ex	cluding	bank s	ervice o	horges	Profits	Gas Syst	еп
$ 87 05	£ 2,347.10 2,154	D.M. 498,30 24566	F.F. 210.99 2 1 93 4	0.0915 °	GMT. 445.70 0.4117	8.F. 30.423 0.2787	5.F. 545.32 0.5007	D.K. 159,23 N.A.	ist Quar. Revenue Profits Per Share	1988 1,390.0 83.4 2.51
		D	ollar v			_	•	Per	First Int.	. Bancsha	re
967 Inopit ol franc	Per U.S.S 7,235 L. (0) Am	Segaby. Cato:5 pants need	Correct S. Korec ed to but	Per MEY U.S. Sawga 677. John Double	$ दि र 90 , 00	1217. 046 .	errencs Yen) Units of	U.S.$ 217.20	1st Quar. Oper. Net Per Share	1981 53.1 1,91

demand will be is unknown, he said. Some say the situation could Nevertheless, the rails, coal com-adviser on trade to the French gov-ernment, recently said in Tokyo that the issue of a trade imbalance almost certainly will be taken up at Ottawa. To soften the implicit warning, Mr. Missoffe said: "That does not mean that Japan will be in the position of the accused person. It will be there only as a part-

To Our Readers

U.S., Canada, France, Britain, West Germany, Switzerland, Bel-gium. The Netherlands, Hong Kong, Australia and Singapore.

wage marginal industries. They are among the industrial world's most sonhisticated products, the type of industries that all advanced countries are trying to nurture and pro-A major European fear is that if Japan restricts its car exports to the United States this year, its automakers will try to compensate by shipping even more cars to Europe. "If Japan does a deal with the United States, we are worried about a boomerang effect," said a British official. Lord Carrington told Japanese officials that such a unacceptable.

Because of Good Friday Holi-day, all banks, exchanges and gov-ernment offices are closed in the

"We have a feeling in Europe that Japan pays close attention to the American requests on trade but not to Europeans," the British official added. The visit to Tokyo of Lord Carrington was in part an attempt to "get the Japanese to pay some attention to the EC," he said.

Some Europeans are campaigning to make Japan's export surge a major issue at the coming economic summit meeting in Ottawa. Francois Missoffe, a special

On the Gulf Coast, capacity for Strengthen Japan's Trade Position

ended last month from a

Meanwhile Japan's overall bal-

COMPANY REPORTS

Revenue and	profits, in ma	ions, are in i		Office West Inch
Belgium			Net Income	37.6	28.3
-			Per Share	1,50	1.36
NV	Bekaert		•	illette
Year	1988	1979		1980 1980	1979
Revenue	27,700.0	25,700.0	Ist Quar.	588.2	550.9
Profits	293.0	N.A.	Profits	32.2	36.7
			Per Shore	1.07	1.21
Netherland	5		PET 31WIE	1.07
Koninklijk	e Boskalls	West.	Candyour'	Time 0 Darki
Year	1966	1979		Tire & Rubi	72F 1980
Revenue	2,570.6	1,730.0	1st Quar. Revenue	1981 2.217.0	2.023.0
Profits	51.5	N.A.	Profits	43.1	2,023.0 50.7
1_11_1 Land			Per Share	0.59	94.7 9.70
Jnited State			rei 344(6.,	U.37	Œ/U
Americ	con Expres		Houston	Industries
1st Quar.	1981	1989	1st Quar.	1987	1980
~~~~~~~	82.0	78.0	Revenue	609.4	459.3
er Share	1.14	1.09	Profits	33.39	26.18
Ameri	con Motor	K	Per Share	0.77	0.78
1st Quar.	1981	1985	Year	1960	1979
7976008	598.0	798.0	Revealue	1,520.0	1,930.0
Profits	52.7 L058	N.A.	Profits	189,2	159.3
			Per Share	4.62	4.63
	& Decker 1981	1988
2nd Quar.		3.985	Inless	d Steel
Zevenue	375.5 9.52	27.16	ist Quar.	1997	1986
roffis	0.23	0.64	Revenue	968.6	918.8
er Share	1981	1980	Profits	21.42	26.76
6 Montts	787.1	780.8	Per Share	1.01	7, 28
Sevenue	/0/.1 43.74	53.45	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •	1950	1979
Toffts	1.04	1.27
er Share
	Internation	al		iaroid	1980
1st Quer.	1981	1980	1st Quer.	1981 . 277.2	. 308.3
$246Une	325.2	372.1	Profils	2//_2 9.5	17.4
Profits	وومالون	21,97Loss		0.29	0.53
			Per Share	حبي
	Gas Syste	1979 T	De lake	n Purina
1st Quar.	1988	1,300.0		70 PUNITU 1988	1979
$846UOG	1,390.0		2nd Quar.	1,368.0	1,239.0
?rolits	83,4	82.5 2.51	Revenue	48.7	39.9
Per Shara	251	251	Profits		0.36
			Per Shore	0.43
First Ini	. Bancshar		Six Months	1968	1979
1st Quar.	1981	1989	Revenue	2,760.0	2450.0
Seer. Net	53.1	38.0	Profits	103.3	89.7
Per Share	1,91	1,36	Per Share	0.97	0.50

billion the previous year. And the fiscal 1980 corrent account deficit narrowed to $7.19 billion against a

The balance of payments surplus widened in March 10 $2 billion from a $656 million surplus in February, the ministry reported. The March current account balance turned into a surplus of $830 million from a $207-million deficit were up 10 percent. The strong economic performance was also helped by the narrower invisible trade and transfer payments deficit last month. These stemmed from increased income from overseas investments and a reduced deficit in the shipping trade account, they added.

The officials also said the con-tinued surplus in the March longterm capital account emerged from record capital inflows of $2.75 billion, mainly through foreign in-vestments in Japanese stocks and bonds, which more than offset record outflows of $2.27 billion, including direct overseas investments from Japan and the supply of loans and credits.

Net investments by nonresidents in Japanese securities in March #### or negatively to rumors." James D. The company is thought to have Robinson 3d, chairman of Ameripaid something like $20 a share, or about $25 million, for a stake in

can Express, did not answer requests for a comment.

NEW YORK - The stock of Shearson Loeb Rhoades, one of 'A Good Fit' the nation's fastest-growing bro-Talk about a possible deal began spreading on Tuesday. Some anakerage houses, surged 4 points a share Thursday, to 42%, amid unconfirmed reports that the compalysts argued that, although the two ny was discussing the possibility of companies would be "a good fit." the idea of their joining did not seem likely because American Express had had bad luck with an According to the reports, American Express, which owns the huge Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. and earlier fling in the brokerage busiother financial services, was pre-

New SDR Agreement Given to Madagascar

Resters WASHINGTON — The Interna-tional Monetary Fund has ap-proved a new standby arrangement for Madagascar to purchase up to 109 million special drawing rights. The arrangement calls for Madagascar to deposit its currency in the fund in exchange for SDRs or hard currency. The new arrangement, for April 15, 1981, through June 26, 1982. replaces a two-year arrangement that began in June, 1980, the IMF said Thursday. It said the arrange ment will make more funds available to Madagascar than the current one allows, so that Madagasexternal financial imbalances.

More Buys Set to Follow New Leaders

Post-Winter Gains

Now as Much as 75%

with Tempo Rising

with Tempo Rising

The dimensions of specialized morket gains you can miss by following conventional analysis should leave no doubt about the value of experienced growth-investment guidance. Among issues Capital Offshore was recommending during lost whether was recommending during lost whether were recommended of unreasoned partic and hastionary. Paradyse in high-speed data communications has now climbed from $25½ to as high as $44½ an the AMEX, while on the volatile O-T-C market Drawler in this-film technology has jumped from $18 to $28 with NBI in advanced word processing climbing from the split-adjusted equivalent of $17½ to $32. Computervision in computer-aided design recently hit the initial $89 target we supplied for it when recommending the stack in the low $60s in the foce of short-selling advice from one of the world's largest and highest-priced advisory services. In contrast Capital Offshore as a growth-management specialist makes no charge for wealty reports sent to serious investors who want to assess the depth and accuracy of a unique continuing series of investigations into energing industries and volatile commodity manbets. One of polymer coverage includes never and lower-priced candidates in growth areas reviewed above plus such threshold industries as gene splicing and rebotics. Simply complete and return the coupon for complimentary coverage and growth-management information.

Capital Offshore LIMITED P.O. Box N 10649

oon House, Shirley Street Nassau, Bahamas ADDRESS PHONE

E

A

N U

T

В.

В

0

N D

ACROSS 1 Hegel's forte 6 Tuileries, e.g. 10 Railroad switch

ACROSS

85 Start of a

86 Temple

COUNTINE

enclosures

87 Former president of Chile

89 Veranda, in

Walkikı

90 Direction

suffix 91 Wind-shielded

96 Extra

92 Greek patron

ingredient 98 Winter sight 100 Radio's "Vic

101 May 15, e.g. 102 Onomatopoeic drumbeat 104 Sound from

Sandy 105 "More Pricks

106 Beget 107 Anoint, old style 108 Peer Gynt's

mother 110 Simon and

113 Cause of prickly heat? 118 Actors' group 121 Reconcile

122 Shipshape

123 Cartes before the courses 125 Boisterous laugh 127 Encircled 129 Inning in polo 134 Revise 136 Union vehicle?

139 Zetetic person

DOWN

4 Caesar's

denizen

8 Gypsies

Fifty"

16 What

LOS ANGELES

MADRID MANILA MEXICO CITY MIAMI MILAN MONTREAL

RIO DE JANEIRO ROME SAO PAULO

SHOUL SINGAPORE STOCKHOLM

ZURICH

BBC WORLD SERVICE

Brondousts of 9090, 0200, 0300, 0400, 0500, 0600, 0700, 0800, 0900, 1100, 1300, 1600, 1700, 1800, 2008, 2200, 2300 (All times GMT).

Western Europe: 648KHz and 463M Medium Wove, 5,975, 6,050, 7,120, 7,185, 7,255, 9,410, 9,750, 12,095 and 15,078 KHz in the 49, 41, 71, 25 and 19 migter bands.

East Africa: 1413KHz and 212M Medium Wave. 25.650, 21.660, 17.885, 15.420, 12.895, 11.820, 9.598, 7.129 and 4.050 KHz in the 11, 13, 14, 19, 24, 25, 31, 42 and 49 mayer bands.

North and North West Africa: 25,650, 21,470, 15,670, 11,750, 9,410, 7,130 and 5,975 KHz in the 11, 13, 19, 25, 31, 42 and 50 meter bands.

Southern Airica: 25,660, 21,668, 17,880, 15,409, 11,620, 9,410, 7,185 and 6,005 KHz in the 11, 12, 14, 19, 25, 31, 41

Middle East: 1323KHz and 227M Medium Wave. 25459, 21,710, 17,770, 15,310, 11,760, 9,410, 7,140, 6,120 and 1,570 KHz in the 11, 13, 14, 19, 25, 31, 42, 47 and 75 meter bands.

Southern Asia: 1413KHz and 212M Medium Wove, 25450, 71,550, 17,778, 15,316, 11,758, 9,600, 7,180 and 4,195 KHz in the 11, 13, 14, 19, 25, 31, 41 and 45 meter bands.

East and South East Asia: 25,650, 17,790, 15,310, 11,865, 9,570, 6,195 and 3,915 KHz in the 11, 16, 19, 25, 31, 48 and 76 meter bands. Also for Singosore only: 88,960 KHz VHF.

VOICE OF AMERICA

The Voice of America broadcasts world news in English on the hour and at 28 minutes offer the hour during varying periods to different regions.

Western Europe: KHz 15,245, 7,325, 6,860, 5,955, 3,760, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 9,769, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, Western Europe: KHz 15,245, 7,325, 6,860, 5,955, 3,760, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 9,760, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, 306, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 9,760, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, 306, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 9,760, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, 306, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 9,760, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, 306, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 9,760, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, 306, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 9,760, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, 306, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 9,760, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, 306, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, 306, 1,197, 792, 11,760, 1,296 in the 197, 41.1, 495, 306, 1,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197, 11,197,

East Asia and Pocific: KHz 17.520, 17.740, 15.290, 11.765, 9.770, 24.000, 4.116 and 1.575 on the 14, 169, 19.5, 25.5, 30.7, 11.5, 49.2, 190 moter bonds.

South Asia: KHz 21.540, 17.740, 15,205, 11,915, 9,740, 7,105 on the 13.9, 16.9, 19.7, 75.2, 30.7 and 42.2 meter bonds.

Bank Robber Has Change of Heart,

Brings Back Cash, Waits for Police

PORT HURON, Mich. — A man who robbed a bank with a toy gun returned to the bank and pounded on the doors, saying he wanted to

The suspect, Robert J. Pedreira, 22, of Center Reach, N.Y., was arrest-

Police said earlier Thursday that Mr. Pedreira walked up to a teller,

The teller sounded the alarm and alerted police, and bank officials

As startled bank officials waited for the police, the bandit returned

Police said he tried to open the locked doors and began pounding on

"He kept pounding until an assistant manager came to the door to see what he wanted and told him to come inside, take a seat and wait,"

Police Chief Charles H. Gentry said. "And that's what he did. He was not secure a loan, but then apparently his "conscience bothered him."

Police said the suspect told them he staged the robbery after he could showed her the gun and announced a holdup. The teller handed him

ed Thursday at the Port Huron branch of the National Bank of Detroit.

give back the money.

$1,250 and he fled the bank

within minutes of the robbery.

locked the doors — as a security procedure.

them, yelling that he wanted to give the money back.

waiting there quietly for us when our men got there."

Middle East: KHz 15,205, 11,915, 9,760,7,200, 4,840, 1,260 in the 19,7,25,2,30,7,41,7,49,7,238 meter bands.

WOSCOM

NASSAU

RADIO NEWSCASTS.

15 Concubine's

A Acute

141 Nymph pursued by Pan

142 Region of

145 Tribune

Indochina 143 Part of H.S.H.

144 Wall vaults

146 Yorkshire city

Diamond

111 College subj. 112 Keelbill

___Kicks," Beckett book

15 Henry was one 21 Operating 22 Mad scientist's 23 Odin. Thor et

24 Inundate 25 Airplane glue? 28 Idolized 29 Character in "No Exit 30 Squama

31 Possesses 33 These make stakes 34 Relative of a maguey 36 Ferrum

(trained 39 Aromatic peripatetic? 46 Confining grind

47 Oosphere 50 Draws water 51 Hawatian port 54 Loire feeder 56 Enero, e.g. 59 Albacore 69 Zola opus 61 Plane curves 64 Rained, e.g. 66 Curtails

68 Taurine 69 Mil. school ____nous 71 Tennyson 72 Shrill or 73 God for

Radame 74 Heliacal 75 Tatami 78 Wear in a 80 Submerged

nursery rhyme 33 On the qui vive

AMSTERDAN ANKARA

ATHENS AUCKLAND BANGKOK

BANGKOK BEIRUT BELGRADE BERLIN BRUSSELS BUCHAREST BUDAPEST BUDAPEST BUENOS AIRES

CHICAGO COPENHAGEN COSTA DEL SOL

H.C. MINH CI'HONG KONG HOUSTON ISTANBUL JAKARTA JERUSALEM JOHANNESBU LAS PALMAS

LISBON

Solution to Last Week's Puzzle

WEATHER

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Edited by EUGENE T. MALESKA

By Michael Priestley Rhyme and Reason

DOWN DOWN DOWN 79 Cylindrical 49 They rate 53 Scaramouch 80 Cauldron con-1 Long sentence 2 Burden of 17 Unaccompanied 18 Chelonian 54 Comb: Comb. 81 Disturbance 84 Bump the bet 56 Sea cow's

enin oide 26 Actress Nazimova 5 Oenologists 27 Something to stow below 32 Guardian of 6 Columbary angels? 35 Inflammable 7 Iron or Stone liguids 38 — War _Japanes 10 O'Neill was 39 Custard tarts one 11 Shakespear 40 Malay ruler ean heroine 12 "The Nifty

41 Hersey town 42 Poet Hopkins 43 Border orde 44 Turner and 13 In propinguity 14 Wine and dine Cole 45 Cask for 48 Mark Clark

86 Scads 88 Formulated theory
91 Compilation of information

57 Kaolin, e.g. 58 Rhine tributary 61 Elfin creature 92 Most ominous 93 Hindu title 94 Stu or Mo 63 Butterfingers 95 Import or pur-65 Smith's port 97 Man of Isfahan comrade in arms 67 Small English or pun 99 Flatten a flat 103 Relative of a dalmatic 69 Singer Redding 72 Keystone State 108 Addis -109 So-called eponym 73 Elbowed 75 Discomfort 110 Uncultivated 112 "Persua 76 Lamp rubber 77 Females?

DOWN 114 "My kingdom for ——!"

115 Is entitled to 116 Chocolate trees 117 Coal region 119 Tremble 120 Arizona Indians 123 Rumple 124 Sword of a sort

126 Australasian pepper 128 Ten: Comb. 130 Cattle, in poesy 131 Welles role

132 "Horrors!" 133 Quantities in radiology 135 Poetic palindrome 137 London's defenders 138 Greek X

BOOKS

THE PENNILESS BILLIONAIRES

98 Suffix with fun

By Max Shapiro. Times Books/Truman Talley. 308 pp. $15.

Reviewed by Steve Lohr

NATION'S currency, like its A language, is an abstraction. There is a cultural agreement as to its meaning - in the case of money, an agreement that it represents a unit of 6 43 Fearly 23 77 Stormy
19 46 Fair
22 72 Fearly
19 54 Fearl
12 54 Fearl
12 54 Cloudy
7 45 Cloudy
-2 25 Cloudy
12 54 Cloudy
13 54 Cloudy Inflation is an assault on that assumption. When the assumption no longer holds, the social contract is broken and a civilization begins to cleave at the seams. As Calvin Coo-lidge once said, "Inflation is repudia-In "The Penniless Billionaires," Max Shapiro studies four periods of extreme inflation in the past and, from there, proceeds to a sobering examination of the present inflationprone milieu. Governments fell as a result of three of the bouts of hyperinflation that Shapiro surveys — in Imperial Rome, Revolutionary France and Weimar Germany. His fourth case was a tamer strain of inflation, in the United States during the Civil War, and it was eventually snuffed out by stopping the flood of greenbacks into the economy

Through the Monetary Prism This is history through the monetary prism, laced with anecdote, for the layman — an engaging narrative. Shapiro has limned the history books, accounts of archaeological digs and government reports, but presents his subject as a tale, not a text.

In a preliminary treatment of inflation in antiquity, for instance, we learn that Alexander the Great, the controversy about his drinking habits notwithstanding, pursued a monetary policy of considerable restraint. At least he did until near the end of his reign when, largely to pay for his military exploits, he threw a flood of coins into circulation. A wild inflation broke out, one that was still raging when Alexander died of lever and ex-Africa: KHz 26.040, 21,660, 17,570, 15,330, 11,915, 9,740 7,290, 6,125, 5,975, 2,910 on the 11.5, 13.8, 16.8, 19.4, 25.2. 30.5, 41.2, 49, 50, 75.2 meter bonds. haustion in 323 B.C.

To illustrate the mind-numbing inflation of Weimar Germany, Shapiro presents the example of Lotte Hendlich, a German widow who re-turned to her homeland in the autumn of 1923 after a few years in Switzerland recovering from tuberculosis.
Upon her return, she found some letters from her bank, where she had left an account of more than 600,000 marks. Before opening the most re-cent letter, which was sent in 1923 and closed out her account, she noticed that on the envelope was a canceled postage stamp denominated at a

In history's cras of rampant inflation, Shapiro writes, the details differ with time and place, but the basic script is the same. In each episode, the government was well aware of the danger of inflation. Yet faced with some emergency, usually a war or social unrest, the government sped up the economy, its spending far exceeded its revenues (iax increases were shunned), while the money stock was swelled enormously.

Each time, the first decision to inflate the economy made sense: The prospect of inflation was preferable to the danger of war or revolution. However, once the printing presses are set rolling, it becomes difficult to slow them. A principal reason, Shapiro contends, is that there is inevitably a et of vested interests" that amass great wealth, thanks to inflation, and exercise their influence to keep it

The net of vested interests is made up of industrialists, entrepreneurs, professional investors and bankers. Simply put, they can obtain credit to buy assets - real estate, factories, gold — with currency and then pay off their loans later with vastly depreciated paper money. They have the ante to play the wealth-grabbing game, while the middle class is stretched daily on the rack of inflation," as the Austrian author Stefan Zweig wrote of Weimar.

In the U.S. case study - the Civil War - it was the railroad magnates, such as Collis P. Huntington, Cornelius Vanderbilt and Russell Sage, who proved most proficient at reaping the munificence of the government and its

Moreover, Shapiro suggests that the "vested interests" are as much at work today behind the scenes, pushing for inflation, as their counterparts were. This is an interesting viewpoint for a retired partner of a Wall Street securities house, which Shapiro is.

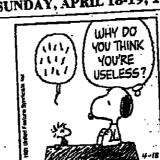

Having experienced nearly two decades of accelerating inflation, the United States shows all the signs of a nation on its way to an inflationary debacle. Shapiro concludes. As evi-dence, he notes that all who can muster the cash or credit seem to be investing in inflation hedges of every conceivable type, from jewels to Japa-nese prints, from stamps to Stradivar-

Things have deteriorated to such a state that Shapiro recommends comprehensive wage and price controls. He concedes that bureaucracy and a thriving black market would result, but he calls unchecked inflation the greater worry. His advice isn't as radical as it sounds; in the last year suggestions of wage and price controls, in some form, have come from such divergent sources as Robert L. Heilbroner, a liberal economist; the investment banker Felix G. Rohatyn. the Municipal Assistance Corp. chairman in New York; and Business Week magazine.

Yet now, with the free-marketeers of the Reagan administration in charge, we're told a different kind of radicalism is needed - namely, the new sibilant doctrine of supply-side economics. Cut taxes, they say, and take an economic joy ride on the "Laffer curve."

Still, one wonders whether the brave new Reaganesque world can painlessly sidestep the old economic ventiles so graphically chronicled in "The Penniless Billionaires."

Steve Lohr is a financial reporter for The New York Times.

ACTUALLY, YOU'RE VERY NECESSARY.

THIS WOULD BE A DRAB WORLD WITHOUT SONGBIRDS...BELIEVE ME, YOU ARE VERY NECESSARY.

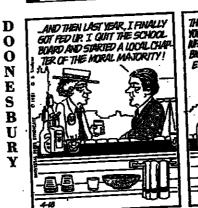

3.

SERIOUS,

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME by Henri Arnold and Bob Lase NOTHING BUT THE MOST one letter to each square, to form tour ordinary words. RORYS SLUHBE

EVIDID

Print answer here: Jumbles: MADAM NIEGE ANYHOW DISARM

Answer: He was surrounded by the sawing circle—HEMMED IN

Imprime par P.I.O. - 1. Boulevard Ney. 75018 Paris

I HAD A VERY NICE TIME. AN' ALMOST ENOUGH ICE Q.

حكدا من الاصل

rm Holds Up NHL Playoffs

terfinal playoffs began ne scored two goals. he game-winner, in 4-3 overtime victory the New York Islaned another rout, blitz-on, 8-2; St. Louis 6-3 med its recent dome-New York Rangers

Sphis won at home, bury, 4-0.
36-goal scorer during season, has gone wild thour playoff games.
g seven times — inther winner in overhe preliminary round on — Payne continued

is Don't Count

sti goal of the night 22 seconds into overnigh North Star Coach r had told his team to "I told them just to md try for a good shot ng any big chances," told them the winner The goal came when ell's shot from the

to be pretty." bilected by Payne and the skate of Buffalo Bill Hait before rollie Don Edwards.

Playoffs ARTERFINALS

Anders vs. Edm tiers of Edmonton Aptur of Islanders Autoria vs. Bufficio Mata leads veries 1-40 Vala 4. Bufficio 3 ato at Boffeio et Alinnesota et Alinnesota eseta et Buffeio pert vs.St.Lo a et St. Louis ers at St. Louis ers of St. Louis ters of St. Louis try vs. Philippiethic tiphic Leads series 1-4) that Shitestelphic

nia at Calgory siphic of Coloury siphic of Coloury

delphilo of Colsors Try of Phil

. g Summaries

Y. Ruspers 3 (Federillo 2 (4), Impn (2), Crombeen (3), Zuke Maio 3 (Palmer (2), MacAdam Savard (4), Ruff (3), Ramay

Magney Dipancher motion," Payne said. "Edwards made a big reach and it just kind the National Hockey of stopped and then kept going you couldn't fault him."

Craig Ramsay, Lindy Ruff and Andre Savard scored for Buffalo while the other North Star scorers were Ai MacAdam and Brad Palmer.

Their home-ice victory was the Islanders' fourth straight lopsided playoff triumph — the Stanley Cup champions having outscored Toronto, 20-4, in the preliminary round. Leading, 2-0, on first-period goals by Bob Nystrom and Butch Goring and the standout goaltending of Billy Smith, the Islanders' John Tonelli, Hector Mozziri and David Design Hector Moarini and Denis Potvin scored goals in a second-period span of 1:44 to put the game out of reach.

Edmonton's Wayne Gretzky scored 8:06 of the second period to cut the deficit to 5-1, but Clark Gillies answered at 14:17 and added another in the third period. Pot-vin scored a shorthanded goal at 10:50 of the last period before Matti Hagman delivered Edmonton's other goal.

Key Stops

Smith, one of the keys to the team's Stanley Cup drive last year, gave the Islanders the edge in experience in the first period, making key stops on two close-in bids by Gretzky, the league scoring champion, and one by Glenn Anderson. St. Louis, which won all four regular-season games with the Rangers, kept it up thanks to Ber-nie Federko's two goals. "We wanted to take command at the outset," Federko said. "I don't think we really gave them a chance. Aside from a couple of lapses, we stayed on top." Federko's second goal, a secondperiod breakaway backhander that beat goalie Steve Baker, came off a fine lead pass from Tony Currie. Mike Zuke scored on a wrist shot with 18 seconds remaining in the middle period to give the Blues, playing at home, a commanding 6-

2 for the Rook

Rookie Lance Nethery had two goals and Jere Gillis the other for the Rangers. Mike Crombeen and Blair Chapman were the other scorers for St. Louis.

The Flyers, who won all three preliminary-round games with Quebec in the Spectrum, stayed sharp on home ice thanks to Paul Holmszen's two scores and to the goaltending of Rick St. Croix, who stopped 35 shots in registering his first career shutout.

Philadelphia forechecked effectively in the first period while tak-ing a 2-0 lead on Holmgren's power-play goal at 3:30 and Bill Barber's tally — his sixth of the playoffs—at 8:41.

Holmgren, alone in front of the Flame net, backhanded Brian Propp's feed past goalie Rejean Lemelin at 10:44 of the second pefinal goal later in the period.

Rangers' Tom Laidlaw congratulates Lance Nethery for baving put the puck past disgusted St. Louis goalie Mike Liut. But the Blues won the NHL opening quarterfinal playoff game, 6-3.

NEW YORK — Along with the daily assortment of publicity handouts, bills and solicitations came a letter from Red Reeder, soldier,

Reeder Jr. lost a leg on D-Day-plus-six and received the first Dis-

in Normandy during World War

He won distinction as a biographer, historian and writer of fiction. As an athlete, he played football at West Point, captained the spring training with the New York Giants.

John McGraw offered him

$5,000 a year to join the Giant organization, but Red couldn't bring himself to resign his commission and he stayed on with the military

Red is 78 now, and retired. For the last several years he has been battling a type of partial paralysis, the effect of an antitetanus shot that went wrong. It is an enervating ailment but it hasn't dimmed

Red's spirit or loyalties. One of his

Undia

at $1,716 a year.

As a soldier, Col. Russell Potter

guished Service Cross awarded

anthor and athlete.

Coaches in U.S. 'Recruit or Perish

هكذا من الأصل

The Associated Press

NEW YORK - There is a new battle cry at America's institutions of higher learning. For years, college professors have prospered or failed by the publish-or-perish axiom. Now, college coaches have reworded things: "Recruit or perish."

Some college coaches, it is said. especially in basketball, live solely by an ability to recruit the nation's est high school players. Some say that coaching talent is secondary to recruiting prowess.

In most cases, however, today's successful college coach is a mique blend of buckster and brigadier general. He peddles his university's attributes to high school consumers, then molds the recruits into winners.

"Whether I like it or not," says Clemson Coach Bill Foster. "I'm the head of a million-dollar business." As such, college coaches must insure that their product has appeal. So they must acquire the best possible players. Last week saw the passing of the deadline by which the National Collegiate Athletic Association required its universities to have their recruits signed to letters-of-intent, but for most coaches, the job began last fall. "I really try to encourage prospective recruits to tell us early if they don't think they want to at-tend Clemson," Foster says, "because I don't want to waste my time on him." The two overriding trends today

Daly paced the floor nervously. A cadet manager barged in and said, 'Sir, the midshipmen are marching

"'Never mind the Navy!' Daly yelled. 'First team — on your feet!'

Cadet Bradley, center, sat on a mattress with other substitutes.

Daly dispatched the first team,

then shouted at the subs, 'Get out of here, you phlegmatic bunch of

"The game was rough. Cadet John J. McEwan, 'the Giant from Minnesota,' staggered to the sideline with a head injury. Omar Bradley dashed in to play center.

In 1914 players didn't wear numbers, and neither the sports records

nor Walter Camp, dean of American football, noted the substitu-McEwan liked to tell the story. For years he would say, 'Camp thought

Omar Bradley was me. Omar made ley, outfielder, exhibited one of the best throwing arms ever seen on Doubleday Field. His muscles had

"On the diamond Cadet Brad-me All-American."

"Bradley's play was superb.

onto the field."

Red Smith

On Gen. Omar Bradley, Athlete

When Bradley was a five-star general he liked to visit Toots

Shor's and relax with the jovial proprietor. One evening Toots told him: "Red Reeder and his wonderful wife were here this afternoon."

dy," Bradley said. "If he hadn't been wounded, he would have made three-star general."

"Red fought for me in Norman-

Next time Toots saw Reeder he said, 'Gen. Bradley says that if you hadn't been wounded, you'd have been a two-star general."

A week later they were on the phone. "By the way," Toots said, "Gen. Bradley says if you hadn't been wounded, you would have been a brigadier general."

"Look," Red said, "I don't want to hear anymore from Gen. Bradley or you. First thing you know, I'll lose my retirement pay as colo-

In the letter dated April 14. Red

"They are burying Omar Nelson

Sixty-seven years back, the dim

Army football team's dressing an hour.

Bradley today in Arlington, the Missouri boy who served 69 years lights below stands in Philadel-

in recruiting are to get it done as some schools—and I use the term early as possible and to try to do it close to home.

some schools—and I use the term loosely because that also includes alumni and parents—will go is

'But That's Changed'

"It's not like it used to be," says Wake Forest Coach Carl Tacy. "A few years back, we didn't have as many homegrown ballplayers. But that's changed."

Foster says long recruiting trips often result in more frustration than they're worth. "After two years, I discovered it was best to centralize my recruiting. I don't go out of the area unless I have to. I got tired of going into places like Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and coming away empty-handed."

Most major schools have adequate funding for recruiting, but as Coach Denny Crum of Louisville, the 1980 NCAA champions, says, "If you recruit 12, you'll probably the NCAA get two." With the NCAA maximum of six visits per recruit, that's 72 round-trip plane tickets for two players. "I think the six visits is a good rule," Crum says. "It should be four."

Most coaches acknowledge that the pressure and big money in-volved in college basketball lead to cheating. "Basketball is more visible than other sports," says Bobby Knight, coach of Indiana's 1981 NCAA titlists. "People are more conscious of it, and anytime a thing is well publicized, someone is going to try to get in the act. They want a piece of the action.

"One or two players can control a team, it's easy to turn a basketball program around by recruiting.
"I think the lengths to which

Strang, who had played both the infield and outfield for the Giants, summed him up: 'A .383 line-drive hitter. But throw? Heavens! In one game he threw the ball over the alumni and parents — will go is absolutely disgraceful. What's easier to raise money for? The United Fund or a college basketball or football program? The answer is college athletics, Isn't that wrong?

"I told our alumni when I came here that if I found anyone cheating. I'd turn them in to the NCAA and let them put us on probation if they wanted," Knight says, "but I think the situation is so bad at some schools that I couldn't con-trol it if I was there."

Crum says cheating is most likely to occur at a school that is trying to build a program. "The easiest way for a coach to build a team is to get a couple of great players. Sometimes, coaches feel it's worth it to do almost anything. If they have to hire the kid's high school coach, they do it."

There are 264 NCAA Division I schools that offer varsity basket-ball, and Knight says there may appear to be more cheating than ever before because the number of schools increases each year. Naturally that means more intense competition for each year's top high school players.

Rookie's Form

Pat Ewing, 7-foot star from Rindge & Latin High School in Cambridge, Mass., sent an applica-tion form to about 150 colleges outlining his requirements if the schools were to be considered.

The form, designed by his parents and high school coach Mike Jarvis, said Ewing would require daily tutoring, as much time as necessary when taking tests, permission to use a tape recorder in lectures and constant monitoring of his program. The reasons for the stipulations, Jarvis said, were that Ewing had a "reading deficiency" and "a slowness in writing" resulting from his upbringing in Jamai-ca, where English is spoken differ-

Several college coaches, who normally might have tried to recruit Ewing, stayed away because of the form, including Lefty Driesell of Maryland and Joe Hall backstop. The catcher couldn't have got it with a 30-foot ladder.' of Kentucky. Ewing signed to play at George-town. He has set a trend sure to be "In a senior year Bradley got the coach. Once a hot prospect has been spotted through scouting trips or tips from alumni or friends. Foster says normal procedure is to get into his recruit's home as quickly as possible.

Bobby Knight .... Isn't that wrong?

"You first have to convince the parents you'll look after their kid." Foster says. "A lot of them are caught up with their kid as a good player, but you also have to ler them know what their kid will be doing the other 22 hours of the

When a player decides to visit the campus, both Crum and Knight like to let him spend as much time as possible with the older players. They are the ones who do the actual on-campus re-

"On two occasions, my players have told me a recruit wouldn't fit into our program," Knight says, "and that was that I didn't even

A's 5, Angels 1

aheim, Calif., hot-hitting Tony Armas doubled in two runs and Matt

Keough pitched a five-hitter, enabling undereated Oakland to complete a four-game sweep of the Angels with a 5-1 triumph. The A's, who have won their first eight games, have defeated the Angels five straight times and 14 of the Indians 1. Brewers 0

second and Wayne Garland pitched a six-hitter to lead Cleveland to a 1-0 victory over the

Tigers 2, Blue Jays 0 In Toronto, Alan Trammell doubled in the winning run and Kirk Gibson went four-for-four to support a combined four-hitter by three pitchers and pace Detroit to a 2-0 win over the Blue Jays. The Tigers took a 1-0 lead in the third

when Rick Peters tripled to right-off Dave Stieb (0-2) and scored on

In Milwaukee, Bo Diaz doubled

me's only run to the last 17 times they have met.

home the gai

in the American League, in An-#### picked off first base in the Navy game at the point. This gored him for 50 years. 'Worst umpiring I ever saw. I was safe!'" followed by other top prospects. But for most incoming freshmen, the impetus will remain with have to ask them why.

Thursday night. Dick Ruthven went eight inn-

Schmidt hit his second homer of bunt by Ruthven, a double by PHILADELPHIA - Mike Rose and a single by Luis Aguayo.

Schmidt, Rose Spark Phils' Win

Schmidt homered and Pete Rose had three hits to pace a 12-hit at-tack that carried the Phillies to a 5victory over Pittsburgh here

ings to pick up the victory Tug-McGraw, appearing in his 700th major league game, got the last

the season in the second inning for .078 batter last year: "Well. I the Phillies' first run, and the guess, I got lucky." been built up in boyhood over two winners took the lead for good summers of unloading gondola Lemelin at 10:44 of the second period; Terry Murray got the game's the soldier and athlete from Clark, phia's Franklin Field changed the coal cars with a shovel, at 17 cents with a pair of runs in the third on a single by Bob Boone, a sacrifice

Expos 7, Cubs 0.

In Montreal, pitcher Scott Sanderson doubled twice and batted in four runs as the Expos shut out

Chicago, 7-0, Sanderson (1-0) -knocked in the only run he needed in the second by doubling home Chris Speier from second base. He also delievered a bases-loaded double in the fifth. Said Sanderson, an

In New York, Keith Hernandez. George Hendrick and Darrell Por-ter hit home runs to lead St. Louis to a 5-1 victory over the Mets. Andy Rincon, making his first start of the season, was the winner with relief help from Bruce Sutter. Hernandez' and Porter's homers came off loser Mike Scott.

Thursday Line Scores

AMERICAN LEAGUE 010 000 000—1 6 Q 000 000 000 000—0 6 6 Allwoulses 000 000 000 -0 6 6
Garland and Diaz: Coldwell, Fingers (9) and Simmons, We-Garland, 1-0. L.— Coldwell, 1-1, Detroit 001 000 000 -0 4 0
Wilcax, Saucier (8), Lopez (9) and Parrish:
Siteb. Garvin (8) and Whitt, W— Wilcax, 2-0. L.—
Stabb. Garvin (8) and Whitt, W— Wilcax, 2-0. L.— Cokkand 009 103 100 -5 7 2
Collfornia 180 800 000 -1 5 2
Kesush and Newman; Witt, Renke (7) and Ort.
W—Keough, 2-0. L.—Witt, 0-1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE 900 120 902-5 10 2 100 000 000-1 7 1 Rincon, Suffer (7) and Parier; M. Scott, Fat-cane (6), Reorden (8) and Trevina, W.—Rincon, 1-0, L.—M. Scott, 0-1. HRS— 51, Louis, Porter (1), Hendrick (1), Hernandez (1). 020 040 10x—7 10 1

McGlothen, Smith (2), Copillo (4), Martz (4), Sestwick (7) and Blockwell, Foote (2); Sanderson, Lee (7), Soso (8) and Carter, W—Sanderson, 1-0, L—McGlothen, 0-1. 1-0, L.—AKC-Mitthen, 0-1.
Pitisburnier 200 000 100--3 8 2
Philludelephier 5012 100 011x-5 12 1
D. Robinson, Solomon (7) und Micosia, Pena (7): Ruithven, AkcGrow (9) and Soone, W-Ruthven, 2-0, L.—D., Robinson, 0-1, HR—Philodelphio, Schmidt (2).

Major League Standings

NATIONAL LEAGUE W L Pct.
3 1 .750
4 2 .667
3 2 .600
2 2 .500
1 4 .200
1 4 .200 6 0 1,000 5 2 714 3 3 500 2 4 333 2 5 286 2 5 286 AMERICAN LEAGUE

AGUE

L Pet GB

1 133 —
3 2 460 1
2 2 500 2
2 2 500 2
2 3 400
2 4 333 West 8 0 1.000 3 1 750 2 3 405 3 5 275 2 4 333 1 3 250 1 5 .867

Erving and Griffith Cited United Press Internation ST. LOUIS, Mo. - Julius Erving

of the Philadelphia 76ers has been named the National Basketball Association's player of the year by The Sporting News, which also cited Darrell Griffith of the Utah Jazz as the league's top rookie:

Trammell's hit to left. Connors Gains Semifinals in

Monaco Tennis The Associated Press MONTE CARLO - Secondseeded Jimmy Connors raced to a-6-3. 6-2 triumph over Yannick Noah, France's top-ranked player. Friday to gain the semilinals of the Monte Carlo Open tennis tourna-

The rain-delayed match followed Balasz Taroczy's 6-2, 6-3 victory over Ricardo Cano. Connors will face Taroczy in the semi-finals Saturday. Third-seeded Guillermo Vilas survived his meeting with Tomas Smid, 6-0, 1-6, 7-6; Vilas' semifinals opponent will be Adriano Panatta. Panatta gained the final four-with a 6-1, 1-6, 6-4 victory over Jose Higueras. Earlier, Panatta had taken a straight-set win over Victor Pecci, the first-round upset winner over top seed Bjorn Borg.

Noah lost his service three times in the first set, and after Connors took a 3-1 lead in the second the Frenchman never recovered. Taroczy dispatched Cano with aggressive net play.

Strange Leads U.S. Golf The Associated Press

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. -Curtis Strange birdied the last four holes to score a 6-under-par 66 and take the first-round lead in the MONY-Tournament of Champions here Thursday. Lee Trevino was alone at 67: Bruce Lietzke and Bill Rogers had 68s.

Transactions

BASEBALL American Laague NEW YORK—Placed Gone Nelson, pitcher, on

NEW YORK—Placed Gone Nerson, pitcher, an me 21-day disabled list retroactive to April 10. FOOTBALL GOODE TO THE CONTROL OF THE POOTBALL LOGGE TO FOOT TO—Released Terry Metcolf and Ellion Waller, funcing backs, and Frank Landy, detensive tackle. Traded Presion Young, defonsive back. To Hamilton for a 1982 first-round draft choice.

COLLEGE ALASKA LANCHORAGE -Fired Gory Bliss.

ment funds; named Horry Larabee, assistant coach, to replace Bliss.

'itchman Veeck's Curveballs: Solid Hits, Every Time

writes:

in the U.S. Army.

By Richard Hoffer

Las Angele Times Service

AGO — Bill Veeck, in a thoughtful moment, once tried to his tastes as average, thereby explaining the popularity of his promotions. "Anything that appeals to me is probably going the most of my customers." is what he used to say to most of my customers," is what he used to say.

Veech's tastes might have been average in a league run by the tooges, in which each of the Marx Brothers had a franchise. league operated by hotel owners and chewing gum magnates, tastes were extraordinary. Baseball, during his on-again-off-treer as the game's premier pitchman, retained a degree of

Playing Bury-the-Fing

's promotional flair, to the outrage of peers and the delight of a to exploding scoreboards, midget auto races (i.e., genuine drivers) and investock giveaways. On the day his Cleveland a climinated from the American League pennant chase, Veeck a horse-drawn hearse and, accompanied by a funeral dirge, he Indians' pennant of the year before in center field. ver Veeck went - and he went lots of places despite his right

ing been partially amputated as the result of a war wound abuying public ate up his act. He operated five teams (one of ice), setting attendance records and winning permants with a Cleveland, he boosted attendance almost 1,000 percent in one—from 289,000 in 1946 to 2,642,478 in 1948. Every home is a kind of Mardi Gras when Bill Veeck was in the game. in the game no more. He is 67 and in poor health. The chord

k while operating two minor league teams and the Cleveland the St. Louis Browns and the Chicago White Sox (twice), is at. When the White Sox were sold not long ago to mogals who articular predilection for flagpole sitters, an era ended had long since seen the curtains beginning to close. He says and before "any not unharmy to be improved." cady. Hence: "I am not unhappy to be unemployed." r most of four decades — he was retired briefly three times by ad club owners — Veeck was only too happy to be employed. lions of fans were happy too; the man produced good baseball verywhere he settled. verywhere he settled is an innovative owner and general manager, introducing sevorant concepts to the game. But his legacy, which will endure a won-lost records are forgotten, is of bringing entertainment illpark. He gave the game a laugh.

I will really be remembered for," he says, pinning it down, "is sending a midget up to bat. Everything else I've ever baseball — forget it. I don't mind."

ddie Gaedel episode. He'll be remembered for that, all right; and stunts sprang from an apparently bottomless "millionawer," and each one seemed better than the last. But he never

he Eddie Gaedel caper... Customers Wanted

otion of sending a 3-foot 7-inch pinch-hitter into the game (by caire) was born of desperation. In part because the St. Louis had come cheap. Veeck found himself in baseball again in r a short exile. The Browns were losing the battle for the fan's the crosstown rival Cardinals. "We were looking around," talled, "for a way to draw a few people into the ballpark."

simple. He signed Gaedel to a one-day, $100 contract, and, in id game of a doubleheader with Detroit, another floundering as not to make too much of a travesty of baseball, of which egularly accused), sent him to the plate, And on to first tedel's strike zone was the size of a matchbook cover. He ne four pitches.

the lowly Browns won the pennant, Veeck couldn't have generate publicity. The midgets-in-baseball controversy raged for he owners accused him of making a mockery of the game and affected his own brand of outrage. Always a sensitive em-be was the first American League owner to bring a black Doby) into the game, the first to bring in a senior citizen Paige) — he screamed unlawful discrimination.

He pointedly asked whether Phil Rizzuto, at 5-5, was "a short ballplayer or a tail midget."

And as the Browns' attendance doubled during the second half of

And as the Browns' attendance doubled during the second half of the season, Veeck did not bother to appear surprised. But if that was Veeck's crowning moment, there were plenty of others just about as effective at keeping the stiles turning.

For Veeck, it had begun in Milwankee 10 years ealier. After a long apprenticeship with the Chicago Cubs, then run by the most dignified owner of all, P.K. Wrigley, Veeck purchased a Class AAA minor league team in a city that was something less than baseball crazy.

But Veeck found he could fill the park easily enough. Unorthodox entertainment helped as much as good baseball. His first act was to form a hand, a bunch of sevenaders that ranged the bleachers during form a band, a bunch of screnaders that ranged the bleachers during Veech's inspiration was to feature his manager — Charlie Grimm, "baseball's only left-handed banjo player" — in the ensemble. When things got really slow on the field (considering the talent, that was often enough), Grimm went into the stands to perform a few solos. But Veeck's biggest contribution to the game, which also began in Milwaukee, was his notion of giveaways. The giveaway these days includes bats, hats, gloves and jackets. Veeck had an altogether different vision. He once gave a lucky customer six squabs — live. Another received a dozen live lobsters. Another a 200-pound cake of ice. To one fortunate guy went six ladders.

Veeck said the basic idea presented itself in an Olson and Johnson "Hellzapoppin" routine. The burlesque team featured as one of its props a magically growing plant. At the end of each evening's enter-tainment, the ludicrously outsize thing was given to a theatergoer. The humor, such as it was, lay in the incongruity: dignified patron, ridicu-

... Bring on the left-handed banjo player.

So it was that Veeck's first giveaway was a woefully swaybacked horse, which he had borrowed from a local dairy. The gag went awry, though. Veeck expected the winner to offer the prize right back, all in good fun. But the recipient wanted to sell the poor beast back.

Once Veeck was in the majors, his giveaways escalated gradually, if only slightly, in sophistication. He handed out 20,000 Hawaiian Orchids and other more dignified gifts. Occasionally he lapsed. He still presented a swaybacked mag from time to time, and once he bestowed upon a housewife 10,000 cupcakes.

But most of his stunts didn't cost him much. In Milwaukee, it was put to him that a lot of fans involved in wartime factory work could not attend afternoon and night games. So he scheduled a "Rosie the Riverter Day," in which the gates opened at 9 a.m. The ushers were dressed nightgowns, the concessionaires dispensed cereal and doughnuts and the manager was fast asleep in the third base coaching

And there was the case of the movable fence. It was Veeck's idea, first, to bring the left-field fence in or out, depending on what team was in town. Later he got the idea of moving it in during the course of a game, depending on who was at bat. He got to do it once before the league outlawed it.

By the time he reached the American League, Veeck's sense of merchandising was highly refined. One of the first things he did at Cleveland was sign to Max Patkin, a loose-jointed infielder/clown who had the ability, after a bad call, to topple over rigid, like a felled tree, in a dead faint. Veeck not only acquired Patkin; he sent him to the minors to polish his act.

Mayor in the Deep Muddy

He also engaged Cleveland's city fathers in a heated debate over the use of Municipal Stadium. At the time there was an agreement that a midget-auto race operator to use the outfield, more or less jointly if not quite simultaneously, with the Indians. That affronted Veeck's dignity. Besides, it would tear up the field.

To prove his point, Veeck invited the mayor to inspect the outfield

after a race. As it happened. Veeck had engaged in some creative groundskeeping the night before, digging a hole and thoroughly watering the replaced dirt. As it happened the hole was in the mayor's path; up to his knees in mud, the mayor found proof enought that the two sports could not coexist. But that wasn't that. To rub it in a little, Veeck let The Cleveland

News in on a little scoop — and more than 61,000 turned out to see just what kind. Veeck had installed six kiddie cars in left field and nired six midgets to operate them. That night was midget auto racing's last hurrah.

After a temporary exile (and 1948 attendance record and World Series championship), Veeck moved on to St. Louis, where he continued to apply principles previously worked out by the Ringling Bros. He brought in Patkin again, provided fans with a miniature circus and hired Millie the Queen of Air to slide down a tight wire that extended from right field to third. Lots of livestock giveaways, too.

And, of course, Gaedel. The interesting thing about the Gaedel episode is that Veeck was trying to top the act less than a month later. "Grandstand Managers Night" was not nearly as famous, but it was every bit as innovative.

every bit as innovative. The People, 'Yes' - and 'No'

It began as a poll by The St. Louis Globe-Democrat to determine the team's lineup in a meaningless game. Even the newspaper thought that was a travesty, though, and pulled it after one edition. So Vecck roped off a section of the stands for his grandstand managers, equipped them with "Yes" and "No" signs and let them make all the Manager Zack Taylor, in the spirit of the proceedings, rested comfortably in a rocking chair atop the dugout, smoking a long, curved pipe. Meanwhile the club's public relations man, Bob Fishel, held up signs - "Shall we Warm Up the Pitcher?" "Infield Back?" - and the fans responded appropriately.

The hopeless Browns won that game, snapping a four-game losing streak. The tasteless travesty of baseball having been perpetrated, Tayor returned to the dugout.

The Browns lost five of the next six.

portant decisions.

'The Greatest'

WASHINGTON — I hope the reader won't mind if I use the column today to say goodbye to Joe Louis. For those who were around when Joe was lighting, I know there won't be any objecttions. For those who came later, I assure you that, despite what you've heard about other heavyweight chamni-ons, Joe Louis "the great-Was est."

ſα Hollis. N.Y., where I grew up, there were three things the kids in our gang were certain of: One was that Franklin Roose- Buchwald velt was going to save the economy: the second was that Joe DiMaggio was going to beat Babe Ruth's record: and the third was that Joe Louis was going to save us from the Germans.

The "Brown Bomber" played a very important part in a Jewish household, for the simple reason that Adolf Hitler had a fighter named Max Schmeling, who exem-plified Hitler's ideal of the perfect Aryan, When Joe Louis signed to fight Schmeling in 1936, there was a lot more at stake than a heavyweight championship. For weeks before the bout all the talk around the house was concerned with, 'Could Joe beat the Nazi?"

There was no television, and it's hard for anyone who didn't grow up in those days to imagine how you could possibly enjoy a boxing match sitting around a radio. But in some ways it was even better than television. You got as close to the radio set as you possibly could.
All the members of the household stared straight into the loudspeaker, hanging onto every word that the announcers were bringing you "live from ringside." The imagination was brought into play, and you could see the ring in your mind — and the cool Joe Louis staring at the representative of the

Carrier to Be Museum

The Associated Press
NEW YORK — The USS Intrepid, the World War II aircraft carrier whose crew and pilots sank more than 80 enemy ships and de-stroyed more than 600 aircraft, will be berthed in New York later this year as a sea-air-space muse-um. Mayor Edward I. Koch said.

For 12 rounds, we "saw" every punch — the right to the jaw, the left to the stomach, the clinches and perspiration pouring from the boxers' bodies. Whenever Louis landed a blow, we cheered with as much fervor as if we were at ringside. When Schmeling made a point, we remained nervous and si-

Schmeling knocked out Louis in the 12th round, the blackest day in Hollis since Roosevelt closed the banks. The consensus at Public School 35 the next day was that Schmeling had probably fouled Louis or Hitler had someone poison Joe's food. The one thing we were all certain about was that it hadn't been a fair fight, and the next time around Joe would kill Schmeling and save the honor of the United States.

We had to wait until June 22, 1938, for the rematch. The tension that built up to the fight was tremendous. Schmeling made the mistake of making racial remarks about Joe and also derogatory statements about the United States, It had become a do-or-die situation for every kid in the coun-

I think it was a hot night -- I'm sure it was a hot night. Radios were blaring from every open window in the neighborhood.

The announcer told us Louis looked mad as he entered the ring. I could "see" the anger on his face. The bell rang and Louis charged in. "Bang to the head. Bang to the body." Schmeling was on the ropes. Schmeling couldn't raise a glove. Joe was swinging with fury and then a right to the jaw and Schmeling hit the canvas; then he was up; then he was down: the neighbors were yelling — we were yelling. Schmeling made one more effort to get up and then sank for the last time. The Brown Bomber had finished off Hitler's superman in two minutes and four seconds of the first round.

The next day at school we kept punching each other all during class. The Brown Bomber had given us back our national pride.

There was only one time when the people in our house had mixed feelings about a Louis fight, and that was when he fought Max Baer. We wanted Joe to win in the worst way. But we had a problem, Max Baer was Jewish.

©1981. Los Angeles Times Syndicate

___Mary Blume__

The Shadow of Anne the Puppeteer

International Herold Tribune

PARIS — The Chinese shadow pupper theater, which may have begun as early as 181 B.C. and which has been fading away in the crude light of modern political exigency, has received an unexpected boost from a 24-yearold Frenchwoman named Anne Riston. Miss Riston and her Theatre d'Ombres Chinois can be seen in Paris starting Thursday with their shadow show, "The Adventures of Yi the Bowman."

The 55-minute play, which takes in themes from cosmology to marital discord, will be given in the tiny and extremely uncomfortable Theatre Marie Stuart until May 17 when the company leaves on a tour of the French

Backstage View

After performances, the audience is invited backstage for a view of how the puppet theater works. It works very well and Miss Riston thinks she may even have devised movements for the bowman that are unique in the Chinese theater: the hard thing, she says, is not for him to shoot but to hit his mark, which he does quite often during the show. Miss Riston studied Chinese in Paris for five years. She was un-able to go to China to study the shadow theater, but this turned out to be a blessing in disguise as the popular and ancient art was dying out at the time, a victim of the cultural revolution.

"They say that since last year the tradition has started again." she said. "But you no longer find the puppet show opposite a temple or family altar. It has become like the Peking Opera, a tourist attraction and not part of popu-. lar culture."

In Taiwan, where Miss Riston ended up studying for more than a year, shadow shows arrived in the 17th century with warriors from Fujian province in mainland China and the theater, while much diminished, is still part of popular tradition - not a distraction but an important element of feasts to please and propitiate the gods. A journalist from Le Monde who recently got married in Taipei according to the Tao rite invited Miss Riston's Master to give a shadow show so that the gods would bless the un-

"But even in Taiwan the the-ater is dying out," Miss Riston said. "There are fewer religious festivals and these days instead of puppets they have singers or films to divert the gods. It works just as well."

Puppet Hust

There are only three shadow puppet troupes left in Taiwan. Miss Riston says. She found her Master in 1978 while on a puppet hunt for museum collections with an eminent French sinologist, Jacques Pimpaneau. Her Master, Zhang Ming Shou, an elderly man with a radiant smile and a ferocious crew cut, was willing to take her on as a student only if she could find someone else to study with her. In Taiwan the young people were more interested in modern forms of expression and in France no one knew what she was talking about.

"I said zut, zut, zut," she said. Finally she persuaded Master Zhang to accept just her and she lived in his house in a small fishing village for three months, then went to Taipei to study the history of the shadow theater, returning to work with Zhang whenever he put on a show.

Skillful Agitation

The highly stylized puppets Miss Riston works with are descended from those of southern China: smaller and livelier than those of the north and made of donkey skin (buffalo skin being unavailable in France, even for ready money, Miss Riston's puppets are made of paper-thin cowhide). Each puppet is at-tached to two or three sticks which are skillfully agitated by Miss Riston and her partner, Emeric de Monteynard, who studied business and wrote poet-They are brighter in color than the puppets of Master Zhang.
"We used colors my Master didn't have. In Taiwan they use only vegetable colors, they have red, green and black only, with no shades in between. We used more colors while respecting the traditions of color you find everywhere in China from interior decoration to theater — red is happiness and union, white is for traitors, blue is hypocrisy."

The Chinese shadow shows last at least three hours spread over several days and during them audiences eat, drink tea. come and go. The plays tend to be tales of retribution and filial piety. "Filial piety is the most popular theme." Miss Riston said. "In one very popular piece about a very poor family, the daughter cuts off her right arm and offers it to her mother to

Miss Riston did not think that the French, however gournand, would be attracted to such a theme so she boldly put aside the traditional repertoire and constructed a new play based on the mythological hero. Yi. Since the bowman is not a traditional shadow play personage, she had to create him rather than copy an existing model. Emeric de Monteynard, who knows no Chinese, helped give her the courage to do something new. "I had my Mas-ter in my head and all the traditions to respect," she says.

Anne Riston, Master Zhang.

For Emeric de Monteynard, who was trained by Miss Riston, the hardest thing about shadow shows is having the hot lights al-ways at face level. Also, the small space requires great precision. The first time they gave a performance they misplaced a character in mid-show. This no longer happens but occasionally as they get more and more antic the pup nets lose a limb.

Despite appearances, the shad-ow theater is not limited in its possibilities, Monteynard says: "Unlike the shadow puppets of other countries, these are extremely flexible. We could do Western themes eventually --- we could even do Shakespeare."

Educational Purpose

After Anne Riston had devised "The Adventures of Yi the Bow-man," she wrote at once to Master Zhang. "I don't find this piece in the repertoire," he replied. She explained that she had based the story on popular tales and he wrote back, "All right. But remember the job of the shadow puppeteer is to educate society. Remember that and you're all right."

"I find that very Chinese," Miss Riston said. Her own aim is very Western. "We want to show tradition but also to transport people out of their world so they can become children again. I think my Master would find it very different," she said.

Morarji Desai and other members of a publishing trust petinoned the Bombay High Court to restrain British filmmaker Richard Attenborough from quoting from Mahatma Gandhi's literary works in his controversial movie on the late independence leader. They said the trust holds the copyright on all the published works of Gandhi. The film is titled "Gandhi" and is scheduled to open later this year. The British producer-director's attorney told the court that historical records could not possibly be copyrighted. He opposed an interim court ruling, saying the film's shooting is nearly completed at an estimated cost of $22.5 million. The High Court admitted the petition for hearings in June but rejected the trust's request for a temporary restraining order.

Former Indian Prime Minister

PEOPLE: Group in India Trying To Block 'Gandhi' Movie

Entertainer Danny Kaye, honored for raising millions for Uni-cel, has given the United Nations Children's Fund an additional $17,000. Kaye was presented with the Carnegie Foundation Wateler Peace Prize at The Hague for his work on behalf of children, and immediately turned over the money to the Dutch branch of Unicef. The reason I think I can relate to children is that I can be a child with them, because I'm uninhibited about behaving like a lunatic with a child," said Kaye, who has worked for Unicef since 1953.

Actor Sterling Hayden was charged with possession of hashish by police officers at Toronto Inter-national Airport. Hayden, 65, of Wilton, Conn., was arrested after customs officials searched his lug-gage and found slightly more than an ounce of hashish, a Royal Canadian Mounted Police spokes-man said. The spokesman said Hayden was released after posting bail of $200 for an April 27 court hearing. A Marine Corps captain in World War II, Hayden has appeared in more than 30 films since 1940, including "The Godfather." He is currently writing a novel.

Attorneys for Kim Pring agreed to a 50 percent reduction in the $25-million punitive-damage award the former Miss Wyoming won in a libel suit against Penthouse magazine. A federal jury awarded Miss Pring $25 million in punitive damages and $1.5 million in actual damages Feb. 21 after accepting her claim that she was libeled by an August, 1979, P. beled by an August, 1979, Proposed article about the sethel ploits of a purportedly field Miss Wyoming. U.S. Dist Judge Clarence Brimmer later clared the punitive-damage as excessive and ordered Miss. Proposed Miss. to agree to a $125 million ret tion or face a new trial. In a de ment received in federal court. attorney for Miss Pring Brimmer's order had placed h Pring "in an unresolvable dil ma. The plaintiff does hereby ly remit $12.5 million to the l fendant Penthouse Internation Ltd." Penthouse attorneys is said they will appeal the very despite the reduction in the disage award. Lawyers in the case the punitive damage award entereduced by half, is the larger award in a libel suit in the Unit States' history. Unless it is or turned on appeal, Miss Pring receive slightly more than $14 lion, as Brimmer's order did affect the $1.5-million actual-dage award or the $35,000 in d ages the jury assessed against article's author, Platin Clofferi.

Rock star Eric Clapton, suffer from a perforated ulcer, was leased after a month-long stay the hospital but he probably not be able to tour until next ye hospital officials say. Clapton, was discharged from United B pitals in St. Paul, Minn. A spoi man said Clapton will remain Minnesota for several weeks to a and undergo more tests. The mi cian was hospitalized March and was forced to cancel 51 de of his tour.

* * *

Actor Anthony Quisan says would like to play artist Pable casso. He was questioned about plans during a party marking opening of his latest film. "Lion the Desert." "I really want to p Picasso," he said, "and we're we ing on a script right now Broadway. And if that's good p sibly a movie." British actor Off Reed, Quinn's co-star in "Lion the Desert," turned up with girlfriend, Josephine Burge, w turned 17 on Thursday. Reed is.

Kingman Brewster, 61, form U.S. ambassador to Britain a president of Yale University, I become counsel to the New Yo law firm of Winthrop, Stims Putnam and Roberts.

-- SAMUEL JUSTIN

SERVICES:

ANNOUNCEMENTS SUBSCRIBE to the INTERNATIONAL HERALD

TRIBUNE AND SAVE.

As a new subscriber to the stemational Herald Tribute you can save up to 50% on newspland price, depend on residence of resi For details on this special introductory offer,

ontact our local distributor or: ractional Herald Tribuno

SUBSCRIBE TO THE WALL STREET JOURNAL INTERNATIONAL AIR EXITION

cumency.

Delivery by let Air Freight from Nev
York every business day. end order with payment to J. Potuling THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

DIVORCES - 24 HOURS so Latin American Otizenship thro vestment. BUFETE INC., 35 Wisco Circle, Wash., D.C. 20015, USA

RINCIPAL IN LOS ANGELES bose firm of international business consultants will be in London/Paris/Nice during weeks of May 25 thru June 10. For

ANNOUNCEMENTS

International Press Centre 76 Shoe Lane Lordon E.C. 4, England

ANNOUNCEMENTS CARSPULLY SELECT Your Detective

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH. 13 R. du Vieux-Colombier, Paris 6, Mo. St. Sul-pres. Sunday worship in Englan 9.45 sm, Rev. A. Sommerville 607 67 02.

FOR A PRECISE ESTIMATE FROM INTERDEAN,

MOVING

CALL US INTERDEAN

International

Mover

ALLIED VAN LINES

INTERNATIONAL OFTEN COPIED NEVER EQUALLED GERMANY: INTL MOVING Frankfurt, 0611-781006. Munich, 069-142244. Hamburg, 040-249542. Dussel-dorf, 02102-45023/24.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS OFFICE SERVICES Sktissels OFFICE SERVICE: mail on phone handling, teles, typing, transla-tions, SOSecretary, Tel: 539 37 24. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

GREECE KALAMARI, ATHENS. Seafront flat, bedrooms, spocious living-dining, fire place, videophone, large verturdes, martible lasurious bothrooms. 163 sq.m US$ 160,000. Tel: (031) 229077

VOORSCHOTEN: walking distance British School. Very modern, nea, 5-hedroom house for sale only. VOOR-BURG, Unique operheen in resovoted 17th century building, 25 bedrooms. Large poise for sale or rest. Till: Hol-land (0) 1717-7440 or talex 39460.

ITALY TUSCANY NEAR LUCCA, charming ancient mill complex, edaptable for one or more families, five hectures, woods and fields. P.O. Box 74 Pietrosonta. Tels 0584 70109.

PORTUGAL POSTUGAL, ESTORE-GREAT PALACE [Solor House) on about 6.5 hectores with longe gordens, first trees, service houses, etc. Urbanized area for resi-dentical zone, with 12,000 sq.m. Near future roadway. Write: A PREDIAL future roadway. Write: A PRSDIAL LIZ, Av. Republica, 52-5, 1000 Liebon, Portugal, Tel. 773046. SPAIN

SPAIN

BEZA: Linary aportments 2/3 rooms, 2 both-corms, ruly oir conditioned, swimming pool, private gradien, expession properties bisson Newson, reposite rivers to bepartive, bisson Newson, received 2. In Borosalona, Belanta, 152. Tel: 218-67-58, Teles: 574/2 in Inizar Edition 15 inner 2. Tel: 30-18-17.

BEZA: For sale, mooring berth 15 meters long x 470 wide in Morina Puerto Legar Newson, Price US$ 45,000. A unique apportunity. Call Bercalona Spain 93/3794700 or the 57442. Mr. Ribera, P.O. Box 155, Pror de Llabregat, Barcalona.

SWITZERLAND

FOREIGNERS on buy operations or LAXE GENEVA, in Montreux near Lau sonne, or all year round reserts. Surgue near Geneva, Viflors, Les Diobients, Leysin, Morgens and Verbies. Station to four bedrooms from SF. 120,000. Financing up to 75% of 6.25% instead per curum. Advise area preferred. Viet proparation before further restrictions imposed on perclases in frontageness. Associated with authorized counters in the Volais. Also quality permittents in Furnes. EVIAN on Lota Geneva and MEGEVE, a summer and winter paradism where alteriories mean approximately 35 minutes from Geneva, with see restrictions. Write to: Designer, CC Globe Ren S.A., Mondegos 24, 1005. Laustonne, Switzerland Cel. 207-22 35 12, To 2185 meis ch.

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE FRENCH PROVINCES NEAR ST. TROPEZ Formpalons betch, Cap Cathord, list ry 3-bedroom villa in exclusive private development right by the sec. At case thes. To rest August/September 1981 Apply Box 3917, MT, 103 Kingsvon London WCZ.

CREAT BRITAIN You will be met at Heathrow Airport & taken by chauffeur to a central Landon knowy flot, While you rest the flot a cor will be provided for your use and the flot will be serviced. Mack will be pro-vided if required. £189 per week.

Tek Landon (01) S82 6004. Jarrine Group, Suite 66, Kent House 87 Regent St., Landon WTR 7HE.

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE GERECE LINDOS - RHODES urury 3-bedroom (sleeps 6) villa, oli menities, to rent lune-luly-August 1981 Apply Box 37118, IHT, 103 Kingsway London WC2 PAROS ISLAND. Greek style, seashare villa, modern comfort. Dr. Emks, Sevastopoulou 12, Athens 606.

HOLLAND DUTCH HOUSING CENTRE B.V. Debuse rentals. Valeriustr. 174, Amsterdam. (120-721 234 or 723222.

INIT'L HOUSING SERVICE for rent houses and apartments AMSTERDAM, Tel: 020 - 768022. VISIRE'S STRIVICES in Anatordam, His version 8. Utracht cress. Tel. 035 12198, Kapitelweg 389, Hilwersom. TALY

When in Rome: PALAZZO AL VELABRO y opartment house with furn available for 1 week and inus, coalibble for iron $50 a day for two. Phone 574325, 6773430. Writes Via del Velabro 16, 00186 Rome,

MONACO MONTÉ CARLO Sonal, listarious sectrons DUPLEX PENTHOUSE with lovely roof-garden, 4 bedra were towery not-genden, 4 bedrooms, 3 bethrooms, magnitused during pite living noom, bur and T.V. area, tolky air conditioned, complete boundry and lighters, beautifully decorated and fundaments areas of quarters, available immediately for very high toy money, for more information phone Monte Carlo 507615.

PARIS AREA FURNISHED 17th METRO BROCHANT, 3 sum rooms, 70 sa.m. on park, fireplace F 3000. Tel: 525 27 97 evenings. PLACE VICTOR HUGO: Large living, bedracting, 2 baths, F 4700. No agents. Tel: 500 74 30 evenings.

SARDINIA NEAR COSTA SMERALDA To read, beautiful villa with private beach, 10 rooms, 7 boths, turns $300, Joh $4500, August $8000, September $3000. Call weeksloys, Parts (01) 359 75 89. SWITZERLAND

EMPLOYMENT:

EMPLOYMENT EXECUTIVES AVAILABLE SNTLEY type Le Mons roodster, 1948 Bles new. F350,000. Tel: 16 (73) 74 73 74 France.

AN AMERICAN BUSINESS ANALYST/MANAGENENT Commings, carpora educated, BA, MBA, Phd Micro Economics, Irringuot (English, French, German) with sophistics permanent position with company, or portnership in on enterprise, in preferably Switzerland or France, Open to proposeds and locations. Box 39124, HT, 103 Kingsway, London WC2, YOLNG, EXPERIENCE AMERICAN. Altorney seeks business or legal position in Curope. Knowledge of French, some German. Box 12157, Herral Trisone German.

bune, 92521 Neolly Cades, Fronce. GENERAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE TRANSLATION AGENCY REGISTRES injuly qualified technical translators. Sciogy, chemistry, midscine, electronics, computers. Soc. 899, Hereid Tribune, 92521 Neusly Cades, France.

GENERAL POSITIONS WANTED

WANTED

PERSONNEL AVAILABLE We con provide highly troined & dedicated personnel for Construction, Monation for the personnel for Construction, Monation for Servents (make & Columning and Dottesfic Servents (make & formula) through to extinent formula of the right man
you require of the right films. Writte fordingthes the supply of the right mon
you require of the right films. Writte
Soft Facultanes Consultants, P.O.
Sort 9, Mency House, Josée, S-Haceles presentation, Heart English Spenish, thermational complement, UNESCO, U.N., disconnels, Beacony, translation & other fields. Seeks work with company or person on internetional, flavoration or project, Morioner Fuert Marcha, 7800 S.W. Tuth St., Micro, Florida
331/43 USA

ENTERPRESING, experienced young

33143 USA.

BHIERPESSING, experienced young mon, fluet 5 languages. European re-fornd, 6A degree, seeks restancyolive colviny, short/long turn. Box 39130, at17, 103 kingsway, London WCZ. TEACHING POSITIONS TEACHING POSITIONS

THI SCOTLARD

GLALIFIED TRACHESS

AND ADMINISTRATORS

are invited to apply for a secondinent in the American School in Aberdeen in the School Frincipal, High School Mathe-Sc

arca, Hong Economics, Junior High Sc

arca, Hong Economics, Junior High Sc

ZUG ANGLO-AMERICAN SCHOOL.

5 to 13 year olds!

may need teachers in September 1981.
Applicants with experience within shore age groups and a Swiss teachers or work purels should apply to.

The Headinester, Sheinhouserstrasse.

ANGUAGE SCHOOL SESS EXPER enced English teachers, British American mother tongue, EEC or wo permit, Call 747 12 80 Paris. POSTITIONS AVAILABLE AU PARE TO CARE for 85 year old woman. Compensions, princis oper-ment, board, seleny to $200/week. Goodforb, 338 South 17th Street, Phi-ocialbias, PA 19703 U.S.A. Tel. 275-563-701A.

POSITIONS WANTED Will MANE a number of Hothers' Help-en & Trained Noories evaloble for I year contracts WORDWIDE. Write-or leightons us nows Roinbow Buracu, Mrs. Greenlode, 6th fleor, Carolys, House, Dingwall Road, East Craydon, Surrey, CRS 35E, England, Tek 01 680 5433, for 01 771 0086 ofter 6 pml Agy SE 5038.

EMPLOYMENT TECHNICAL INTERPRETIES in Free English, Andric, Sponish, German, anese, Eucellent reterrences in Indus BAT, 3. Villa Pointer 75015 Ports. 566 69 33 The 203 501. DOMESTIC POSITIONS WANTED Bagilish NAMNES & Mothers' Help free now, Nosh Agency, 77 Good Fo rade, Brighton, UK. Tel. 682 666. AUTOMOBILES

AUTO RENTALS

$25 PER DAY, unlimited mileage. Al TOHANSA, Franzansbroachen St. A-1020 Vienno, tel. 24 16 94.

AUTO SHIPPING

AUTOS TAX FREE

FROM STOCK
Maseral Indy 71, $ 13,000
Fenant BB 512, red / ton,
Mercades 330 SD USA, new, $31,000
Chery Recreation Van, new, $14,500.
Cadilica, Lincolne, Joguery, Rong Rovers, Lord Rovers, Mercades on other leading makes available.
Some day registration possible.

KZKOVITS,

Claridenstramo 36, CT-9027 Zurich Tek 01/202 76 10, Telesu 53444.

TAX FREE CARS

ALL MAKES & MODELS

with Swiss Bounce plates.

RAMPY MOTORS INC. 250 Genevo-Vernoix, 89 route Sois Tol. (22/25 44 43, Tales 28/27) 3007 Berne, Sulgermoin 28 Tel. (31/45 20 45, Tales 2385).

TAX FREE CARS

Largest inversory in Europe.
European, Japonese and American cars.
All brond serv, also U.S. spics. Soste day delivery and transit registrollar.
P.C.T. Export international 604; Bredisbason 2000 Menteum.
Antwerp-Belgium. 1et 031/4650.15 or 46.50.31 or 46.70.91. Tis 35546.

JOO DY AS 180 AUS JUL.

BRINGUAL BUSINESS and trove against. Paris 500 St 17.

PM/ INCREPRETER & TOURISM GU.
English/ French: Paris 562 65 EV.
BUSINESS INTREPRETER and You guide. Paris 174 75 &6. guide. Paris 774 75 cc.
PARIS & TRAVELS: PR/PA to ext.
trany business executive. 553 74 27. HEALTH SERVICES

LEGAL SERVICES MANDELL & FRIEDMAN

SHP YOUR CAR TO A FROM U.S.A. VIA ANTWERP AND SAVE Free footel Regular solvings, IFIC/McGuira Airport delivery. AMSCOC, Kribbestrost 2, Artworp, Belgium. Tek. 31 42 37. Telus 71485; FRANKFIRT/MAIN-W. GERMANY. H. Isernam Gmith! Tek. 0611-480071. Fict-up oil over Europa et ro/ro-ships. TRANSCAR 20 rue. In Sceur, 75116 Poris, Tek. 500 030 M. Maddrid 411 19 61 Activerp 33 99 85, Connect 39 43 44. MANESEL & FRESDMAN

400 Andison Ave., New York 1001;
Tel. 212-251-3211 838-968 ...
CABLE MANFREE TELEX 2256*
LAW! / XAX / MAJOR

BNVESHMENT OPPORTUNITIES
(English/French/Sponish) NO MORE VISAS. European rep sentetive Costa Rea law office p vides you with worldwide accept travel documents. Write Behadanc, Cont. 348 Via Veneto, CITES Rome LLS. SMANGEATTON VISAS. Taltr. 4th Roor, Zurich Write US Less Domon Spiles, 1 Biscopie Tower, cont, Fl. 33131. Tel. 305.643-9610.

HOLIDAYS & TRAVE Cruise in Elegance

to the GREEK ISLANDS: EGYPT, ISRAEL & TURKI

ABOARD THE MODERN LLDXUR! SHIPS (LLDYIDS, LASON, ATLAS, NEPTUNE, HERMES) EPIROTIKI LINES

TAX FREE CARS
LARGEST STOCK IN BURGHS
Sand for free catalog & stock list 91
Noorderloon, 2000 Artwerp, Belgium
Tek 031-426240. Tim 35207 TRANS-8.

MERCEDES 450 SEL, criminared ballet proof, defence system, undetectable, new, different colors, from stack, 500 SEL, upon request. Tels 10041, 031-500741, The 33802 CH, MERCEDIES 500 SEL, Lemborghini, Countout 571981, new extends Swiss. Tel: 031-580741, The 33802 CH, BOATS AND RECREATIONAL VEHICLES

LUXURY MOTOR YACHT FOR SALE Areso 16, 16.5 meters long, fibergloss, fully equipped: 8001-P. Cummins turbodiesel. Once 12 KVA. 8 passengen. 26 londs, 450 miles. Perfectly text. Excellent fumerical. Price F.C.B. USS 20000. Information. Astillance. Areso, Puerto

POR SALE 35 FT TREWES B YAWI. designed by You do Meer & built in 1994 by Jacktheven Van Tol. Impecopile candidate fellowing recent refe. Complete with 6-man Durlop ensegency file roll and 3-man Ayear lender, 20 HP Sorb diesel & full investigation. New stainless electric regards & standing rigging. Routy for immediate use. http://doi.org/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.1006/10.

FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS

for advertising intercontact the TRIB's office in your country HEAD OFFICE Forte: Max ferrera Tel.: 747.12.65. EUROPE Alfors Grist Tel: 26 36 15.

Tel. 361 83 97/360 24.21. krasselft Arma. Tel. 343 18 99. Frankfurt: H. Jung or K. Obfi lausunaux Guy von Ti Tal.: 29 58 94. Tel. 67 27 93 8, 66 25 44. Loodom Michael Mitchell Tel., 242 51 73 Tel., 679 34 37.

OT EXS Hong Konge C, Chenry Telu 5 - 420 906. New Yerics Sondy O'Hom Telu 752 38 90. Tel Aviv: Don Ehrlich

reckholour P. Ko

Tel. (08) 51, 68 70.

BIG WINNER in the Tax-Free Austrian Lottery Starting Soon 1st Prize: US $ 560,000.00 2nd Prize: $ 350,000.00 3rd Prize: $ 280,000.00 4th Prize: $ 210.000.00 5th Prize: $ 140,000.00 30 Prizes of $ 70,000.00 each PLUS 39,265 Other Cash Prizes up to $ 35,500.00! Total Prize Money: $ 22,125,250.00 And there's a wonderful opportunity for you to win, since only 70,000 tickets are sold (compared to 300,000-400,000 in other lotteries). Highlight: one out of every two tickets wins at least the cost of the ticket. Make a date with luck. Order now, using coupon below, your ticket(s) for the 112" Austrian National Lottery. PROKOPP INTERNATIONAL the official distributor for the Austrian National Lottery. (Since 1913) 29 Mariahilfer Str. 1061 Vienna, Austria. Please send: .... Full ticket(s) at US $ 504.00 each. .... Half ticket(s) at US $ 252.00 each. . Quarter ticket(s) at US $ 126.00 each. valid for all 22 Weekly Drawings of the 112"Austrian National Lottery beginning May 18th, 1981. For the mailing of all winning lists, I add US $ 10 for Overseas Airmail Postage (or US $ 7 within Europe). I enclose total payment of US$ ...... with check payable to J. Prokopp. Please send further information. Name Address FRANCE: DESPORDES S.A. 1 FRANCE: 14 r. de la Vega, Paris I Contoch: Mr. McBern. Tel: 343 23 64. City/Country (Please print clearly) OMORROW • MAIL TODAY • WIN TOMORROW • MAIL TODA

1

Whatever your problem may be, Inquire at "Central Office", 15 Ave Victor Hugo, 75116 Paris, Tel: 501 80 12 or 500 77 00. Free consultation DIVORCE IN 24 HOURS Mutual or contested actions, law cost. Heati or Dentinican Republic, For infor-Hosts of Destination regulator, for involvement on send $1.75 for 24-page booklet/hondling to: Dr. F. Gonzoles, ODA, 1835 K St. N.W. Woodwington Dr. 2006, U.S.A. Fel. 202-457 8331 or 703-820-0674. Worldwide service. AA in English duily, Paris, Tel: 325 76.03./551.38.90. TAXES: U.S. income tax and investme assistance. Ledger & Co., Box B3 Comden, Maine 04843, U.S.A. LAST CHANCE FOR SIX MONTHS How would YOU like to be a

AMSTERDAM: ATHENS: BARCEONA: BONN: BREMEN; ERUSSES: BRUSSES: CADZ: CADZ: CADZ: CHCAGO: FLANBCRUT: GENEVA: THE HAGUE: HOLISTON: LONG BEACH: MADRED: MADRED: MADRED: MADRED: NAPLES NEW YORK: PARIS: ROME VIENNA ZURICH

BIT! MOVING & EXPORT, boggage. As & sec freight, imports, conkerners. Means for Freit, 8 r. Dubon, Paris A. Tel: 289 73 97, 647 70 11 Th 630685F CONTRNEX; TEL: 281 1881 PARIS. Placer OFSIA) Air & See to all courines. Economy rates. Also boggage. AUTHORS WANTED i am a London based literary agent leten to develop a relationship with an thors of contemporary traillers, are romance. Contact: Christopher Little, 49 Queen Victoria Victoria, Landon ECAN SSA. OPPORTUNITIES CHURCH SERVICES COMPUTER PORTRAITS AMERICAN CATHEDRAL 23 Ave. George V 75008 Parts EASTER SERVICES 9.00 & 11.00 a.m. AMERICAN CHURCH IN PARIS Easter Services a.n. Down Service, Pont de l'Alma
10:30 a.m. Organ Preude
11:30 a.m. Worship
moluding "Hallehijah Chorus"
65 Quoi d'Orsay, Pans 7.
Bus 63 at door
metro Alma Marceau, Invalides ANGUCAN-SPISCOPAL COMMUNITY of St. Germain-en-Loyes Sunday warship 19:30 am, St. Thomas Chapel 15 rue das Louviers. Sporeored by the American Cathedral in Paris EMMANUE.
BAPTIST CHECH
Rue des Bors-Rosims, Revi-Molmon
a.m.; Sunday School 11 a.m. Sendo in English. Tel: 011 47 00, 605 84 23.

Yi the Bowman often hits his mark.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

COMPUTER PORTRAITS

BN FULL COLOR OR B & W

AN INSTANT MONEY MAKER THAT CAN BARN YOU

A SHOOD SHOOD HAT MONTH

A portrait from a lew subject or from a photo in less than 60 sec. This can be separately trustferred on to a T-short or most any headle irem. Full or port-time.

ALL CASH BUSINESS. Fortable. No expersence necessary. Excellent for thopping centers, resorts, shows, hotses, mai order, carriveds, fairs or carr high traffic location. Total gross DM 37-550 which includes full rolor option.

REMA COMPUTER SYSTEMS

DET. SAM SA BESTHOVENSTR. 9, 6 FRANKTURT GENNANY.
TELE (1)611-747908

Office fours 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

MOVING

BUSINESS

MONEYMAKING Topison Asia / Po-cific's new products, ideas, investment, Business digest newsletter. Send now for first copy. Trade-Aid Asia, GPO Box 9937, Hong Kong NEW SHOP/SHOWROOM, modern fittings, in south German city center, to rent in whole or part. A.P.E., Posifich 25 0252, 8500 Nuemberg, Germany. BUSINESS SERVICES

EXPATRIATE TAX RETURNS or a US tax lawyer, Tel: Rome 6799344. VALUABLE U.S. INCOME TAX Information. Free tax in an request. Write Ken Blass, U.S. Financial Services Circuit, Bos. 98794, Society, WA 98188 U.S. Tel: 206754-4451. U.S. TAX SPECIALIST in Germony, contact Schumon, Houk & Associates. Tel: (0) 951-32931.

DON'T VISIT PARIS ALONE. Toke to high standard private guide with car... Call APOS 341 01 897-39 5373.

US TAX RETURNS prepared by CPA firm in San Francisco. 415 956-2124.

US TAX RETURNS professionally pre-pared by CPA in Pons. Tel 265 30 93 FINANCIAL INVESTMENTS BRIOUS INVESTORS in U.S. stock SERIOUS INVESTORS in U.S. stocks, opions and commodities withing to domacile accounts with Lineamburg banks offering very foworble conditions, contact Mr. Fred Esenburg, IAmerican securities broller decring firrough major U.S. firmi, P.O. Bast 739, Lissenbourg, or phone (352) 21 015 during market hours, 4pm - 10pm, U.S. $90 MBLION available of 99% for 20 years. Prime bank guarantee required. Box 866, Herald Tribune, 92521 Neutly cades, Franca.

DIAMONDS DIAMONDS

Your best buy,
Fine diamonds in any price range of lowest wholesale prices direct from Antwerp center of the diamond world.
Full generates.
For fine price lest write Jacobien Goldenshin diamondeusport Established 1928
Pelikoanstrapt 42, 8-2000 Antwerp Belajum - Tel: 0, 21/24, UT-11
The 71779 syl is At the Diamond dub. Heart of the Answerp Demond industry.

EXPORT PRICES DIAMONDS & JEWELRY Direct from our Cutting factory diamonds are guaranteed. Open Mon. thru Sat, included. SIDIAM INVESTMENT Brussels: 1509 Centre Int. Rogies, 15th Roor. 02/218 28 83.

LONDON, SUNGHTSBEDGE charming room & both-room to left, over tele-phone, bousehosping carambas, Raphy Sox 39112, 817, 103 (Singsaro, Lon-don WC2. EONDON SW1. Louny, serviced flats from SRO/week, Tel-730 7668.

FURNISHED RENTALS New York City. An ounteredingly fur-nation live between opening with wood burning freeloas, coble T.V., of lines and claus, confortably equipped for 4 to 8 people, adjacent to the West-bury Hotel and a lew steps east of Fifth Avenue and Central Part, this multipred hood. Available to corporation or qual-fied individual on long or short term leanes. $4000 per majorim heating & hot water included. More service available. Call-Mes Libby Booms 212 874 03 08 or 212 772 25 42 or 212-45

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

SESTAR.

BNGLISH AU PAIRS crollable for Agency, London:

حكذا من الأجل